away to the nursery, and there, by the window, begun a long whispering talk. Hexic had something very exciting to tell.

"Nurse thought I was asleep," she said, "but I wasn't quite; and when they begun to talk I woke up. That wasn't wrong, was it, Rafe! I couldn't sleep when I couldn't, could I!"

"I suppose I ought to be glad also," said Humphrey, ruefully; "but to me that French lugger means exile and loneliness and poverty, for the rest of my life, perhaps. Better have laid down my life with the rest at Naseby, in striking one last blow for the king."

"Don't you speak so!" protested

Henrietta, piteously. "And it was so rey, have you all you need for the interesting. Did you know that there night?"

Joyce said there was none. Cold sheep's head is very good. Do you remember how much Humphrey used to this its?"

interesting. Did you know that there were such creatures as Bogies, Rafe! Dorothy thinks that we have got one in our house, and that its hole is in the great gallery, because once when she was there dusting the armor, she heard a queer noise in the wall, and what else could it be? It cats a great deal, does the Bogie. That's the reason nurse is sure we have got one. It ate all the cold sheep's head yesterday, and the day before half the big pastry. No victual is safe in the larder, the Bogie has such a big appetite, nurse says."

Two need for the meaning of this, John and Green?" she demanded. "By the might?"

"Christmas cheer," said Humphrey, in a would-be cheerful voice. "Beef and ale—what better fare could be? You are a gallant provider, my Winnie, and there is need, for since I have lain in that hole with nothing else to do, my appetite has raged like a wolf. That sure we have got one. friend affected me, and I at once caught the inspiration of the hope. I laid my tobacco quietly on the shelf in plain sight, sought a place of retirement, and there on my knees asked God to take away the appetite, and believed that he would do it immediately. I felt no change beyond a consciousness of trust in Him to keep me, and returned to my rest; the sight of my tobacco kindled no desire, and I have had none since. The victory was perfectly easy, and grandly complete.
