Buried Treasure.

Upon e-I do not know Exactiva, but long ago-A man w riches were untold,

Silver anecious stones and gold,

And pb h of his treasured store. In spe ofmed slaves on guard,

His b wa one continual fright; He hilly dept a wink by night, And Il sofatle rest by day

That grev prematurely gray. At h he dag a monstrous pit

To hohis wealth, and buried it By niglalone; then smoothed the ground So that ie spot could not be found.

But he sned nothing by his labor; A curiou prying, envious neighbor, Who majed the haling, went and told The sulta where to find the gold. A troop osoldiers came next day, And bore so hourded wealth away some preious jewels still remained For which goodly price he gained,

Broad lands he bought, and wisely tilled;

With fruits and grain his barns he filled; He used his wealth with liberal hand; His plenty flowed through all the land;

And, hid no longer under-ground, Spread honest comfort all around.

And wretches who affront their lord Brave basinado, sack, or cord.

Before the dreaded throne he bowed

Where sat the sultan, grim and proud,

And thought " My head must surely fall And then my master will seize all My wealth again." But from the throns

There came a calm and kindly tone: My son, well pleased am I to see Thy dealings in prosperity; May Allah keep thee in good health! Well hast thou learned the use of wealth. No longer buried under-ground, Its comforts spread to all around. The poor man's blessings on thy name Are better far than worldly fame. I called thee hither. Now, behold, Here are the silver, gems and gold

I took from thee in other days; Receive them back and go thy ways, Would that it might be sown broadcast? That fiches are but worthless pelt When hearded only for one's sell."

-Harper's Young People.

Pansy's New Year's Card.

Till on a sted day he hears The sultur's mandate, short and dread. Present thyself or lose thy head!" Fearful and trembling, he obeys, For sultars have their little ways,

Then left the city quite by stealth, To say "the remnast of his wealth; But, now, by hard experience taught,

A better way to keep it sought.

For far t thieves should force his door,

Within austern city dwelt; But not ament's peace he telt

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA. THURSDAY, JANUARY 8, 1880.

VOLUME XIII.

And porsed windows locked and barred,

"Have you not heard it said full oft—"

"You are vexed, Kata" said her father, "and so you are cross with us. I noticed your annoyance increase as you got to the bottom of the pile. You have been expecting a letter which has not arrived. I'll be bound there is not one of those addresses in Sir Charles. Howell's handwriting:"

A crimson flush dyed Katherine's face as thest words were spoken.
"I did expect a card from Sir Charles, of course," she replied, with difficulty curbing her vexation. "He must have sent one. Are you sure you emptied the letter-bag?"

"Yes, I think so. But you had better to the letter bag."
"You received a New Year's card this eltter-bag?"

"Yes, I think so. But you had better look—I have known a letter to remain wedged in a corner more than once."

"And it has happened again," said Katherine, as she drew forth a crumpled envelope.

She glanced eagerly at the handwriting, and thez with an angry cry, let the letter fall.

"And Miss Cranborne—Pansy—you remember the words on my slip of paper: "Seek her hand, and buy the ring." If I buy the ring, will you wear it. Pansy?" envelope.

She glancel eagerly at the handwriting, and then with an angry cry, let the letter fall.

"Not from Sir Charles after all," said the squire, taking hold of the missive.

"Why, yes it is; but by George and egad! it's addressed to you, Pansy-it's "I don't know --inde "Oh! impossible!" cried Pansy, blushing and trembling. It must be

"Conf—"
"Oh! fie, papa! Fie!"

Sturdy old Squire Cranborne put aside with gentle violence the fair hand which his eldest daughter Katherine fiad placed over his lips.
"I won't be silenced!" he cried. "I sain, heartily, confound all newsain, heartily, con

He had lever married again, shough uite a young man when left for the scond time a widewer.

Thus it happened that Katherine and ansy were half sisters only; the one a ich heires, and the other with only a lev modest portion.

Katherine was within a few months her majority. Tall and beautiful, her majority. The mother, vain and le was, like her mother, vain and le was, like her mother, vain and le was, like her mother, vain and le was, it has been over failed to attract mty, for she never failed to attract with the wand poing to one of the
like the majority.

Sir Charles put do his hilling—the fortune-!"
Sir Charles put do his hilling—the fortune-teller was un around, and finally, after a littly till till, till attractions, she will you take it, pleas?"

Sir Charles did and hen read with the wand poing to one of the
like the majority.

Will you take it, pleas?"

Seek her hand, buy the ing; solution, she was generally oversolutions it was verywrong of Squing course it was verywrong of Squing course to like one laughter better borne to like one laughter better have there. But he did, and ever one knew that the gentle, ratient sittle Pansy, so much like the second wife he had loved so fondly, was in favorite.

The manifestations of affection now interchanged between them jarred on Katherine's feelings, and when she had six bed examining, the successful interchanged between them jarred on Katherine's feelings, and when she had six her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was so harsh that all looked at her wise was now intent upon some pretty trides on a stall close by.

"By Jove," drawled Captain Simister, "By Jove," drawled Captain Simister, "You can try," said Katherine, but finished examining the superscriptions, and looked up, her fair bress were contracted into an ugly frows.

"Gushing again!" she exclaimed, in a contemptuous voice. "I can't think how you can be so fond of kissing and cudding."

"Have you not heard it said full oft—"

"Have you not heard it said full oft—"

He read so far, then stopped suddenly.

turned her blushing, smiling face full upon him. But she lowered her eves immediately, and said, demurely: "I don't know—indeed I don't! You

"Oh! impossible!" cried Pahsy, blushing and trembling. It must be some mistake"

"Not a bit if it," cried the delighted father, in grat exultation. "Here, open it at ome and let me see! Why, what a very bretty card it is! Hilload there, Katherhe, where are you going?"

But his eldet daughter made no reply, Gathering up her letters, she left the room hastily, norder that the tears of mortification which rose in her eyes should not be noticed as they coursed down her cheeks.

The Sir Cha'les Howell alluded to in the foregoing sonversation was a young baronet who lad not long returned from a sojoura in the East.

It was noticed that upon one pretext or other a great deal of his time was passed at Squine Cranborne's, and everybody arrived at the conclusion that the attraction was and could be no other than the rich and beautiful Katherine; who herself was fully convinced that she had a fresh worshipper at her shrine. Accustomed to adulation and to receive attentions from every one, while her half-sister had never had even the semblance of alover, it had not occurred to her, until the arrival of the New Year's half-sister had never had even the semblance of alover, it had not occurred to her, until the arrival of the New Year's card, that Sir Charles could possibly take any notice of insignificant Pansy.

As she opened letter after letter, and spread out the cards on the table before her, she gradually regained her tranquility, and by the time she had finished she said to herself, as she smiled at her lovely counterpart in a mirror:

"It was foolish of me to be vexed. It is impossible that he could pass me over for Pansy! I feel sure he has sent me a card, but it has been delayed, and those who are disposed to ridicule the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty-eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty eight can be didentified the idea of meals which cost fifty eight can be didentified the

the continue of the states and one of the continue of the states and the continue of the state heads arrando, and the control of the continue of the state heads arrando, and the control of the control

THE YEAR'S RECORD.

Events of Importance that Occurre

chamber of deputies.

FEBRUARY.—3. Exciting debate in executive session of the United States Senate on the New York nominations ... 4.

News received of extraordinary precautions taken by European countries to guard sgainst the spread of the plague ravaging Russia... 5. Beginning of cipher dispatches investigation in New York by Potter committee ... 8. Mr. Tilden testifies before Potter committee in New York. Heavy strikes begun in England. Russians begin evacuation of Turkish territory and definitive treaty of peace between the two countries and the strikes of the second strikes to the second strikes the second s

The state of the s

his in London for $5,000,000, this labeled at the destruction by first hotel at Locast Grove, near hotel at Locast mayor, by Charles De Young, or, proposed to the control Course severided at West Post. SETTEMBER 11 and the control Course severided at West Post. SETTEMBER 12 and the control Course severided to the control Course severided at West Post. SETTEMBER 12 and the control Course severity and the first believed persons billed or injected by the control Course severity, and the control of the course of the cours NECROLOGY.

Persons of Prominence Who Died in 1879.

It is estimated that one hundred million feet of logs will be cut on the Penobscot waters during the coming winter.

A statistician computes that 2,500,600 wateres and 4,000,000 clocks are annually turned out in different parts of the world. JANUARY.—1. Jadge Charles T. Sherman, brother of Scoretary and General Sherman; Cleveland; Ohio; 67....2. Caleb Cushing, prominent American lawyer and politician; Newburgport, Mass.; 79...4. Juan Moncasi, would-be assassin of Spanish king; executed in Madrid; 22....6. Morton McMellel, ex-mayor of Philadelphia and publisher of the North American; Philadelphia; 62;...8. Julian Hastridge, Congressman from Georgia: Washington, D. C.; 46.... 10. Gustave Schleicher, Congressman from Texas; Washington; 56;...12. Commodore John Guest, U.S. navy; Porthsmouth, N.H.; 57....20. John Blair Scribner, head of well-known publishing house; New Stealing a $10 horse cost a Colorado man his life, although he had been tried and acquitted five different times for murder.

"How long shall girls be courted?", asks an English newspaper. Not later than two o'clock in the morning, we think, excepting when it rains,—Elmira Free Press.

N. H.; 57....20. John Blair Scribner, head of well-known publishing house; New York; 28....21. George S. Hilliard, American author of note; Longwood, Masse 67......27. Dr. Henry R. Linderman, director United States mint; Washington; 54. FEBRUARY.—2. Richard Henry Dana, eminent American author; Boston, Mass; 93....3. General George Cadwalader, veteran of war with Maxico; Philadelphia, 73....7. Thomas Lord, well-known New York millionaire; New York, 65;....11. Heary Goodyear, rubber manufacturer; Paris. minionare; Acw 101s, 55;...11. Heavy Goodyear, rubber manufacturer; Paris.... 17. Miss Flandren. weighing 516 pounds; on exhibition in a New York menagerie; 1821. Shere Ali, amoer of Afghanistan; 55;....23. Field Marshal Theodore Emil Yon Roon, Germau minister of war; Berlin;

In twenty-three months, King Alfonso of Spain, has been married, widowed engaged, widowed in his engagement, engaged again, and married. ARCH .- 3. William Howitt, we'l-known

ITEMS OF INTEREST. The sale of suspenders ought to be the

A mule, unlike a gun, often refuses to go off when he is loaded.

The population of the globe may b roughly assumed at 1,421,000,000.

The total debt of Boston is $42,359, $16.23, a decrease during 1879 of $9,720,

A $10,000 greenback was paid into the Alabama State treasury one day re-

Thurlow Weed, of New York, saw the first steamboat and rode on the first

An innkeeper need never be at a loss for means to entertain his patrons, be-ing always a host in himself.

He said her hair was dyed, and when she indignantly exclaimed. "Tis take!" he said he presumed so.—Bos on Post.

Kansas claims an increase of 144.094 in population in the past year, its recent census showing $49,9784nhabitants.

gaged again, and married.

He looked as wise as an owl, did he,
His tricks were well adjusted,
He defined to advertise, you see,
And in a year he busted.

—Hubbard's Adv riser.

There are plenty of researchative men who don't representative anything worth speaking of except an talimited amount of burglar-proof cieck. Water-loo Observer. The Norristown Herald comes to time with the following: The difference between a military general and a clock is his: One produces tactics and the other

MARCH.—3. William Howitt, well-known English anthor; Rome, Italy; 87...6. Elihu Burritt, "the learned blacksmith;" New Britain, Conn.; 69...9. Rev. John Weiss, noted lectarer and essayist; Boston, Mass.; 61...16. Major-General T. W. Sherman, United States army; Newport, R. I.; 66...17. Ex-United States Senator George Goldthwaite; Montgomery, Ala.; 60...26. John M. Eiliott, chief lustice Kentucky cour. of appeals; Frankfort, Ky.; 59...29. H. Y. Riddle, member of 45th Congress, Lebanon, Tenn.; 55.
APRIL.—3. Judge James A. Stewart, of the Maryland court of appeals; Cambridge, Md.; 71...4. Madam Pattersog-Bonngarte, wife of the brother of the first Napoleon; Baltimore, Md.; 94...5. Prof. Heary William Dove, celebrated meteorologist and writer; Berlin, Germany, 76...12. Lieutenant-General Richard Taylor, Confederate army; New York; 53...21. Major-General

A perfumer proposes to start out with this motto for 1880: "If I don't make 8,3000 this year I won't make a seent." But we would like to see him prove it. —Des Moines Register.

A baby is a very small thing. It don't usually weigh over nine or ten pounds, but it will keep a family awake ail night as easily as if it was as large as an elephant.—Oil City Derrick. The two important events in the life of man are when he examines his upper lip and sees the hair coming, and when he examines the top of his head and sees