This causes the callus to form so rapidly that if the cuttings are enough to secure its formation or "What does that spell?" continued "What does that spell?" continued the bulk of the first importations of felt, heaver and plush bonnets; the even that of the roots. Autumn cut-tings taken off a little before the sap es to move, and treated in this manner, form the callus so quickly that they are ready for planting out before teacher. In winter it is necessary to keep the cuttings in a gentle heat, or frost, and even then a callus will be round to have formed by spring time.

Many vine-growers, says the Cincinnati Gazette, experience great disappointment between the budding and ripening of their grapes. In spring the leaves and sprays shoot forth abundantly and the "blossoms" appear in gratifying profusion. As summer advances the growth of the berries is at first satisfactory, and then a reverse commences. Some shrivel up, others mildew and many drop off, the curculio takes a share and general deterioration ensues.
