P. S.—The governor is dead.

—The meeting of the Potter (north) Hancock club, on Saturday evening, was well attended. The meeting was held in Witmer's woods. The speakers were Messrs. Morrison and Heinle from Bellefonte, a gentleman from Maine, a republican who never before voted a democratic ticket, but is a convert to Hancock. We did not learn his name, but he made a rattling little speech. Chairman Spangler then haying made his appearance upon the ground, was called for and made one of his usual telling speeches. The addresses were all good and listened to with attention.

During the speaking some republican son-of-a-Garfield hiding in a dark nook of the woods threw eggs into the crowd which shows the way these fellows meet democratic argument.

THE REPORTER accords them all the honor that belongs to such conduct, particularly when speakers said nothing to provoke it but were polite and repectful in their language.

CENTRE CO. HARVEST HOME.

Go to Sechlers always for groceries.

HAINES TOWNSHIP SHORTS.

Farmers Store brass band has again secured J. A. Linn as teacher, and have made fair improvements for the time. He being a competent and able instructor.

Candidates are on the ride in the electioneering contest. Farmers are disgusted with their mode—hence let them learn your merits in a more honorable way than by electioneering. Hancock and English are what Haines twp., voters advocate, an increase vote will be cast here for them, while the republicans will not be able to poll a full vote.

Business at Farmer's Store is good, and the reason you will always find such good bargains, and obliging clerks always on hand. x

A pair of prospectors near Leadville encountered a pack of hungry and therefore fierce mountain lions. One of the men fled to a high rock, carrying away the only gun, and leaving his defenceless companion to be killed. But his own death was still more horrible. He lost the trail in his fright, and for eight days wandered without food. He was at last found by miners but was too far gone to recover.

A man in Bellefontaine, Ohio, thought that certain allusions in a sermon by the Rev. A. H. Windsor were personal, and after the services he knocked the preacher down with a club.

The French instead of being grateful to Dr. Tanner proving that a person can do without eating, are indignant. One of the Paris journals says, "This prodigious fast," it says, "will not fill the stomachs of the starving. There is no need to be a great doctor to make such experiments. All the wretched make them each winter. Dr. Tanner has done the poor a great deal of harm. The familiar appeal, 'My God, sir, pity me; I've eaten nothing for two days,' will never more have any effect on us."

HANCOCK AND ENGLISH.

We have examined the Life of Maj. Gen. W. S. Hancock by Col. Jno. W. Forney, and the Life of Gen. Jas. A. Garfield by Gen. Jas. S. Brisbin, published by Messrs. Hubbard Bros., 732 Chestnut St. Phila., and can conscientiously recommend them both to the favorable notice of the reading public in general and to find unflinching supporters of the candidates in particular, knowing as we do that the publications are authorized by the candidates themselves. They are carefully written, well bound, handsomely illustrated and sold to subscribers at the nominal cost of $2,00. The agent for Centre Co., J. R. Van Ormer, of Bellefonte will call and give you all an opportunity to secure a bargain unprecedented in the history of the book trade. Reserve your orders for him. In addition to the book each purchaser is furnished without extra charge, with a campaign songster containing 40 stirring campaign songs suitable for club meetings &c. Remember in purchasing these works you secure the most authentic history of the respective candidates to be had! HANCOCK AND GARFIELD.

THE MOSHANNON ROUTE RAILROAD.—The engineers employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company, have finished the locating of this new outlet of the Clearfield coal basin, from Keating on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, to the mouth of the Moshannon creek, where it empties into the West Branch of the Susquehanna river. From this point the surveying party are engaged in running the line up the Moshannon creek to Philipsburg, where it will connect with the Clearfield branch of the Tyrone railroad, thus connecting with all the coal operations in this extensive basin known as the Clearfield coal field. We look forward with much interest to the speedy completion of this new outlet, from this section, as it will add very largely to the encouragement of new business enterprises here and along the route to the river, as large bodies of timber as well as coal territory have been awaiting an outlet, to get these products into market. The advantages to the Pennsylvania railroad by this new coal outlet, will be immense, as the grades compared with the present route over the summit of the Alleghenies, will be at least one half lighter, and thus make a large item of saving in the motive power used in the transporting of this large and yet rapidly increasing traffic. With this new railroad completed, the business interests and future prospects of Philipsburg are an established fact and we confidently look forward to a speedy realization of the hope that Philipsburg will become the principal centre of business in the Clearfield coal basin. So says the Philipsburg Journal.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A CONSPIRACY.

The preliminary contest in the St. Louis courts in the conspiracy suits of the Vulcan Steel Works against their workmen has been decided in favor of the company. The case is a somewhat peculiar one. James Tighe, Dennis Griffin, Michael Dimon, Martin Hanifin, Bart Fenton, Patrick Reiley, and Martin Hooley were employes in the converting department of the Vulcan Works. On the evening of the 5th of last April, when two heats of iron were partially melted, the cupola ladle filled with molten metal and the pits covered with cooling ingots, these men are charged with conspiring together and suddenly going out upon a strike for higher wages. This placed the Vulcan superintendents in a predicament, and they allege that; were it not for the timely arrival of a sufficient force of men at the works just at the proper time, the metal would have become hardened in the receptacles, causing the works to lie idle and putting them to a great deal of expense in placing them in working condition again. With the assistance of the new workmen they succeeded in escaping actual loss. The arrest of the parties named followed for conspiracy. Their attorney moved to quash the proceedings on the ground that that they had committed no offense under the common law. The acting State attorney claimed that it was both a statutory and common law offense. The case was finally argued before Judge Cady, who delivered, at the session of the Court of Criminal Correction, the appended decision: "The statement contained in the information filed in this case, if true, constitutes, in my opinion, a clear case of conspiracy. It is doubtless true that there is no crime in the solitary fact that the several defendants agreed or conspired together that unless higher wages were paid they would cease work, but it is equally clear that for these defendants to confederate, conspire, and agree together to stop work under the circumstances and for the purposes alleged in the information, is an offense. It is true that the mere failure or a refusal to perform a civil contract is not of itself a crime. But the circumstances alleged in connection with the refusal of these defendants and others certainly constitute an offense. I am, therefore, of the opinion that the motion should be overruled and the defendants put upon their trial."—Coal Trade Journal.

COINCIDENCES.
[N. Y. Sun.]

About the time that General Hancock fought the battle of Gettysburg, General Garfield turned his back to the front and went into politics.

About the time that General Hancock issued Order No 40 at New Orleans, Mr Garfield was negotiating at Washington with Oakes Ames for the shares in Credit Mobilier, on which he afterwards recieved a cash dividend of $329.

Some of our Republican contemporaries are fond of drawing comparisons between the careers of the two candidates, "as soldiers and as statesmen." These coincidences cannot fail to afford them interesting material for study.

The late rains have done great damage to the crops in North Carolina. Cape Fear river rose 32 feet.

Gen. Wm. O. Butler, candidate with Cass for Vice President in 1848, died in Kentucky on 6, aged 89.

Many contemplated building enterprises in Chicago have been suspended in consequence of lack of brick-layers and laborers. Wages are $3 for bricklayers and $1,75 for laborers, and at least 250 could be employed if they were here. The Master Masons and Builders' Association therefore invites bricklayers and laborers from other cities.

While Faank Stevenson, aged ten, and his brother William, children of William Stevenson of Columbia, Pa., were playing "burglars" with their father's revolver, the weapon was discharged and Frank instantly killed.

"No man who builds up to his line has the right to open a window upon his neighbor's land. The main reason for refusing such a privilege is that after twenty years' enjoyment it becomes a vested right, so that the owner of the land upon which the windows open cannot build it up, and thus by his own walls close up the windows. An owner of a lot recently allowed his neighbors on each side to open side windows to the houses upon it, supposing that they could only enjoy it until he wished to build. After twenty-one years he found that he could not build so as to close the windows, nor could he sell the lot for anything like the value it should have represented."

ABOUT TAX RECEIPTS.—There is an opinion with some that to entitle one to vote, a State or county tax must not only have been paid within two years, but that the tax must have been assessed within that time, too. This is a mistake. it makes no difference how far back the tax was assessed, so that it has been paid within the required time. A man presenting a receipt for a tax paid within the two years and the proper time before the election, is entitled to vote, no matter if it was for a tax assessed three or more years before. This is the construction of the law everywhere in the State. Several years ago we published an opinion of Judge Mayer to the same effect. says the Clinton Democrat.

DR. UNGER'S CURE FOR DRUNKENNESS.—The claims of Dr. Unger for a remedy for curing intemperance would seem to be justified, if we may rely upon as good authority as the Chicago Tribune for the evidence. Mr. Joseph Medill, the editor, is said to be a strong indorser of the new remedy, and from the editorial commendations of it in the Tribune we conclude the remedy has produced some benefit to the community already. It is claimed that the doctor has cured 28,000 persons of the worst form of intemperance with it, and that this is the first remedy ever discovered that kills the disease and the inclination to drink at one and the same time.

Remedy.—Take one pound of best, quill red Peruvian bark, powder it, and soak it in one pint of diluted alcohol. Afterward strain and evaporate it down to half a pint. Directions for its use: Dose —a teaspoonfull every three hours the first and second day, and occasionally moisten the tongue between the doses. It acts like quinine, and the patient can tell by a headache if he is getting to much. The third day take as previous, but reduce the dose to fifteen drops, and then dowu to ten, and then down to five drops. To make a cure, it takes from five to fifteen days, and in extreme cases thirty days. Seven days are about the average in which a cure can be effected.

Purchaser with Notice.—If one purchase land of the owner, knowing that the latter has already mortgaged it to another, although by a wrong description, such purchaser will take the land subject to the mortgage. Even if the purchaser have no actual notice of the mortgage having been made by such wrong description, yet if the circumstances attending the transaction are of a character to put a reasonable diligence, lead to a discovery of the existence of the mortgage, the purchaser will be bound in the same manner as if he had actual notice.—Slattery vs. Rafferty, Supreme Court, Ill.

—Sechlers always keep getting new and fresh groceries—always have best in the county and cheap too.

THE LAW OF FINDING.—The law of finding is this: The finder has clear title against all the world but the owner. The proprietor of a railroad car or shop has no right to demand the property which may be found on his premises. Such proprietor may make regulations in regard to lost property which will bind their employees, but they cannot bind the public. The law of finding was declared by the King's Bench one hundred years ago in a case in which the facts were these: A person found a wallet containing a sum of money on a shop floor. He handed the wallet and contents to the shopkeeper. The latter refused to deliver them upon the ground that they were found on his premises. The finder then sued the shopkeeper, and it was held as above stated, that against all the world but the owner the title of the finder is perfect. And the finder has been held to stand in the place of the owner, so that he was permitted to prevail in action against a person who found an article which the plaintiff had originally found but subsequently lost. The police have no especial rights in regard to articles lost unless those rights are conferred by statute. Receivers of articles found are trustees for the finder. They have no power in the absence of a special statute to keep the article against the finder any more than the finder has to retain the article against the owner.

It has been decided by the Supreme Court that, in filling out a note for banking purposes, the note is invalidated if a figure is erased and another figure written upon it—thus, if the note is printed, as has been the custom during the past decade, 187- and the seven is erased by placing the 8 over it, the note is worthless neither will it do to erase all the printed figures and place 1880 directly above them. But if the figures are all erased and 1880 written out just before them, the note is valid.
