CENTRE HALL, Pa., July 17, 1878.

According to an item from Deadwood, D. T. Indians must have a horror of the hanging...

Dan Sickles, the man who shot Philip Barton Key, is at Washington, and is mentioned for Secretary of War...

An item of news from England says: An exciting scene occurred in the house of commons last night...

Well, what of it—don't exciting scenes occur often in the house of folks that would be more than common?

Harriburg sports a man with five wives, and on 9 he was honored with quarters in the Dauphin county jail...

It is related of Prince Napoleon, says the Paris correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, that when Prince Louis Napoleon left on his ill-fated expedition to the Cape...

Blaine and Conkling. THE HISTORICAL EPISODE REVIVED FROM THE OXUS. (Washington Co., St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

In discussing the Conkling-Lamar affair, which now seems to have vanished in words, it is evident from the conversation of Republican Senators that they are not entirely in sympathy with Mr. Conkling.

When he received the pressing telegram which informed him of the death of Prince Louis Napoleon and summoned him instantly to Paris he asked hesitatingly if he was really official.

It will please pensioners to know that there are to be no more examinations of pensioners already on the rolls.

A stalwart organ in Iowa considers the negro of the field and comes to the conclusion that...

When the stalwarts get into power in 1880 he must either be disfranchised or compelled to vote right.

Mr. Thurman writes to a friend in Ohio concerning the late session of Congress—"In my judgment no session of Congress for the purpose of re-consideration of the principles of American liberty."

Two cases of yellow fever have caused a panic in Memphis.

The greenback state convention met at Ex-Gov. Allen, of Ohio, died at his home near Chillicothe on 11th.

Thomas Wright of Bristol, Va., cut out from his breast with his pocket knife last week, a large bullet which was the result of the battle of Chickamauga in 1864.

Minnesota this year has 2,700,000 acres in wheat. Present prospects make 10 to 20 bushels to the acre a fair estimate of the wheat product of the State nearly 50,000,000 bushels.

THE GLOVER BOMBHELL.

The New York Star says: Guided by emphatic assurances from a reliable Washington correspondent...

Today the bill is enabled to verify its prediction by publishing the suppressed report of the document which would not have been suppressed had it not been for the revelations...

The highest legislative tribunal, the United States Supreme Court, has just rendered its decision in the case of the Gloucester and North Carolina, two regiments of cavalry.

In a recent letter to the Hon. John Goode, of Virginia, chairman of the house committee on education and labor, the Hon. W. C. Whitmore, of Tennessee, has made a valuable contribution to the discussion of the negro exodus.

It is shown in the United States bonds have been fraudulently collected for years by an outside ring operating in collusion with Treasury officials.

It is shown that the duties were protected and advanced by Treasurer Wyman and other high officials. Every fiscal year the duties were increased and received a more lucrative berth.

It directly implicates John Sherman who not only perpetrated the corruption for the purpose of rewarding partisan friends, but also secured the passage of the tariff act of 1862.

It incidentally examines the Southern cotton seizures, and details how Hon. William E. Chandler, having secured the position of collector of customs, was enabled to resign his position of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and step at once into a "lawyer's office" $100,000.

But the most startling disclosures of the entire report refer to the mint and to the currency of the country. Everybody on the Pacific coast knows how Linderman pulled the Bonanza out of the mint and made a fortune out of the swindle.

Mr. Whitmore presents a picture of the condition of the south immediately after the war. The war had brought the land property was disturbed and the old slave system was broken up.

Thousands of workmen have been engaged for several weeks on works designed to extend the river to return to its ancient bed, so as to establish an easy water communication between the Caspian Sea and the regions bordering on the Atlantic.

This is a scheme which Russia has cherished for a quarter of a century. Several expeditions have been made of the old bed of the Oxus, which enters the Caspian near Fort Krasnodar, and the decisions reached have been diverse.

Major Serpa Pinto, the Portuguese traveler in Africa who recently turned up at Lisbon, has been lecturing on his travels in Lisbon. In his address, which is translated in the Standard, he testifies distinctly to the existence of a territory between the Congo and the Congo.
