Gilt frames may be protected from flies by brushing them over with onion-water. Boil three or four onions in a pint of water, and apply with a soft brush or cloth.

Dinges is putting out his new goods as fast as the cars can bring 'em. Customers come miles to make purchases there. His prices are so low as to make his store famous the valley over for the best bargains in every line of goods.

A correspondent who thinks the remedy for kicking in cows, given a short time ago in THE EXAMINER, too much trouble, suggests the following simple cure, which he has tried and found effective: "Take a common surcingle and tie plenty of knots in it until it is of the right length; buckle it around the cow, very tight, just forward of the hip joints and bag. Now milk, and she won't lift a foot. In two or three days ease up a hole or so, treat her gently, and in a short time simply laying the strap across her back will do as well."

The election will soon be over and the defeated candidates will have the satisfaction of knowing that as much can be made by purchasing clothing at the Philad. Branch as by holding an office. An immense new stock on hand, at prices that outdo all competition and opposition.

INDIAN SEPULTURE IN DAKOTA
[Letter to New York Herald]

Accompanied by the agent in the afternoon we drove out of the fort about two miles to a tree in which a number of Indians, according to the custom of their tribe, had been buried. It was a well-grown elm which grew straight out of the ground to a height of five or six feet, at which point the trunk forked into a dozen gnarled and twisted branches, the peculiar black bark of these limbs giving them an unnatural look. Everywhere among the yellow leaves were perched heaps of decaying garments and bones. In some places the storms had torn away the gaudy funeral paraphernalia, and whole skeletons were exposed. All the implements which the dead are supposed to need in the happy hunting grounds were placed at the side of the corpse, and in one branch I saw a trunk which belonged to a skeleton just underneath it. So many Indians have been placed upon the branches of this ancient elm that it is said to have had a more vigorous growth than any tree in the neighborhood in consequence of the fertilization. The majority of the bodies deposited in the serial cemetery are Reese Indians, but the Crow tribe laid three of their braves there. Since the establishment of the agency the Sioux have not been permitted to keep up this disgusting practice.

ALL PERSONS having unpaid State and County tax for 1880, are requested to pay W. E. Mingle or the Collector on or before the 21st of Nov. After this date collections will be made as per warrant in said duplicate. No delay.
ELLIS B. HOSTERMAN
