No. 174 Livingstone Street, Brooklyn, January 5, 1871. |
Dear Friend: A cruel conspiracy |

Text of the Letter.
The letter was as follows:
December 30, 1870.
We saried with importunity and weakened by sickness, I gave a letter implicating my friend, Henry Ward Beecher, under assurances that that would remove all difficulties between me and my husband. That letter I now revoke. I was persuaded to it, almost forced, when I was in a weakened state of mind. I regret it, and recall all its statements.

The letter was as follows:
July 4, 1871.

O! My Dear Husband: May you never need the dicipline of being misled by a good man. No date. I would morn greatly if my life was to be made known to father. His head would be bowed indeed to the grave. No date. Do not think that my ill health is on account of my sin and its discovery. My sins and life record I have carried to my Savior. No! my prostration is owing to the suffering I have caused you.
