Accounts from Europe make mention of unprecedented heat, sunstroke and forest fires. Paris had 100 deg. in the shade on 19.

Despatches say the army worm is causing serious damage to the crops in Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and northern Minnesota. It has also appeared in Wisconsin.

The temperance folks of Ohio have nominated a full ticket for state officers. Temperance tickets never get the votes of those who talk temperance, by a great odds.

July 19 made things hot in some places by fire. Syracuse had a $30,000 blaze. East Sagadahoc came with an $100,000 fire, and Cincinnati had $250,000 worth of property go up in smoke.

The New York republican fight for senators has ended, at last, by the election, on Friday of Mr. Lapham and Senator John Lewis, Jr., and G. A. Meyer, a down for the present; and the republicans have slumped the man of their party who did more in the last 15 years to keep it in power, than any other half dozen leaders. So far as the democrats are concerned, they will not regret Mr. Conkling's defeat. We can well afford to let the two new republican senators from New York will not prove half a Conkling.

Lapham and Miller from New York with Cameron and Mitchell form our state.

A meeting of the directors of the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad Company was held at the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at which were present L. A. Mackey (President), G. B. Roberts, A. G. Curtin, J. N. Dullarty, James Duffy, James Gamble, John F. Green, John Lewis, Jr., and G. A. Meyer. A two per cent. semi annual dividend was declared, and a proposition adopted to extend the Snow Shoe branch of the road four miles, to exceed 600 feet coal opening. The output of the mine is 100 tons. Snow Shoe exceeds 200 tons per day.

Just as we expected and predicted in the Reporter, six months ago, the Bloomsburg Republicans say, in Snyder county, where the speculative insurance craze first took possession of the minds of the people in Central Pennsylvania, we begin to hear the old croppings of dissatisfaction. Assessments are becoming so frequent that many policyholders are unable to pay them. The officers and agents receiving the caries of the insured for their deception, and the retribution which we predicted as the lot of all who are engaged in the dishonest practice is being visited upon the guilty. Many who fancy themselves to be millionaires in the near future are despoiled by the people of the community in which they reside and lament the fact that they ever sacrificed their manhood to their greed for wealth.

The latest that we have from the President's assassin is that some lawyers are disposed to find fault with the management of the trial. They say the constitution guarantees him counsel, and that he should not be held without due process of law; but Guiteau says he wants no counsel. He is a lawyer and will conduct his own case, and he is held to the result of the word. Guiteau does not ask to be delivered from jail on bail. He desires the protection of the jail, for the greatest anxiety he has is the fear that in some way he may fall into the hands of an enraged mob. The lawyers also criticize the letter of the district attorney directing that the warden of the jail shall keep Guiteau practically in close confinement. They say that it is contrary to the constitution, and that moreover the district attorney has not the control of Guiteau's case, but that the warden of the jail alone is responsible for him.

There is one fact that presents itself by the shooting of Garfield to which the Reporter begs leave to call the attention of the republicans. It is this: When the shooting was done, the entire democratic press of the country denounced it as atrociously as any republicans being mugged. And when it became known that it was a republican who attempted to kill the President, no democrat held the republican party guilty and charged it with conspiracy, and that sort of stuff.

But, when it turned out that Guiteau was a crazy democrat how different would have been the tone of the republicans—the whole democratic party would at once have been charged with being a pack of murderers and assassins; that a plot had been laid by them to kill the President, and we would have heard of democratic printing offices being sacked, editors mobbed, and every section full of republican threats to hang democrats. Just such conduct have republicans been guilty of. Will they now learn a lesson from the bearing of the democrats in the attempt of Guiteau on the President's life?

CONKLING DOWN.

A Senator Elected.
July 22.—The Stalwarts have been weakened for several days, and a crisis was reached to-day, when it was discovered the Democrats talking of absenting themselves in a body—going home, in fact—and thus leaving the Hon. Breeds and Stewart to fight it out. In this case the only way the Stalwarts could prevent an election would be to break a quorum. All attempts to get Democratic votes for Conkling failed. The Ayres, the State organ of the party, denounced any such movement, and the opposition to it was general in Democratic circles.

The joint convention held three sessions to-day. It met at noon and had one hour for the Senate, and another for the House, and then to permit the Republicans to hold a caucus adjourned until 1.30. At this time it reconvened, and adjourned until 1.30. In the mean time the supporters of Lapham held a conference, and agreed to meet the demands of the Stalwarts to the extent of calling a caucus, by the regular business of the House, and to permit the Stalwarts to have the demand of the Stalwarts from the start, and they pledged themselves to abide the caucus, which was held at 1.30. The caucus was held at 1.30. The caucus was held at 1.30. The caucus was held at 1.30.

A CHANCE FOR A FREE SCHOLARSHIP IN THE STATE COLLEGE.

ST. PAUL, MINN., July 18.—A Wisconsin special says: Paul Veld, a Swiss emigrant, who lately bought a farm in Eagle Creek, Wis., became insane through the failure of his crops and homestead. On Sunday morning he was found dead in the front room of the house, and his wife and two children in the next room, three children dead in bed with him, and two oldest boys in the hay lot, mortally wounded, all shot in the head. One boy may recover. A revolver was found in the house.

Paris, July 23.—Pochep's organ, the Lantier, which has a monopoly of the nihilists news, prints a dispatch from St. Petersburg, dated the 18th inst., which says the Nihilist Executive Committee held a grand and solemn meeting. Several exiles came from Geneva to attend. It was resolved to give the Car one more warning, and if he did not budge, he and all the high-headed advisers will be hanged.
