A VENOMOUS FISH.

From a letter written by a correspondent in the Seychelle Archipelago, it would seem that though "every prospect pleases" man is not the only vile creature which the islands and their waters boast. There is a small but highly poisonous fish, we are told, called the "laf," the spines upon whose back are hollow and filled, like the fangs of the cobra, with a dangerous poison, which sometimes produces death, and always intense pain. You may draw it unobserved into the boat when you are fishing and find out its peculiarities. Sharks, too, are more than abundant, and it seems to hang about the frail boats of the place with such terrible earnestness as to appal sailors and cause them to refrain from tempting the deep; the creatures cut the oars as they are thrust into the water, munch the sides of the canoes, and altogether misconduct themselves so gravely that harpoons have to be used in order to repel them. Happily, in this respect the "laf," nature has provided an antidote, for no sooner has he stung than his body offers a cure to any one who has the presence of mind to seize it, cut it open and apply it to the wound. Against the teeth of the shark no such protection is offered, yet those who wish to avoid his mouth can do so by keeping ashore. They miss the enjoyment of the loveliest waters in the world, but they also escape a fate compared to which that Jonah was child's play.

—A new comet has been discovered, the second one within a few months. This will not attract so much attention as the fact that a new supply of clothing has been received at the Philad. Branch, which has been marked down lower than any other store, and better goods for less money.

AFGHAN JUSTICE.

The method of dispensing justice and carrying the law into execution in Cabul seems to be somewhat primitive, judging from the following incident which is supplied by a correspondent of the Lahore paper. In a quarrel between two artillerymen, and by a sort of accident that sometimes happens on purpose, the bayonet of one man became implanted in the stomach of the other, inflicting a wound that resulted fatally. The friends and relatives of the deceased declared that they would only be satisfied by the life of the delinquent being left in their hands, and according to the usual custom in such cases, the prisoner was made over to them to do what they liked with him. It was immediately agreed that hanging was most appropriate, and all the necessary preparations for the ceremony were completed, when one of the relatives, more bloodthirsty than the rest, demanded the privilege of cutting the unfortunate man's throat. At this interesting period of the tragedy the colonel of the prisoner's battery arrived on the scene with a bag of Rs. 1,000, which obtained an instant reprieve for the moribund artilleryman.

—Don't glance at Dinges' advertisement and then pass on without further notice, that's not what he wrote it for. It will be as much to your benefit as his to read it.

Purchaser with Notice.—If one purchase land of the owner, knowing that the latter has already mortgaged it to another, although by a wrong description, such purchaser will take the land subject to the mortgage. Even if the purchaser have no actual notice of the mortgage having been made by such wrong description, yet if the circumstances attending the transaction are of a character to put a reasonable diligence, lead to a discovery of the existence of the mortgage, the purchaser will be bound in the same manner as if he had actual notice.—Slattery vs. Rafferty. Supreme Court, Ill.
