LOCAL ITEMS.

—In different cities, last week there were deaths from sunstroke.

—Get one of those nice, cool and cheap summer suits at Goldman's, and sunstroke will hardly bother you.

—One of the furnaces at Lewistown has shut down and it is reported the other one will soon follow suit.

—Decoration day was pretty generally observed in our county, with appropriate ceremonies last Saturday.

—New side walks are being put down almost daily in Millheim. Right.

—The wheat crop in the lower end of the valley promises to be over an ordinary good yield. Grass, however very short.

—Mr. Sam'l Moyer, of Millheim, has been ill of consumption for the last few months.

—The rush for clothing at Lewin's Philad. Branch, you can't imagine, without you go there yourself, and see for yourself.

—The McVeytown Journal says any ordinary woman's waist is thirty inches around. Well, all the boys in the REPORTER office knew that long ago.

—The executive committee of the Juniata Valley Printers' Association met at Huntingdon on Saturday and decided to hold a basket picnic at Dell Delight grove, near Holidaysburg, on Saturday, September 4th.

—A gentleman from New York (whose name we do not know) and who spent the last week or two in Millheim, was robbed of sixty-five dollars in money one evening last week.

—Many of those burnt out at Milton and who lost all their clothing, are in good cheer, since they learned that all kinds of clothing can be had at such very low prices at the Philad. Branch. Just see what a blessing this is to these unfortunate people!

—The latest enumeration puts the number of houses, store rooms and stables destroyed at Milton at 620. Only a little over 200 houses remain.

—Go to the Standard clothing hall and try your luck. Always something made by purchasing a suit of clothing there.

—Mr. C. E. Peck, formerly of this place, has left the oil country and gone to Kansas.

—At our next county fair, we have no doubt that Lee will again take the premium for the best buggy, just as he did last year. No shop turns out rigs that excel those of Leg's Centre Hall coach shops.

—During April last, 46,821 immigrants arrived at the port of New York, against 11,601 during April, 1879. My, won't there be a rush now for the Philad. Branch clothing house by these newcomers. Lewins and Sternberg are ready for them, with a tremendous stock and low prices.

—Rebuilding has already commenced at Milton. Mechanics and laborers out of employment, we have no doubt could find plenty to do in Milton for the next 18 months.

—Hay brought twenty-six dollars per ton at Mrs. Stovers sale in Penn twp., last Saturday.

—Trunks of all sizes, a full line, at Goldmans, where also are found the best bargains in ready made clothing.

—Rev. M. J. Carothers' loss by the Milton fire is from $8,000 to $10,000, and no insurance. A majority of the Milton people had no insurance for the reason that most all companies charge too high. If insurance companies would cut down the princely salaries of their officers, and conduct their business with greater economy, insurance rates might be brought down so as not to be a burden to the insured. In this particular Pennsvalley is fortunate, having its own home company, with scarce any salaries and rates so low that none can find excuse for not being insured against losses by fire.

—The Philad. Branch has only one price, and all goods marked in plain figures, no gouging, allowed in Lewin's store, if you need any thing in his line give him a call.

The barn of George B. Porter, with 6 head of horses, ten of cattle, 300 bushels of wheat, lot of rye and oats, wagons, buggies, horse gears, cured meat and farm machinery, valued at $2,000, on Warrior Ridge, two miles from Petersburg, was destroyed by fire between 11 and 12 on the night of the 17th. Believed to have originated from parties at the barn after plunder.

—On last Saturday while Philip Leitzel of Millheim was working about his new house on Penn street, he discovered a large black snake lying under a hand cart, Philip at once dispatched his snakeship with a garden hoe. The reptile measured 5 feet.

—Bellefonte editors are unhappy because no circus has yet been billed for that town. Well, we would say to them, go to church, Sundays and you will both see and hear something new.

—It is astonishing to see the amount of goods sold at the Beehive. People from all portions of the county go there to buy, and it keeps about half a dozen clerks busy waiting upon customers. The Beehive does a much larger business than any other store in the county. Selling goods very low, and having but one price accounts for the success of the Beehive.

—The people of Milton have gone to work and are clearing away the rubbish and many are building temporary structures in which to do business. Most of the business men will erect better buildings than before.

—You are at all times welcome to look through the well arranged grocery of Sechler & Co., in order to see the complete assortment of groceries they have, the quality and purity of every article, and the moderate prices they ask. Nothing kept but what is genuine.

—Lock Haven, May 27.—The coroner's jury in the case of Mrs. Friedell, whose remains were found in the burning ruins of her house, rendered a verdict this morning that she came to her death at the hands of some person or persons unknown. Wagner, who was arrested on suspicion, has been released.

—Bellefonte will have a new military company to take the place of the one recently disbanded there, and no doubt, will order all their soger pants from Lewin's Philad. Branch.

SETTLEMENT.—Persons having unsettled accounts with the estate of Dr. P. D. Neff, are kindly but earnestly urged to make settlement within a reasonable time, so as to avoid books being placed in the hands of an officer for collection. 20ma3t. BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATORS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF POTTER SCHOOL BOARD.—The board of Directors of Potter School district will meet at Potters Mills, Monday June 7th, at 9 o'clock a. m., to examine Treasurers, account, and transact such other business as may be presented. Persons having claims against the district are requested to present them. Directors Elect will meet at 1 o'clock p. m., to organize new Board. Township Auditors will meet to see if there be any "crookedness" in the accounts.
W. A. KEPLER, Sec'y. D. H. ARDEN, Pres't.

—Mr. George Fowler, of Haines twp., died on Monday morning, 31. We have no particulars. Mr. Fowler was an enterprising gentleman, and celebrated for his gerous hospitality to every one connected with the construction of the L. C. & S. C. RR., which he so much desired to see accomplished, and lived to behold to his great satisfaction. Mr. Fowler has been a resident of the mountains for 40 or 50 years, where he had a fine home and farm, sawmill &c., and recently an important station on the railroad, for the shipment of lumber, bark &c. He was of a kind and liberal disposition, and much respected.

We have just received the following particulars relative to Mr. Fowler's death:

—SUDDEN DEATH.—On last Monday morning about seven o'clock, as Mr. Geo. Fowler of Haines township, was in the act of signing a letter he fell over and instantly expired. Mr. Fowler had been complaining some during the night of pain on the breast. Heart disease is supposed to have caused his death.

—Dont wait much longer for your summer dresses, or they will all be sold—always busy and crowded at the Bee Hive.

—At last the dry spell is broken. On Saturday evening rain set in and continued moderately until near noon on Sunday. Sunday night was added a very heavy thunder shower, so that the ground is now thoroughly saturated. It is a little late to help the clover crop, but will no doubt have a good effect upon other crops.

—Special bargains offered this week in carpets, boots and shoes, at the Bee Hive.

—Groceries can be bought cheaper at C. Dinges' than at any other place in the county.

—Samuel Otto, high constable of Millheim, is making it lively for the hogs found upon the streets in the limits of said borough.

—Call at C. Dinges' Store and look at his fine lot of dress goods.

—Decoration was observed by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Millheim last Saturday. Rev. Aikers delivered the address.

—Have you seen Dinges' new stock of shoes, gaiters, &c., if not call and see them, as they are of the best kind and very cheap.

—Dr. George Moyer, of Mercer county, a native of Haines twp., was in on a visit to friends. George has a good practice in Mercer county.

—Have you seen Dinges' five-cent counter? If not drop in and see the variety of articles that he offers at bargains.

—On last Friday, a little daughter of Henry Mark of Gregg twp., died of diphtheria, another of his children is confined with the same disease.

—The best and cheapest place to bu is at the Bee Hive.

—George Fowler of Haines township, has again repaired his saw mill, which for a number of years had not been running. Mr. Fowler thinks the lumber business is booming just now.

Shirts, collars and ties, all new at the Bee Hive.

A large party of influential republicans left New York on Friday, "to beat Grant." The veteran Thurlow Weed among them, also delegate Robinson, the leading kicker.

Headquarters for groceries, provisions, queensware, stoneware, etc., at Sechlers, in the Bush house block—no goods kept but what are fresh, pure, wholesome, and at a trifle above wholesale price to cash buyers. Remember these facts, housekeepers. Sechlers are always to be relied upon.

—Mr. J. H. Myers, has left the Bush house, and is succeeded by a gentleman named Peters, from New York. Mr. Myers made many friends during his management of the above hotel.

—Our young friend C. Dinges has a well filled store, of dry goods, groceries, shoes, hats, notions, &c. Give him a call.

—The Woodward band put in an appearance at Millheim, on last Saturday, just in time to participate in the decoration exercises. The Woodward boys discourse some grand music, and make a very fine appearance. Long live the Woodward band.

Headquarters for groceries, Sechlers.

Owing to the late dry spell there will not be a large hay crop. The early wheat will be short in the straw and heads. Late wheat will be benefitted by the rain. Prospect is good for fruit.

—Rain again Tuesday evening and night.

—Dont fail to go to the Bee Hive.

INCIDENT OF THE MILTON FIRE.

The writer had the pleasure of meeting Rev. A. M. Barnitz, the gentleman who saved a lady from drowning in the canal during the conflagration. He said that none of the stories related in connection with the matter are correct, and that he would like to have the true version of it given. He gave it as follows: "I remained in the garret of my house too long, looking for a passage way from the house; when I got down stairs all the people had left the street; I ran down through the yard and jumped over the fence and tried to get away, but found that I could not do it on the west side of the canal. My church was on fire to the right of me, and I tried to cross the canal bridge, but a barn on fire at the left drove me back. I then started down Walnut street and tried to get to the river. In the meantime my family had made their escape. An old building on the northwest corner, used as a bakery, broke out in flames, which came near suffocating me. Realizing my situation fully I ran in the direction of the yard of my house and jumped on the pier and protected myself as best I could by standing close to the abutment of the bridge. The heat became so intense as to almost suffocate me; I then concluded that I must plunge into the water as my only chance for escape. After reaching the other side I tried to find my way out but finding it impossible I plunged in again and swam about fifty feet below the church, when I observed an aged lady in a bewildered state trying to find her way out from the pier, her clothing being on fire at the time. I urged her to come into the water at once, telling her that she would be burned up alive. She yielded reluctantly, for fear of being drowned. She got down into the water up to her waist, when I threw water over her, as the only remedy against the storm of hot ashes and cinders pouring down upon her. While in this position a gentleman came to our assistance and showed us a way of escape. Such are the facts in regard to the saving of that lady."—Wm'sport Bulletin.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

The crops are booming since the rains.

Our interesting landlord Mr. Geo. Miller has put a new roof on the hotel.

Wm. Allison's foundation is nearing completion and from appearances his house will be as fine a residence as any one in Spring Mills.

Mr. Smith, our efficient Director of this the upper end of the B. A. & Y. turnpike Road co. made some long needed repairs to the bridge at this place.

Spring Mills observed Decoration day in fine style last Saturday; the parade formed in front of John Krumrine's, and with John for chief Marshal proceeded to the cemetery where the usual decoration cermony was gone through with; Mrs. Jane Nofsker being orator of the day.

The elite of Spring Mills turned out enmasse to the public entertainment given by the Star Literary Society of this place on last Friday evening, Mr. C. P. Leitzel presided with dignity, Miss Mary Miller read a well composed essay on conversation, Miss Carrie Minnich read a splendid piece on woman's rights, Miss Sadie Kerlin's recitation was well spoken for the occasion, the Amateur paper, edited by Ed. Twitmire, was full of fun, jokes, and pieces very instructive to the young America's assembled.

DECORATION.

The decoration ceremonies in Centre Hall, on Saturday evening, were quite imposing. By six o'clock a great many people had gathered from the surrounding country. A procession was formed at Witmer's woods headed by the Farmer's Mills and Centre Hall bands, followed by the Potter twp. Veteran club, by the four Sabbath schools, and last by citizens—making a column about three squares in length. Arrived at the cemetery, a circle was formed, when an appropriate address was delivered by D. Keiler, Esq., the orator appointed for the occasion; his remarks were patriotic and and suited to the occasion. Rev. Fischer was then called upon to speak of those soldiers who never returned and whose remains no doubt lie in various cemeteries in the south marked "unknown." The number of these from Potter twp. is 22. After the addresses the graves of the soldiers were decorated, all in the procession and those outside having been provided with boquets. A monument trimmed with evergreens and capped with flowers and flags was erected in honor of the unreturned. The ceremonies in every respect passed off in the best possible manner.

The Committee appointed by the Veteran Club of Potter twp. to decorate the graves of their fallen comrades at the Union church, proceeded to perform the duties of their appointment on the day fixed for that purpose. Services opened by prayer by Mr. F. Fischer, the meeting was then addressed by the Rev S. Roeder who went on in Daniel Webster style to give the worth of the country we live in and the duty of all to maintain and support that country so dear to every patriot. The Farmers Mills band then discoursed music in their usual happy style, when Rev. W. E. Fischer then addressed the meeting, who, in speaking of the history of our great country and those who gave their lives in defence of its flag, in Henry Clay style, made the hills and the forests echo with his eloquence. We would not forget the welcome we received by the citizens of that place, who being taken by surprise left their employment, and came to welcome us to their midst, and in the future expect an invitation to that place on decoration day, instead of being the movers in the services of decorating the graves of our fallen comrades. Services closed by all heartily joining in singing that glorious old long metre doxology, Praise God from whom all blessings flow. Benediction by Rev. W. E. Fischer.

COMMITTEE.

—Nobby suits made to order for popular prices at the Bee Hive.

A STROKE of lightning completely unharnessed a mule recently by destroying all the buckles and without hurting the beast in the least. Lightning is afraid to tuch a mule.

HARMONY.

MR. EDITOR.—As there is generally more or less talk relative to teachers and teachers, wages, permit me a few thoughts. I believe there should be the utmost harmony existing between director and teachers, and deprecate any measure that will affect any opposite result; the feeling that exists with a few directors is probably attributable to honest motives. Many of these directors have been disappointed in securing good teachers, and we can not find fault with them for not wishing to pay them money where they receive no equivalent.

If good wages are paid, directors should insist on efficient work in return. We some times hear it asked why teachers should receive more wages than farm hands; as well ask why a lawyer or doctor should receive more compensation for services than a hod carrier should for his. The difference of wages in different employments, depends upon, first: The agreeableness or disagreeableness of the employments themselves; secondly, the easiness and cheapness, or the difficulty and expense of learning them; thirdly, the constancy or inconstancy of employment in them; fourthly, the small or great trust which must be reposed in those who exercise them, and fifthly, the probability or improbability of success in them. That the teachers occupation is not an enviable one is self evident and especially is this the case with the district teacher. His remuneration is too meagre to permit him to enjoy the luxury; he is the servant of a capricious public, his merit often ignored and his best efforts unappreciated.

If directors are satisfied with mediocrity or are willing to intrust their children's educational training to the care of novices they can do so, but they must not ignore the second proposition of Adam Smith's doctrine of wages. Teachers do not spring like Pallas from the head of Jove, full fledged and armed for battle. They must prepare themselves for their labor by previous training, as well as a lawyer or doctor must prepare himself for his profession.

We might with as much consistency go to a blacksmith to get a delicate surgical operation performed, or to a physician to get a horse shod as to expect a person who has not fitted himself for the occupation to succeed as teacher. That the employment of the teacher is uncertain needs no statement of ours to prove. The solemn and impressive trust reposed in the teacher is certainly felt by all who have ever succeeded in that pursuit. We trust our health to the physician, our fortune and sometimes our life and reputation to the attorneys; and we repose a great confidence in the teacher, the moral and intellectual development of the children.

Put your son an apprentice to a coachmaker, there is little doubt of his learning to make a buggy; but send him to study the law, it is at least twenty to one if ever he makes such proficiency as will enable him to live by the business. What is true of law is also true of teaching. This is why directors complain of the inefficiency of teachers, they are unwilling to give sufficient wages to make it an object for a teacher to continue teaching as a life work, and they must in consequence accept such persons as they can get. We often hear the remarks that the county superintendents will give a certificate to any one; but that declaration I know to be incorrect; if an applicant presents himself and satisfies the sup't, of his moral character and scholarship, he is entitled to a certificate, and the superintendent has no option in the matter. True aptness to teach, and ability to govern are among the requisites but the only means he has of ascertaining these is by a written or oral examination, which is virtually no test at all, for a person may be able to write an excellent paper on school government and yet wholly unable to manage a school; it directors are willing to employ teachers of no experience and at a small compensation, but who can not furnish testimonials of ability they ought to bear the result philesophically and not to shoulder it on the profession.

NOTICE.

The whole thing at Chicago hinges upon the unit rule; if Cameron & Co. can make it binding, then Grant's nomination seems certain.

A movement is talked of to depose Cameron from the chairman of the national convention, so he cant bring about a temporary organization that will declare the unit rule binding.

THE Whittaker court of inquiry decided on Saturday that the colored cadet was himself the author of his wounds. In this decision the court was unanimous. When General Schofield received the official report of the court he addressed a note to Colonel Lazelle, the commander of the corps of cadets, directing that officer to arrest Whittaker and place him in confinement in his room. The order was immediately executed and Whittaker will remain under arrest until his case is disposed of by the War department.

A TEXAS TOWN DESTROYED BY CYCLONE.

GALVESTON, Tex., May 29.—A despatch from Bonham, Tex., to the News says: "A terrible cyclone visited Savoy, on the Texas Pacific Railroad, last night and totally destroyed the town, killing nine persons and wounding sixty more, some of whom will die. The following is a list of the killed: Sam Gill, Dr. Kern, Miss Pansy Johnson, E. L. Andrews, A. Horn, Wm. Sudeth, Mattie Best and two children named Gallighter and Andrews.

"Nineteen business houses, a depot and twenty dwellings were destroyed, there only being five houses in the place not damaged.

"Physicians, nurses, medicine, provisions and everything necessary were furnished them by the people of Bonham and a train of cars was placed at their disposal.

"The scene beggars description; the earth is covered with the derbris and the groans of the sufferers are heartrending."

TORNADO IN INDIANA.

EVANSVILLE, May 29.—A cyclone passed through this county, six or seven miles northwest of the city, this afternoon, blowing down several barns, a hay press and other buildings.

Frank Wasson was killed and Joe Deigard and Mrs. Walker were seriously injured.

A CYCLONE IN DAKOTA.

MITCHELL, D. T., May 25.—A cyclone passed through this place at about 7 o'clock this evening, doing much damage to person and property. Jacob Luther of New Alamakee, Iowa, and Henry Smith a black boy of Kane County, Ill., were killed; and Fred Frances of Decotah, Iowa; Mr. Phelps of Kane, Ill; and Fritz Budd, were badly wounded. Wm. H. Moth of Columbia, Wis., was also injured. Many buildings were blown down in this village, which contains 600 inhabitants, all of the buildings having been built this spring. Most of the frame buildings near the town were blown to pieces, but the extent of the damage outside of town is yet unknown.

ARREST OF SNYDER CO. MURDERERS.

A correspondent of the Reporter writes us from Middleburg: On the night of May 26th Constable J. P. Smith and assistants re-arrested Israel Erb and Jonathan Meyer, on warrants for the murder of the Kintzler family in Snyder County, and are now in jail at Middleburg. The others who took part in the tragedy, one said to be arrested out west, but the officer has not yet arrived with them. Mr. Erb had a trial for the murder of John Kintzler in December 1878 and found "not guilty" but has been arrested now for the murder of Mrs Kintzler. There is no doubt this time but that the chain of evidence is complete and that a conviction must follow.

We would add that Etzinger and wife were arrested in the west, by an officer, and when in Ohio, Etzinger jumped from the cars near Upper Sandusky, the train proceeding on to Bucyrus, when the officer returned to look after the escaped prisoner, who had hand cuffs on.

BOTH CONTESTANTS KILLED.

DENVER, Col., May 29 1880.—A special despatch from Buena Vista, says:—"Early yesterday morning two men, James Reed and James Edwards, instantly killed each other. They had some trouble and, upon meeting each other, they drew revolvers and fired two shots each, when both fell dead."

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

San Francisco, May 29.—It is reported that an excursion train from this city to Santa Cruz on the narrow gauge road, went through a trestle at Santa Cruz this evening. Ten were killed and sixty wounded. No particulars have been received.

BROUGHT TO JUDGEMENT.

BOSTON, May 18.—Andrew Smith, the defaulting treasurer of North Andover, arrested for the embezzlement of $20 000 during ten years when he held the office, has been sentenced to six years' hard labor in the state penitentiary.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

The Lock Haven Daily Journal of Saturday's date says: "During the thunder storm that prevailed yesterday afternoon, the freight depot was struck by lightning. The team belonging to Thomas Ilgen, of Sugar Valley, was badly stunned, and one of the horses died in a short time afterwards. Frank Hays' horse, which was standing near the depot, was also injured, but not fatally. A boy, whose name we did not learn, was sitting on a barrel near where the bolt struck the building, and he was rendered insensible by the shock. After striking the northwest corner of the building, the lightning ran down the spout to the lower corner and thence into the earth. The Office was filled with smoke and the clerks made haste to vacate the building, thinking it had caught fire."

PETER GRUB sold his share in an iron mine at Cornwall Pa., reserving the right to enter upon the premises forever and take therefrom sufficient ore for the supply of one furnace. That was almost a hundred years ago, when iron ore was smelted in a somewhat crude fashion, and the average yield of a furnace was 1,500 tons a year. That was about the amount taken by Mr. Grub annually during his lifetime. But the process has been improved since then, and now a furnace turns out as much in a single month. The question arose, of course, whether the heirs of Grub were entitled to as much ore as would supply an eighteenth or nineteenth century furnace. A lawsuit has been in the courts for twenty-four years, employing some of the ablest lawyers in the State. The Supreme Court has just decided, on appeal that ore can be taken in sufficient quantity to supply a furnace of the present time.

A special despatch from Rochester regarding the crop prospects in Western New York says that fruit promises a great abundance. There is an unusual wheat acreage and a large aggregate yield. Hay and clover look poor, and the clover-worm is doing much damage.

MARRIED.

On 23, by Rev J. Tomlinson, Adam H Shreckengast of Zion, and Miss. E. E. Ramstein, of Millheim.

DIED.

Sharpsville, Mercer county, has nine furnaces, but only two in blast. Quite a number of furnaces have gone out with the iron boom.

Tular Lake bed in Hanford, Cal., is five miles from where it was four years ago. On the land reclaimed by the change are found the remains of a corral and cabin, and irrigating ditches can be traced running in straight lines. Wheat is now growing on the bed of the old lake.
