

The Centre Reporter.

FRED KURTZ, EDITOR.

CENTRE HALL, Pa., April 12, 1877.

The glass will cure the blues, the Reporter would prescribe it for the fellows who voted for Hayes and have taken the blues so terribly.

And now Kellogg says that if Hayes does not stand by Packard, that he may find out too late that he (Hayes) did not carry Louisiana either—Kellogg & Co. say they can prove it, and will do it, if it is not done by the warrants to look into Hayes' title.

These Republicans are displeased with Hayes for using the democratic policy in dealing with the southern question, might try the glass to heal their feelings of disappointment.

An exchange says Gen. James A. Beaver, is mentioned by the papers as among the probable candidates before the next National convention for the nomination for Governor.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Well, the Republicans could farther and fare worse. Gen. Beaver, we think, would make a pretty fair Republican governor, and by the time he got through would fully comprehend the meaning of "hellish demagogue."

They have a patent letter at Harrisburg, perhaps Simon Cameron is the inventor of it. An exchange says the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice, the fat and tall of choice comes from the fat and tall of choice.

Secretary, April 21, is the day when the voters of this county will decide whether a poor-house shall be established. We have given our views upon this question in the last few weeks, and as we suppose the people of this side of the county are of the same mind upon the question—opposed to a poor-house—we have to say in addition to urge them to come to the polls on Saturday, 21, and vote. If there is a small vote on this side there is probability that "for a poorhouse" will carry, unless there is a considerable feeling against it on the other side, which we have not yet learned to be the case.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

South Carolina, which was claimed for Chamberlain, and the electoral vote of which was counted for Hayes, is now surrendered to the Democrats. And Louisiana, which was claimed for Hayes, and the electoral vote of which was counted for Hayes, is now surrendered to the Democrats. In each of these cases the Republicans must confess the blackness of their own crimes, and acknowledge once, twice and a third time that they have put a preferential vote on the scale before the New York World and more truth can not be put in fewer words.

TWEED'S REVELATIONS.

Tweed threatens to reveal, and it is feared it will be severe some prominent Republicans, showing that he discredits a quarter of a million among five capable legislators.

Great efforts to prevent the consummation of the compromise, by the release of Tweed, have been made the past week by men still in the legislature and others said to be most involved by expected disclosures regarding the past misdoings of Tweed.

THE STAY LAW.

The Erie Dispatch, which has been looking into the law, thinks it is not early to decide whether the effect will be to the benefit, or otherwise, and he is of the opinion that in the question of their removal until the condition of affairs in that State is such as to justify the continuance of a military occupation of the State.

Inasmuch as the new law affects contracts made prior to its passage, contracts already advertised, if invalid, as well as those yet to be advertised, it is to be brought to the attention of the Supreme court by the lawyers of Philadelphia this week, in order to test the constitutionality of the retroactive sections of this bill.

The law was framed for the purpose of affording relief to many hard-pressed and hand-working debtors, but its effect can hardly be beneficial to the weaker class of borrowers and small property owners. The banks will refuse to lend money on the impaired security offered them, and the result will be that many of those who have heretofore been accommodated will be unable to borrow.

Prof. Denslow, of Union College of Law, Chicago, describes in the Independent his plan for improving national credit, and the plan is to have the President and the Cabinet elected by Congress, and removed whenever a majority in Congress shall vote to remove them.

Postmaster James has received a mass of gold found in the ruins of a postal car burned at Sedan, Indiana, on the 9th inst. Several hundred gold coins, amounting to $2,000, were found in the car. Postmaster James will keep the lump until some plan has been arranged for its distribution among the owners.

A few days ago a fiend in human shape displaced some rails on an Iowa railway and threw a passenger train from the track. The train was captured, and the indignant passengers were taken to hang him on the spot, when the conductor, who had been captured, after had killed a prize pig, man. Then the passengers let on the rope, hanged the fiend, and the pig, and the fiend's preserver, and took up a purse of $200 for him—Burlington Hawkeye.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

do not think that any other person or woman—besides himself, we recognize of his purpose in leaving New York, or in any way connected with his presence here. As said yesterday, I consider him to be simply an utterly unscrupulous scoundrel.

The World supplements this dispatch by saying that there is a theory connected with Hall's disappearance, which on close examination of the facts seems to cover all the circumstances of this otherwise incomprehensible affair. It appears that Hall had an insurance of some $50,000 on his life. This amount was payable to his wife, and a sign of his name were to be concealed from the world without exception from Douglas Taylor, he said only a few weeks before his flight. "My family would be better off if I were dead," there is much to prove that he meant to convey the belief that he had no death that Friday night after he left his office.

The Sun says it is now believed in dramatic circles that the woman with whom Oakes Hall is living in London is Miss Blanche Gray, formerly a resident of this city, and an actress of particular note. She at one time lived with Miss Rose Kytting, after the latter's marriage with Col. Butler. Oakes Hall was connected with the public and was a frequent visitor to the public and was a frequent visitor to the public and was a frequent visitor to the public.

NO SOLDIERS AND NO MONEY.

We are glad to see a general demerit by the Democratic press, that the House shall refuse to appropriate a dollar to the army unless the rights of the States are respected at the War office. Not a dollar or soldier to maintain Packard in Louisiana or Chamberlain in Louisiana, until the House shall be satisfied that the Army Appropriation bill passed at the first session of the last Congress.

Mr. Hayes' letter withdrawing from the South Carolina troops. Washington, April 3.—The following is the letter which Mr. Hayes, Secretary of War, to the withdrawal of the troops from the State house at Columbia.

Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., April 3, 1877.—Sir, Prior to my entering upon the duties of the Presidency had been declared, by order of the President, a detachment of United States Infantry, finding them in that State, and to delay their removal until the condition of affairs in that State is such as to justify the continuance of a military occupation of the State.

Inasmuch as the new law affects contracts made prior to its passage, contracts already advertised, if invalid, as well as those yet to be advertised, it is to be brought to the attention of the Supreme court by the lawyers of Philadelphia this week, in order to test the constitutionality of the retroactive sections of this bill.

The law was framed for the purpose of affording relief to many hard-pressed and hand-working debtors, but its effect can hardly be beneficial to the weaker class of borrowers and small property owners. The banks will refuse to lend money on the impaired security offered them, and the result will be that many of those who have heretofore been accommodated will be unable to borrow.

Prof. Denslow, of Union College of Law, Chicago, describes in the Independent his plan for improving national credit, and the plan is to have the President and the Cabinet elected by Congress, and removed whenever a majority in Congress shall vote to remove them.

Postmaster James has received a mass of gold found in the ruins of a postal car burned at Sedan, Indiana, on the 9th inst. Several hundred gold coins, amounting to $2,000, were found in the car. Postmaster James will keep the lump until some plan has been arranged for its distribution among the owners.

A few days ago a fiend in human shape displaced some rails on an Iowa railway and threw a passenger train from the track. The train was captured, and the indignant passengers were taken to hang him on the spot, when the conductor, who had been captured, after had killed a prize pig, man. Then the passengers let on the rope, hanged the fiend, and the pig, and the fiend's preserver, and took up a purse of $200 for him—Burlington Hawkeye.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

Washington, April 5—Letters and telegrams received here today from New Orleans show quite conclusively that it will be impossible to organize a new Legislature out of the dual one, as proposed in Secretary Everts' letter to the Louisiana Convention. They also show that Packard is well known to the Louisiana Convention, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing, and that he is a man of high standing.

distributed throughout the county having every facility, their connections and methods of doing business, and the establishment of a telegraphic communication and a system of in-lodgers through five different exchanges with addresses at different points. He was also to be seen in his house and deliver himself over to the authorities, and to be seen in his house and deliver himself over to the authorities, and to be seen in his house and deliver himself over to the authorities.

The exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute the exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute the exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute.

According to the report of the witness, the exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute the exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute the exact minute of departure was fixed at eight o'clock in the evening, but some ten minutes before the minute.

BY THE COURT.

By the Court. The Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners.

By the Court. The Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners, and the Court has decided in favor of the petitioners.

AN ACT.

An Act. The Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Whereas. It is the duty of every citizen to provide for the support of the poor, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 1. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 2. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 3. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 4. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 5. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 6. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 7. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 8. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 9. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 10. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 11. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 12. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 13. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 14. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 15. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 16. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 17. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 18. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 19. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

Section 20. That the next general election shall be held for the purpose of electing a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house, and the Act provides for the election of a poor house.

For the township of Curtis, at the school house, on the 12th day of April, 1877, the undersigned, J. W. Munson, Sheriff of Centre County, do