Four times within as many months in different parts of Germany, and are were attempts made on the lives of three overeigns of Europe, The German emperor was twice in danger. On the afternoon of May 11, as he was riding in the Avenue Unter der Linden, Berlin, with the grand duchess of Baden, E. H. M. Hoedel, a tinsmith and a socialshot at him with a revolver. The all did no damage, and on his trial Hoedel asserted that he did not aim at was overwhelming, and, in accordance The second attempt on Kaiser Wilhelm's life was made three weeks later, and as he was riding through the same street, when K. E. Nobiling, from a window in the third story of the house No. 18, discharged a ouble-barreled gun at him and lodged forty shot in his head and neck. In was immediately arrested, but not until e had succeeded in inflicting upon himself a dangerous wound, from which he Sept. 11. He was an internationalist, and, unlike Hoedel, was a man of good education. The emperor's wounds were so serious that he was bliged to rosign the government into he hands of the crown prince, until he reassumed his power on Dec. 5. On Oct. 20, as Alfonso, king of Spain, was riding in the Calle Mayor, Madrid, age, a cooper by occupation and an inernationalist in political belief, shot at nim, but only succeeded in slightly wounding a soldier. On Nov. 7, an old oldier unsuccessfully attempted to kill the Spanish ex-minister of war. Bregua. the life of Humberto, king of Italy, and was rendered possible only by his com-mand that no guard should surround his carriage as he entered cities in the course of a tour which he was making brough Italy. His intention was that entirely free. On Nov. 17, as the carand Prime Minister Cairoli was entering Giovanni Passante, concealing a knife with a red banner, mounted on the steps heart. But the king defended himself with his sword, and before the blow could be repeated. Cairoli, at the cost of severe wound, had grappled with the nurderer, and in a moment he was in twenty-nine years old, a cook by trade, and, like Hoedel, Nobiling and Moncasi, a socialist or internationalist. More sensational, and even, perhaps, was the unsuccessful attempt, on Feb. 5th, at St. Petersburg, of a young woman-Vera Sassulitch by name-to kill Gen. Trepoff, chief of the St. Petersourg police. Her motive was persona rather than political, but an idea of the etestation in which the Russian police s held may be gained from the fact that, igh she fired the shots in broad day ight, as was abundantly shown by proof nd not denied by herself, she was acquitted by the jury amid the applause of the arge and even brilliant andience in the
