Removal.—Last week while in Bellefonte we called on our friend and neighbor J. N. Spangler, Esq. We found him in his new office in A. O. Foster's new building, north of the Court House. From the neatness and coziness of his new quarters, we judge Jack sets his show of the best business of the county. We are sure he deserves it. We sent him to Bellefonte some five years ago, as honest, upright, and exemplary a young man as we had in this valley, and we have never heard of him having lost or exchanged any of his integrity or honor. He is, in fact, Jack, all your friends wish you the success you so earnestly labor for.

On Thursday, Mr. Jacob Haehl, an old citizen of Allegheny, while working a field near the railroad, suddenly fell over from an attack of paralysis and has since been speechless and in a helpless condition.

A ROYAL SAVED IN T.W. A. A heroic deed occurred in the late mail. Andrew Kaul, about five miles east of St. Mary's, which resulted in the death of Elbridge J. Terwilliger, son of J. M. Terwilliger, a lad about 18 years of age. Deceased was feeding the stock on a farm near his father's place, when he was near by trying to bring the load into bundles, when he heard his own exclamation in a quick, energetic manner, "Stop!" Turning instantly, he saw that his horse had been driven upon the railway. He had secured his bundle of stalk, he threw off the belt and stopped the train. Then, hastening to the side of his injured boy, he took him in his arms and carried him ten steps, when, after looking up in his eyes, he found him breathing and his limbs were rigid. An examination of his injuries revealed the fact that his right arm had been saved off near the shoulder, and that the saw, crossing his body diagonally from right to left, had penetrated nearly to the spinal column. Deceased had on a heavy wool shirt, and the supposition is that in reaching over to take from between the saw a piece of chalk, his sleeve was caught by the teeth of the saw, and being off his balance by reason of leaning forward, he was easily drawn into the embrace of death.

Young folks, just married, or about to be married, should keep their eyes and mind upon the extensive, extensive rooms of the Centennial Exhibition. It is a massive, highly embellished case, and when you ask them what time it is, they don't know, something is the matter with the movement. Such is not however the case with the Beatty instrument, manufactured at Washington, Pa. It is of fine quality, durability and tone. It is the first consideration, and then the case constructed according to price.

CONY'S NINE NOVEMBER FAIR. The great market of the eastern world has been held at this junction of the Volga and Olga Rivers, in Russia, every summer for hundreds of years. Here the nations of Europe and Asia met with their products for trade. Consuls, Chinese, Turk, and Persian, met the German and the Greek with every variety of merchandise that mankind enjoys, from sapphires to grandiose tea, opium, fur, food, tools and fabrics, and last but not least, medicines. At C. Ayer & Co., celebrated remedies from America were displayed in an elegant lazar where the Doctor himself might sometimes be seen.

They are known and taken on steppes of Asia as well as the prairie of the West, and are an efficient antidote for the diseases that prevail in the youths of the North, as well as the huts and cabins of the western continent.—Lincoln (Illa) Times.

Did you ever know of a man or woman, or any one else, who was dissatisfied with anything bought at Seculer's grocery? Did you ever hear any of Seculer's customers say that they were cheated or imposed upon there? Did you ever hear them say that Seculer's misrepresented their goods? Never. The famous grocery firm in the Bath house block, is not charged with any such sin. On the other hand their customers speak well of them. They say they get the best goods there that they find them honest and fair in all their dealings; that they save money in buying groceries of Seculer & Co. They have the best assortment, finest goods, lowest prices. That is the universal verdict. What is the reason for this? Seculer has a shining reputation. A Koko answers "Where?"

Bellefonte is happy because prices sell at 5 cents per quart there. Low diet.

The nicest way to raise strawberries is to have a row at the end of the back yard. By using the "straw" there, they have the best protection. They are in a position to ripen—nature will do the rest.

H. L. Dieffenbach declines being a candidate for Auditor General.

The commissioners of Clinton county advertise that proposals will be received by them for the building of a county building with cost of best quality.

CLAIMS FOR WAGES.—An important law, passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature, provides for giving priority in claims for manual labor, on all trials of claims for wages in the courts of this Commonwealth. Hereafter, the claims of workmen, after getting into court, will be paid in the order of their date of filing, and those who have often been delayed from court to court, that the plaintiff, from inability to be present when they have come up, has been compelled to compromise a just claim to get his wages, will not have to do so in the future.

A very harmonious meeting of the President of trunk lines was held at the Brevoort House on 8, at which the committees in charge of the pooling of west bound traffic, reported, and after a full discussion, an agreement was signed by the Presidents of the New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania roads, to go into effect July 1st. Railroad representatives, in almost every case, are making a more uniform and reasonable rates, without discrimination, and in more in the direction of avoiding unnecessary and unwise competition among the lines.

A TERRIBLE BRIDGE ACCIDENT AT BATH. London, June 6.—A dispatch from Bath gives the following particulars of an accident there to-day. About half-past ten o'clock this morning, on the arrival of a train from London, the toll bridge between two hundred and two hundred rods, belonging mostly to the well-to-do farmers, was struck by the toll bridge. The bridge was of light construction, narrow, and about thirty feet long. Between thirty and forty feet above the river Avon, resting upon posts mortised into the ground, and supported by the toll bridge. Some of our exchanges are wrestling with the old, old problem that has puzzled the steady-minded and virtuous for ages: "How is it that there is a class of young men in almost every country who take in the world, who will not, neither do they see wood, nor yet drink more beer and water better clothes than those who work six days in the week?"

In the west end of Union county the wheat crop does not look very promising, says the Lewisburg Journal.

A turkey belonging to John Frasier, of near this place, began laying this spring, and did not stop until it had laid 30 eggs—one every day, and "Sunday too, too!"

A 700 stalk was sent to this office on Tuesday, raised by John Bailey, of near this place. It stalked 4 feet, 10 inches long, and 4 inches longer than the stalk Mr. Heekman gave us. (Mr. Heekman's stalk measured 7 feet, 6 inches, instead of 7 feet, as mentioned last week.) If the 700 stalk had remained in the ground until Mr. Bailey sent it, it would undoubtedly have been as long. Send them in by the bundle, and we'll have enough long straw to tie our corn bales next fall.

—Miss J. P. Fisher, that entertaining and accomplished young lady, is now building an addition to her already extensive store room for the purpose of keeping stocks and all kinds of heavy hardware. ANOTHER MILL BURNED.—The steam saw mill (No. 1) of Messrs. Hoover, Harris & Co., located on the railroad, about midway between Phillipsburg and the Blue Hill, was destroyed on Thursday 5th. It is supposed the fire dropped from the furnace and ignited saw dust, and when discovered by the watchman, was too far gone to save the mill. No lumber was destroyed. The mill was estimated at $30,000, with an insurance of about $15,000.

DECEASED AT LOGANVILLE.—Wednesday, May 29, was the scene of the funeral of the late Corporal John J. Hill, one of the soldiers who died during the late war, and the wars that preceded it. The committee of arrangements, G. W. Conner, F. G. Berry, J. S. Tyson, W. C. Webster and S. F. Fisher, had worked hard, and the funeral was most successful. The P. O. S. of A. met at their Hall on Front street, at which Marshal Berry formed the procession. They then proceeded to the Evangelical church and received the services of a minister of the gospel. They proceeded to the town hall, where they were received by the Lutheran Sunday school. The meeting was then opened with prayer by Rev. Young, after which a beautiful piece of music was rendered by the S. S. of A. Prof. W. A. Ritter presiding at the organ. Orations were delivered by Prof. T. N. Metzler, A. W. Brunzard and Rev. Young, interspersed with music by the Sabbath schools. The procession then formed and proceeded to the Evangelical cemetery, where the decorations were performed. They then marched to the Lutheran cemetery, where like ceremonies were held.

A circle was then formed and Dexteroxy and Rev. Young, offered prayer, and the services were dismissed. The decoration was a grand success. CHARLES O. MEYER.
