-And now be jaber's there's to be a tavern on Penn's Creek, in the mountains. The location of the "hotel" mentioned be low, (we copy from the Lewistown Ganette,) we judge must be at Rapid (Roush) run, or thereabouts. Says the Gazette: A rather singular application for tavern 1 cense-that of John Gorman of Armaghis advertised to-day. There is a small corner of Mifflin county on the northern side of Penn's creek, which we suspect has never yet been penetrated even by a candidate for sheriff or county treasurer, where the said Gorman alleges he is well provided with the wherewithal for the entertainment of man and beast, is located at or near the line of the Lewisburg and Spruc creek Railroad, and has twelve signatures which smack strongly of pick and shovel Havices are not the border dwellers they Hoffer .. have hitherto been supposed to be, f here turns up a "Stranger's Home" (so house is called) far beyond them.
