I said not a word, but my heart it was break-For life is so short, and the ocean so wide. Oh, boat of my lover, go softly, go safely ;

Though the dear voice is silent, the kind hand is gone ; But oh, love me, my lover, and I'll live till I find thee :

Till our parting is over, an a our dark days

[Love's Ruse.

"Let me in!" cried Cupid, knocking At my door one day. To the sprite I answered, shortly 'I've no time for play.' But the rogue with silvery laughter Strove to move my heart. Tempted me with morry daring

Still unmoved, the door I fastened 'Gainst the coaxing sprite; Then he peeped within my window, Beautiful and bright, Promised me all things delightful, Wealth and wondrous fame. "No," said I; "I deem your promise Light, sir, as your name.

Slowly turned he from the window, With a puzzled face. "Fare thee wall." I cried, rejoicing 'Go, and leave no trace. But too eoon I heard a sighing Just without my door: "Let me in!" cried tearful Cupid : "Open, I implore.

"Lo! my pinions are so weary Give me rest, I pray, Only for one fleeting moment, Ere I go away."

Silvery laughter had not won me, Coaxing I had scorned, Promises, ah! thanks to reason, 'Gainst them I was warned.

But when Copid came in trouble, He brought pity too; Love and pity leagued together, What could mortal do Then I threw my door wide open With a mocking shout,

In fiew Cupid, and I never Now can tern him out.

ners, appeared also to belong to the family. Immediately after supper (during which the drover stated where he had been and what good luck he had thistles, and pointed out to the stranger met with), the son mounted a horse, as the place to be avoided; for the and stating that he was going to Marignorant assert that it is haunted by the quise to stay all night, rode off. The ghost of the murdered son. drover, having looked after the comfort of his horse, soon after requested the andlord to show him to his room.

A Swedish-Norwegian Wedding.

Norway and Sweden crossed the control of the control

As the traveler slipped off his garments, he felt for the leathern belt about his waist, to see that it was secure, about his waist, to see that it was secure, the felt for the leathern belt about his waist, to see that it was secure, about his waist, to see that it was secure. ticles beneath his pillow, he extinguishthe same time he heard suppressed whispered consultation.

Startled by this suspicious appearance the chair on which he had thrown the clothes, for his weapons; but, to his disclothes, his disclothes, his disclothes, his disclosured in his disclosured in women's dresses suspended from the wall, and watched the motions of a man who was now slowly and cautiously entering the room. He even fancied he could detect the reflection of the dim light upon an upraised knife as the light upon an upraised knife as the light upon an upraised knue as the man approached the bed with staggering and uncertain steps. But great was his relief when, instead of an attempt at murder, the intruder carelessly shuffled off his clothes, and throwing himself the back, or kissed him affectionately; then followed the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put their arms around him and patted him; and jovially on the back, or kissed him affectionately; then followed the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put their arms around him and patted him affectionately; then followed the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put the family congratulations, and the family congratulations, so hearty and informal it did one's heart good to see them. The bridegroom's friends put the family congratulations, and informal it did one's heart good to see them.

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1876.

MURDER AS A TRADE IN INDIA.

rupees, and in a few days more go on the same round of assassination and rob-bery. He has already confessed the par-

After the Indian Fight.

A survey of the Custer battle field,

Captain Keogh had left aro his neck an Agnus Dei, suspended by a gold chain, and had not, evidently, been mutilated further after the discovery of brought into view.

says an officer from the army, is horrible

TERMS: $2.00 a Year, in Advance.

VOLUME IX.

NUMBER 32.

At the sight of the drover, who was the first to confront the guilty wretches, the landlord uttered a shriek of terror, and fell to the ground, while his accomplice, as pale as a corpse, gazed upon him with afright, not doubting it was the ghost of the murdered man who stood before him.

The party now proceeded to the house, iragging the murderers along with Lights were produced, and still keep-ing the prisoners with them, the people entered the room where lay the body of the man so strangely murdered instead of the horse dealer. The wife and clock. When the covering was removed from the face of the corpse, and the full light of the candles flared upon it, a wild cry burst from the lips of the landlord's to the floor.

"No, no! it can't be so, mother!" ex- beautiful. "No, no! it can't be so, mother!" exclaimed the daughter, as she struggled to reach the bed. But the terrible truth burst upon her as her eyes fell upon the mangled form of her brother, and she also swooned upon the body.

The cries of the broken hearted

The cries of the broken hearted

Ale specimens of aider wood are beautiful. Belgium exhibits in the cautiful. Belgium exhibits in the claimed the daughter, as she struggled to reach the bed. But the terrible truth
burst upon her as her eyes fell upon the
also swooned upon the body.

The cries of the broken hearted

The cries of the broken hearted

Now can tern him out.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

And gambling till a late hour; and being too much intoxicated to remount his horse, and ashamed to meet his family, some of his fellow gamblers had accompanied him home; and supposing the room in which the drover had been put to be vacant, they had assisted the drunken man into the window. It was their voices the lodger had heard; and bendered him home; and supposing the room in which the drover had been put to be vacant, they had assisted the drunken man into the window. It was their voices the lodger had heard; and bendered him home; and supposing the room in which the drover had been put to be vacant, they had assisted the drunken man into the window. It was their voices the lodger had heard; and bendered him home; and supposing the room in which the drover had been put to be vacant, they had assisted the drunken man into the window. It was their voices the lodger had heard; and thus it was that the hapless youth met his death and our friend escaped.

The Story.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

The Horse Dealer's Story.

And gambling till a late hour; and being top much greater than the rest of the interest in the United States.

Italy has a necklace of twenty-four rubies, forming twelve pair of earrings, a "thing of beauty." Price, $10,000, gold. A set of diamond head ornaments, $10,000, gold. The celebrated vases from Berlin are worth: The German Model of Peace, $5,000. The Aurors, $4,500. Otho's Visit to the Vault of Charlemange, $900. They are supported by Gens. Terry and Giblows, who saw the smoke from where they were at the Little Horn, and thinking it a signal of the Sioux, marched this death and disappeared from his seene will also be them.

The Sioux then turned with all their turn por Major Reno. He charged them with one company, and returned with all their turn por Major Reno. He then retreated a short distance, placing him the distance, placing him the distance, placing hi

Norway and Sweden crossed the ocean

This contained his gold, while his paper money was in a large wallet, carried in a pocket made for the purpose, in the of June to Mr. Christorphesson, of the Norwegian commission. They ed the light and threw himself upon the bed, when, overcome by weariness, he er and fell desperately in love. They had lived so near each other, but comsoon fell asleep.

How long he had been in this state of the Centennial grounds in the evening, How long he had been in this state of forgetfulness he could not tell, when he was aroused to wakefulness by the sound of some person endeavoring to open the intended for receptions, and is attract intended for receptions, and is attract. of some person endeavoring to open the window near the head of his bed. At ively decorated. The speaker's platform the same time he heard suppressed as it happens, resembles an altar, was voices without, as of several persons in beautifully decorated with Swedish and Norwegian flags, and with masses of Startled by this suspicious appearance of things, the drover reached toward the chair on which he had thrown his determined to the chair on which he had thrown his fore the altar for the bride and groom to the start of the sta then preparing to wash off the dust of followed by the groom and her mother. his journey, he had laid them aside, and four bridesmaids and groomsmen. within the bar, and had neglected to redown and rest a moment before stand-ing to be married. The ceremony was in doing, the defenseless drover slipped from the foot of the bed, and hid himpal service in all its forms. As soon as self in the darkness behind a lot of the ceremony was over the bride's fath-women's dresses suspended from the er, whose ruddy face had been all aglow murder, the intruder carelessly shumed off his clothes, and throwing himself into the bed he had just vacated, was soon in a sound sleep.

Not knowing what to make of this strange affair, the drover determined to the himself call up the landlord, and the pretty bride, all alive with excitement and rosy as ever, was charmingly cordial in her greetings. She did not stand in one place to receive, but moved about to speak to one or another, or

AT THE CENTENNIAL.

Marquise. He remembered that a little distance ahead was a quiet inn he had never stopped at, and he determined to spend the night there.

As he rode up to the house, the landlord, a respectable looking person, received his horse and led him sway to the stable, while he invited the drover to enter the public sitting-room.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord, he recognized as his son; the other, somewhat older, from his manners appeared also to belong to the distance ahead was a quiet inn he had never stopped at, and he determined to spend the with the respectable looking person, received his horse and led him sway to claiming her due, the two murderers paid the penalty of their crime upon the guillotine. Shortly after this last event, here a proposed at the unnatural murder had become an eyesore, assembled and leveled of the stable, while he invited the drover recovered his money; and justice, to enter the public sitting-room.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his resemblance to the landlord.

Here he found two young men, one of whom, from his manners and leaf the penalty of their crime upon the guillotine. Shortly after this last event, he people of Marquise, to whom the stable to be come a research of the Sioux, marched that then he had disappeared from his seen of the Soux, marched that then he had disappeared from his seen of the Soux, marched that the Little Horn, and thinking that the Little Horn, and thinking that the bact that every now and the way to the Soux, marched nents-the finish on the mountings of oridles and saddles are beautiful. nails are a specialty with the Portuguese.

A palm leaf flail from Portugal is a cu-lections of dried ferns, samples of cloth like the mulberry paper of Japan. It is made of strips of the inner bark of a ree, moistened and laid side by side, and then beaten by hand bats of differ ent patterns. This is called wanke fiber lifferent tints, red, white, and blue, all andwork. A waterproof cloak is also exhibited, made by fitting leaves of grass—a broad kind called "tea leaf"— over each other, like feathers on this and braided cord, very flexible and trong. It has a strange appearance, white and black specked, resembling a make at first glance.

A Mean Advantage. There were a score or more of women

GEN. CUSTER'S LAST CHARGE,

Notes Taken by Our Correspondent on Lieut, Carland's Story of the Sangulnary

Battle with the Sloux. A letter dated "Mouth of the Little

AT THE CENTENNIAL

AND SERVICE AND ADDRESS AND SERVICE THE SERVICE AND SERVICE THE SERVICE AND SERVICE THE SERVICE AND SERVICE THE SERVICE AND SERVICE rife.

"My son—my murdered son! Who as done this!"

And with a hysterical scream she fell of the form. This was on the night of the twenty-fourth. On the twenty-fifth he took five companies and followed the stream down on made from Muscot wine. also swooned upon the body.

The cries of the broken hearted females seemed to arouse the old man for a moment; and gazing wildly at the sight before him, he realized also the terrible truth. He had murdered his own son!

On investigating the facts before the magistrate on the following day, it was more acid than ours.

eighty-four pounds in Belgium. The sugar is lighter, and seems whiter more acid than ours. magistrate on the following day, it was ascertained that the son of the inn-keeper, who was a dissipated young man, had visited Marquise the previous evening, where, with some of his associates, he had been engaged in drinking and gambling till a late hour; and being too much intoxicated to remount his horse, and ashamed to meet his family.

The same place show flowers made of feathers and rags. The Portuguese make a pretty exhibit of artiticial flow-remaining officers are feeling very badly. rs made from aloe fibers. The Osier baskets are quite pretty. And Portugal makes a fine display in horse accourrements—the finish on the mountings of coursed down is face as he said: "The by him within a short time." flower of the army is gone at last." Custer was supposed to be the first one who fell, but we found seventeen cartridge shells by his side, where he had kep them off until the last moment. No blame can be attached to any one this fearful slaughter. had had the whole regiment, it would oo many.

There is one poor Crow Indian on the

These Sioux were all from the same agency, as we found camp equipments that had never been used, also blankets hat were new and branded United State ndian department.

he is happy because he has nine scalps

In case of prostration by the heat, i the case is not a serious one, the only course necessary is the opening of all ligatures about the person, fanning the face and breast, and the administering of some light stimulant, such as sherry wine. This relief will prevent the more uan and a respectable citizen, though is is rather skeptical about some things. he women had just organized 1975. and the condition of breathing indicates congestion of the brain—no stimulant

THE ISLAND OF BARBADOES.

How a Suspected Individual was Discovered-Confession of Thirteen Murders. Terrible Condition of that Overcrowded Island-People Dying of Famine and A London newspaper of a recent date palled at their shameful disclosures.

When the strength of old men or women fails them, when women are pregnant or in child-bed, when those of either sex are inconnectated for the times by close to the strength of the times are not the only people in this incompleted for the times by close to the strength of the times are not the only people in this incomplete the contract of the strength of the times the counting for it. It is enough, and more than enough, for us to establish it as a fact.—New York World. bullocks he would dispose of in the nearest village for, say, fifty or sixty incapacitated for the time by sickness, no help or shelter is afforded them except, in very extreme cases, such wretched doles—usually about three pence per week—as are permitted but not enforced by the Barbadoes vestry laws; while, so long as they continue to occupy their holdings, the rent is in occupy their holdings and hold attempted to fort the series of officers as to the terrible fight with the Sioux. He says: Meanwhile, with the Sioux and the holdings and had attempted to ford the more symmetrical organ.

It is sickening to look at the bodies stripped. Here a hand gone, here a head, ghastly gashes cut in all parts or the body, eyes gouged out, noses and ears cut off and skulls crushed in. One sees at a distance a dead horse lying on the plain or near the river, and upon a near approach the gleaming white skin of a naked cavalry soldier, the body ut and mangled beyond description, is A Crow scout (Curly) who stayed until he saw that the last man must be killed, saw a Sioux jump off his horse to finish a wounded officer, and, taking the Sioux blanket and horse, effected his escape. From his description of the massacre Lieutenant Cook was the last man left,

The strategy of the first of the strategy of t

THE INDIAN WAR.

incapacitated for the time by sickness, country."

no help or shelter is afforded them ex-laws; while, so long as they continue to compy their holdings, the rent is in many cases mercilessly demanded, or deducted from any small sums they may have been able to carn by fiftal labor. The necessary results of this system are misery, vagrancy and, in too many cases, absolute starvation. I have read the existence of these evils. As one striking a sample, I will quote the evidence given by Thomas Henry Kirton, manager of did did not been able to the body of a laborer named Samuel Dottin, aged about fifty, who had been found dead in his cottage on the eleventh of Anguet, 1870; at the net with the sound of the village of the plantation, in St. Philip's parish, at an inquest on the body of a laborer named Samuel Dottin, aged about fifty, who had been found dead in his cottage on the eleventh of Anguet, 1870; at the title that the tenemy. It is held alorer or this estate. When I took up the estate, about five years ago, I found deceased working for ten cents (five pence) a day. I had a talk with Mr. Haynes about him, as he asked me for more wages, and Mr. Haynes raised his work of the samunition was taken from the former wages, and Mr. Haynes raised his wasce trained to the trained to t

From his description of the massacre Lieutenant Cook was the last man left, and he says that the white men killed of the Sioux more than their own number. There is every evidence of a desperate fight, but Custer was outnumbered.

Starved in the Midst of Plenty.

If there is one thing more sickening The Narrow Escape of a Party of Crook's Command—Thirty Soldiers Surrounded that another in the dismal catalogue of by Hundreds of Well Armed Indians—A Successful Ruse.

If there is one thing more sickening than another in the dismal catalogue of the diseases of civilization, it is the fact that in the greatest and most opulent the diseases of civilization, it is the fact

Items of Interest.

The true gentleman needs no placard to announce his breeding, the ill-bred

There were 150 Piutes and Shoshones in the procession in Austin, Nev., on the fourth of July.

No man can afford to lose his temper in this weather. Lafe is too short under any circumstances.

Niagara Falli has been recommended by Archbishop Lynch of Toronto as a place of religious pilgrimage.

Very few men can be wholly wrong. The clock that does not go at all is right twice every twenty-four hours.

An Austrain officer, Captain Ahlstrom, swam from Vienna to Pesth, in the Danube, 160 miles, in thirty-six hours.

Dio Lewis says that a lady will eat

Dio Lewis says that a lady will eat four times as much corn beef when alone,

"Giles, can you conjugate behave?""
"Behaves—behoves—behives—be"— "See here! You go stand in the

A shot that hits is better than a broad-like learning.

Not long ago a paragraph from Paris