DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT: WINFIELD SCOTT HANCOCK OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT: WILLIAM H. ENGLISH OF INDIANA.

STATE TICKET. SENATE JUDGE: GEORGE A. JENKS, Jefferson County.

AN official despatch from Manila in Spain, says the consequences of the recent earthquake were as disastrous in the provinces of the island of Luzon as in the town of Manila.

Patrick Swaine has confessed that he and Horace E. Jenks, of the late Henry Page, at Montezuma, eight years ago, removed led to the confession. Both have been arrested.

It worries the Democrats exceedingly to think they have been unable to find a law in Garfield's letter—Belleville Republican.

Not all democrats need to pick the flaws, such republican papers as the New York Times, Post, Graphic, and others, are picking the flaws in Garfield's letter.

Just let the Garfield voter look in another column of the Reporter what Justice Swaine a republican judge in the U. S. Supreme court, said in his charge from the bench, October 1879, about Garfield and his $5000 pavement bribe.

Read it, and reflect, and then say whether you can vote for Garfield in preference to an unblemished man and here like Hancock.

Read it in another column.

The indications at present point to a general strike of miners in the entire bituminous coal fields of the United States, beginning August 1st.

The principal demands which are shortly to be made of operators are payment for nut coal, the abolition of the objectionable features in store orders and restriction of output.

Such of the Reporter's readers as have faith in prayer for the cure of disease, may find encouragement in the following, if it be true:

Mrs. Greenwith, of Williamsport, is rejoicing in the recovery of her lost voice, and considers it due to prayers offered by herself and friends.

Her recovery was the result of a supernatural interposition.

Tanner's fast has brought out other fasting stories, some as large as a summer cake story.

The Philadelphia Telegraph says there was some years ago in the Blockley Almshouse a man named Thomas Wiggins, who persisted in declaring that he was Jesus Christ, and started out to imitate the Saviour by fasting forty days and nights.

General Garfield has named the new home he has just finished at Mentor Ohio, "Lawnfield," says a paper.

In view of the fact that he was so anxious about with Ames it should be called Loanfield. After November Garfield will be a benefactor, because there is another in the world who is a "wield."

Turkey is likely to have a rub with Greece, we do not mean that the sick man is to be rubbed—but a war with the Greeks, and Greece is actively preparing for the event.

General Garfield has named the new home he has just finished at Mentor Ohio, "Lawnfield," says a paper.

Not being able to say anything truthful about General Garfield, some of the gerrilla journals of which this city is a specimen, resort to the infamous plan of printing lies against him and knowing them to be such.

Such talk is to him—the Bulletin point out that the denunciations have been published about Garfield. All they have done was to republish the Times and Tribune, and from the official Credit Mobilier report by Poland, Rep., and the DeGolyer bribe.

Gen. Weaver the greenback nominee for President is now making speeches in the South.

The Colorado republicans are not harmonious. Senator Conkling is quoted as having said that Ohio statements thrive upon Sunday school twaddle.

Gen. Grant has been elected to the presidency of the New Mexico mining company, with a large salary.

A negro in New York shot a white man in the head, killing him instantly. He was arrested and states he took the man's head to be a woodcock, in the woods, and fired believing it was a woodcock.

GARFIELD'S DEFENSE.

The X. Y. Herald, independent, says: In another column we print what appears to be General Garfield's formal and final defense against the charge of official misconduct in the Credit Mobilier case.

It is extracted from a forthcoming campaign life of the candidate, all the details of which are announced as obtained by the author directly from General Garfield himself. It will be noted that the statement of the circumstances on the specific point of General Garfield's personal conduct with Oakes Ames is made in the first person, as if General's actual words.

Mr. Gould, who owns a majority of Tribune stock, looks upon the Garfieldship as in a sinking condition.

While in his old home in Delaware county, N. J., last week, he spoke his mind freely on the subject of politics, prophesying the certain election of Hancock and English.

Mr. Gould also ventured the remark that the Republican "machine" had already practically abandoned the Presidential fight and would henceforth concentrate its efforts upon carrying the various State legislatures.

Mr. Gould's revelations are important only as exhibiting the fact that what is called the money power does not seem to be as much afraid of the Democracy as some people make out, and that the Tribune is in this respect not a happy one.

The Times says a statement of the business of the Pennsylvania Railroad for the half year ended with June presents an evidence of prosperity that is altogether astonishing.

Mr. Garfield, although comparatively unknown in the State of Ohio, has just been elected senator for Ohio, in place of Senator Thomas.

ON THE ORPHAN COURT.

The orphan court of Philadelphia decreed the final distribution of the estate of Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolution.

While in his old home in Delaware county, N. J., last week, he spoke his mind freely on the subject of politics, prophesying the certain election of Hancock and English.

THE FIRM FORMALLY PLEADED.

The firm formally pleaded that the contract having been obtained by a bribe it was contrary to public morals.

While in his old home in Delaware county, N. J., last week, he spoke his mind freely on the subject of politics, prophesying the certain election of Hancock and English.

Mr. Gould also ventured the remark that the Republican "machine" had already practically abandoned the Presidential fight and would henceforth concentrate its efforts upon carrying the various State legislatures.

SWAYNE ON GARFIELD. A JUDICIAL OPINION DELIVERED IN 1875 BY JUSTICE SWAYNE OF THE U. S. SUPREME COURT. Garfield's Acceptance of the Fee Held to Be a Sufficiently Large Influence Which No Veil Can Cover.

Washington, July 19.—A decision rendered in 1875 by Justice Swayne of the United States Supreme Court, has been called into question by the fact that it settles the question of General Garfield's position in the DeGolyer matter.

THE CHARACTER OF THE CREDIT MOBILIER WAS NO SECRET. The source of its profits was very well known at the time the Congress was being organized.
