Our slender life runs rippling by, and glides Into the silent hollow of the past; What is there that abides,

To make the next age better for the last? Life scems a jest of fate's contriving Only secure in every one's conniving-A long account of nothings, paid with loss Where we, poor puppets jerked by unseen

After one little hour of strut and rave, With all our pasteboard passions and desires Loves, hates, ambitions and immortal fires, Are tossed pell mell together in the grave Ah! there is something here, Unfathomed by the cynic's sneer emething that leaps life's narrow bars,

A seed of sunshine that doth leaven Our earthly dullness, with the beams of stars, And glorify our clay, With light from fountains, older than the
