DAVIS' SPEECH.

Vice President Davis said in the senate he would not vote to make a change in the senate office.

President pro tem. Davis who temporarily occupied his former seat on the floor having vacated the Chair to Harris after referring to the death of the late President...

For the last ten years his political position has been entirely independent of any organization. I have accepted good wherever it was found, and I have voted for the best man whether he were called a Republican or Democrat.

REFORM WITHIN THE PARTY. True as Gospel does the Sin say that recent developments at Washington do not encourage any one to hope that a party which has been twenty years in power is capable of reforming itself...

The Star route people are having it all their own way. Instead of being prosecuted, punished and compelled to disgorge their plunder, they are considering what penalty they shall inflict upon those who presumed to investigate and expose them.

The first Republican Congress since 1874 assembled; and what do we see there? The lobby, which disappeared under Randall, is gathered again in grand force...

STALWARTS FOR BEAVER.

It appears that the stalwart press and looking around for a candidate for Governor, have at last fixed upon General Beaver.

After much informal interchange of opinions on the subject between the stalwart leaders it was finally and formally concluded that General James A. Beaver, of Centre county, should be accepted as the stalwart candidate for Governor.

There was some stalwart mingling in accepting General Beaver. He followed Cameron at Chicago and acted as his chief agent in the interest of Grant, and he put himself in entire accord with Cameron last winter when he was made the candidate for Senator at Cameron's house.

On Monday the president sent to the senate the nomination of Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, to be secretary of state in place of Blaine.

The Republicans twenty-five years ago the World says brought a fight against Mormonism. More accurately speaking, they made a declaration of war against Mormonism.

Secretary Blaine has retired from the cabinet, which leaves the administration in stalwart hands. The Grant crowd is now on top of the republican party, and all the whiffets throughout the country who a few months ago extolled Garfield and sneered at Conkling and the rest of them, have forgotten Garfield and now are most loyal stalwarts.

Three months ago there was not a postmaster in the land but what he had named Arthur and Conkling. Now not one of these government post-pasters dares to say a word against the "strutting turkey gobbler," as Blaine once designated Conkling.

Among demagogues there is talk in favor of Wm. A. Wallace, for governor; ex-congressman Hopkins, of Pittsburgh, is also mentioned by his friends, and likewise Senator Cox, of Luzerne, and controller Pattison, of Philadelphia.

The radicals having both Houses of congress, intend to wade in clover. All the jobs that were held in abeyance before by Kerr and Randall will now come to the front now.

SIX HUNDRED PEOPLE CONSUMED IN A VIENNA THEATRE.

Which takes Fire from the Upsetting of a Lamp Upon the Stage—Many Spectators Injured and Others Saved by Jumping from the Windows. Sickening Scene of Horror.

Vienna, December 8, 9.30 p. m.—This evening at 7 o'clock a theatre formerly the theatre opera house, was in flames. The fire broke out at the foot of the stage, and the building was consumed. The house was completely filled. The fire was very hot. Up to the present time seventy bodies have been recovered. Many injured. Sixty were saved by ladders and by jumping from the windows.

The scene was terrible, the flames shooting up through the roof and eventually gutting the entire building. One hundred and thirty bodies were brought out of the theatre, but the dead there are still numerous, many bodies having been cast out for weeks in his and other elevated parts of the building.

When the fire broke out on the stage, the mechanic who was to lower the wire curtain and cut off the flames from the body of the theatre could not work the apparatus. Then another stage employee, thinking to prevent an explosion, turned off the gas.

COLONEL FORNEY DEAD.

Philadelphia, December 9.—Colonel John W. Forney died at his residence in this city at twenty o'clock on the 8th morning. His death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy which he generally made use of in the defense of assailing his enemies, for instance, in whose behalf he was called upon to speak by the House of Representatives.

Philadelphia, December 9.—The funeral of the late John W. Forney will take place at 10 o'clock p. m. in Laurel Hill cemetery. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock p. m. in Laurel Hill cemetery. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock p. m. in Laurel Hill cemetery.

TOLD ON A DEATH-BED.

One of the most startling disclosures which ever the dying agonies of a dying man made, is that he has just been told on his death bed, of the fact that he had been murdered by his own people.

When the fire broke out on the stage, the mechanic who was to lower the wire curtain and cut off the flames from the body of the theatre could not work the apparatus. Then another stage employee, thinking to prevent an explosion, turned off the gas.

THE PITTSBURGH WEEKLY POST FOR THE YEAR 1882.

Democratic Organization, Principles and Candidates. No Lowering the Flag, No Surrender, No Concession. But a Renewal of the Old Battle for an Old Time Victory.

Never was there a greater necessity for active, watchfulness and unyielding political integrity, than there now is in the republic. The bodies of an entire generation must be sacrificed to the efforts of men in the republican party to set up an other form of government in the place of that which exists.
