CENTRE HALL, Pa., Aug. 30, 1877 The Democracy of York county, Penn ylvania, in their convention manifest clear understanding of facts and an abil-'ty to express them in good English which are well worthy of admiration For instance : For instance:

"Resolved, That Samuel J. Tilden, having received a large majority of the popular, and a large majority of the electoral votes of the United States, was at the late election iswfully chosen President, and that any condonation of the fraud by which the defeated candidate now holds the office would be an abandonment of the right of government by the people the right of government by the people and for the people."

This saye what is now thought by hor est men of every party. Let there be no political forgiveness for the crime of Hayes and his confederates.

The Philadelphia merchants are nov "striking" for the county of Allegheny, people of which so coolly looked or when the mob of strikers destroyed other people's property. Committees o the board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad company and of the Maritime exchange had a consultation a few days ago, relative to the adjustment of losses incurred at Pittsburg during the late strike. An agreement was arrived at by which suits will be brought against Allegheny county and it was under stood that after the necessary data shall be prepared the claims of merchants will be prosecuted prior to these of the railroad company, who will assist the business community in the suits. Statements are now being prepared to show the amount of loss sustained by mer-the amount of loss sustained by merchants by the destruction and delay of their goods in transit.

The most refreshing story we have read in these times, when the main concern is to know how to get something to eat, not where you get the best square meal, is the little item below, of a meeting of tramps, in which one killed the old Orchard Beach, Me., August 20.— Yesterday afternoon four tramps, who determine the profits merchants shall make on their goods. The proposition is thoroughly unsound and unterly disgraceful.

Congress has no direct authority over any railroad which it did not itself create by charter. Over railroads of Federal birth it cannot exercise authority which would be destructive of the pursue of th fort nor inspiration, and, while he says poses for which they were created. the discipline of its men. But what "reasonable regulations" by Congress to promote safety of travel do they recommend? Manifestly, regulations of disputes between the administratiors of the road and its employees, which shall promote safety of travel by preventing strikes. And how will they prevent strikes? Why, by conceding demands. That is precisely what the resolution means. It cannot mean anything else. No party in this country has ever be fore approached the Communism of the recommendation that Congress should appoint commissioners to settle conflicts about wages between State corporations and their employees.
