Asiatic Cavalry Tactics.

A correspondent at Bucharest reports the introduction into Europe of a mode of fighting which has lither to been confined to Asia. A squadron of Rou anisus cavalry showed the prince at least something not yet tried even in Germany. Abody of cavalry galiops toward the enemy, and then, instead of two thousand years and men together, the bodies of the anisus forming a breastwork, from behind which the men open fire. Though use, for horses are far too expensions, as treatment to a murderer. The foregoing fable was written two thousand years also, that not every change is for times change, and we change with them; also, that not every change is for the better. If the murder remaisted now, instead of two thousand years and men together, the bodies of the anisms traise the dead."
