Democratic State Ticket.
FOR GOVERNOR, ROBERT K. PATTON, of Philadelphia; FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, CHAUNY F. BLACK, of York; FOR SUPREME JUDGE, SILAS M. CLARK, of Indiana county; FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS, J. SIMPSON AFRICA, of Huntingdon; FOR COMMISSIONER OF LANDS, MORTIMER F. ELLIOTT, of Tioga.

Hon. L. A. Mackey, of Lock Haven, a candidate for the State Legislature, his experience as a national legislator, and large acquaintance with the wants of the people of Clinton, as well as his business experience, especially qualify him to fill that position.

An effort will be made to cut down the big charges of Garfield's doctors about one-half. In the house Mr. Blackburn, of Kentucky, has openly announced his determination to fight the bill to pay the Garfield expenses, and will make Dr. Bliss an especial object of attack. It is understood that Blackburn will vigorously denounce Garfield's medical treatment.

Cooper, the chairman of Beaver's state committee, has called a meeting of the committee, which is to assemble last Tuesday 11, to devise measures to harmonize the party. What compromise can be adopted that will not be dishonorable, or a back-down for one or the other party, remains to be seen. This move on the part of the state committee shows that they are alarmed, and that Beaver's prospects are very doubtful.

Captain Potter, one of the leaders of the Independent movement from Mitchell's county, and the confidential friend and admirer of the Senator, says there can be no fix up that will prevent the success of the Democratic ticket. It is believed that if the Independent ticket were withdrawn more of the Independents would find their way to Patton than would turn in for Beaver. The expressions on both sides indicate protest of some kind that compromise is out of the question.

A page-boy in Congress, with an invalid mother to support, was assessed $3.50 by the Republican committee, and told that he must pay it or expect to receive his place. Shall not such an act in itself condemn the men who make blood money by votes to defeat the will of the people? It is by such assessments that the Republicans expect to secure a half million dollars to carry Pennsylvania for Beaver or some other compromise man. Let every true and honest Republican who is not contented with such methods by voting for Patton and reform in its pure sense.

Alarmed with the growing discontent of the country with the indefinite postponement of a reduction of the surplus revenue the Republicans in Congress have reconsidered their attitude with the internal taxes and brought in a bill to diminish them twenty-three million dollars. Thereupon the Democrats united for once upon a great revenue question, have proposed to amend by a diminution of eighty-five millions; and this has the merit not only of superiority in amount but of simplicity and of the internal taxes and brought in a bill to diminish them twenty-three million dollars. Thereupon the Democrats united for once upon a great revenue question, have proposed to amend by a diminution of eighty-five millions; and this has the merit not only of superiority in amount but of simplicity and of the

Gen. Beaver has been making speeches since his nomination, yet not in a single one has he touched one of the live issues upon which the people are concerned—simply because he would throw dirt in the eyes of the stalwart bosses who set him up. He has not denounced the star-route thieves and demanded their speedy trial and conviction. He has not opened his mouth against the collection of the 150 millions of surplus internal revenue, which is a shameful robbery of the people. He has not yet had the courage to denounce the Cameron boss system. Why don't Gen. Beaver face the nation? His speeches consist of expressions of disgust of the independents and confidence in his own election, and all that falls flat upon the ears of the voters.

The star-route prosecution has been a mockery up to this time. Any other seconded with one-fourth the guilt, would have been in the penitentiary six months ago. But as the star-route thieves are leading republicans who have stolen millions, the trial has been a sham so far. A Washington correspondent writes: "The star routes to-day are very much discredited over a rumor which circulated among themselves to the effect that it had been officially learned that Judge Wylie had intimated to counsel for the prosecution that unless they made a case by Thursday of next week, he would throw the whole business out of Court. It is well known Judge Wylie, in his mind, has maintained all along that the prosecution has been weak and frivolous. It is not unlikely that the rumor of to-day is substantially correct, as Judge Wylie is anxious to get off on his summer vacation."

The Texas Greenbackers had a high old time in their state convention as we gather from the following: Galveston, Tex., July 1.—A delayed special to the News, dated Fort Worth June 30, says: "On the resumption of the Greenback State Convention last night the questions of the infringement of Congressmen Jones for Governor arose, when a most disgraceful war ensued. Scores of delegates were on the floor at once, all speaking and gesticulating violently. Members shook their fists in the Chairman's face, declaring he had no right to speak. One member crossed the floor backing like a dog. Another man a bell, and considerable profanity was indulged in. At 12 o'clock amid great confusion, the convention adjourned."

"This morning, on the question of the nomination, discord again sprang up, and after three hours' debate harmony was restored. General Weaver, who had addressed the assembly, immediately after the adjournment a ratification meeting was held when speeches of a reckless character were made. One speaker said that before he would work for starvation wages, he would steal. Another said that it might be necessary to shed blood before the Greenback party would be successful, and the speakers were followed by the no vote. About a dozen speeches were made."

HOW PROHIBITION WORKS IN KANSAS.

The Topeka (Kansas) correspondent of the New York Herald reports the results of his investigations in Topeka in relation to the temperance movement in that city. He says that the devices which have been invented in New England to evade the law had been transplanted and are now in successful operation in Kansas. There was no bar room in the hotel, but the porter, in consideration of a dollar and half a night, informed those who "were obliged to have it," managed to get the desired liquor. The porter introduced a cork to a grocer, who sold "matches" at twenty-five cents a box, and the match purchaser was informed that the grocer had the liquor in the back room on the table. The correspondent said: "Near the table stood two men who had just 'taken water,' and behind the cooler, labeled 'water,' I discovered a decanter that was not labeled at all." At another grocery store the author of the platform general cooler, which has a simple and honest face, and which will only give water to the initiated, had a box of matches pushed in a modest button which the wise man who has bought a box of matches pushes before he turns the faucet, and the water flows. The trade in "matches" is large enough to furnish the author of the platform general cooler has not seen anywhere a crowd of noisy drinkers, and in a week's time he has been looking carefully for the effect of the closing of saloons has had the effect of forcing the consumption of liquor at home. So far as prohibition is concerned the law is a failure, and it prohibits certain coarse and glaring interruptions of general sobriety that are common elsewhere. In the opinion of the correspondent the result thus far has been the removal of the temptations to vice of many kinds that bar rooms give to boys. There are no places where the temptations of the saloon are also a strict prohibition law is being fairly enforced. In Ohio the Ford law has been declared unconstitutional and new legislation is being drafted against liquor selling. In Nebraska a law was passed last winter against treating. In Michigan the license law has been increased heavily on the manufacture and sale of all liquors. In Wisconsin the law against treating is being made unconstitutional and the temperance people will make a vigorous fight to carry it. In whatever position the temperance people will make a vigorous fight to carry it. In whatever position the temperance people will make a vigorous fight to carry it.

The Iowa amendment adopted last week simply forbids the manufacture and sale for drinking purposes, of distilled and fermented liquors. It does not forbid the use of such liquors, and is an evasion of the law which the courts could easily defeat. The law in Kansas a strict prohibition law is being fairly enforced. In Ohio the Ford law has been declared unconstitutional and new legislation is being drafted against liquor selling. In Nebraska a law was passed last winter against treating. In Michigan the license law has been increased heavily on the manufacture and sale of all liquors. In Wisconsin the law against treating is being made unconstitutional and the temperance people will make a vigorous fight to carry it. In whatever position the temperance people will make a vigorous fight to carry it.

J. Simpson Africa, who was nominated by acclamation for Secretary of Internal Affairs, was born in Huntingdon, and is now in his fifth year. His father, the late J. Simpson, was a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, and was elected to the office in 1874, but withdrew before the decisive ballot on which William Weaver was nominated. Mr. Clark enjoys an excellent reputation as a citizen and is a good public speaker.

OUR VOTING POPULATION. The Herald's census bulletin just issued enables us to get approximately at the total number of voters in the United States. It shows that the number of males of twenty-one years of age and over in the United States in 1880 was 12,830,340. Of these 11,343,000 were white and 1,487,340 were colored, including Chinese, Japanese and Indians. The total number of males of voting age in the United States was 12,830,340. The total number of males of voting age in the United States was 12,830,340.

CONGRESSMAN BAYNE GIVES ANOTHER BROADSIDE. Washington, July 6.—Between Willie of Kentucky, and Col. Bayne, "My Dear Habbell," to-day got a broadside for their position of the civil service of the country to the lowest partisan of their black and smelly methods of raising the bill for campaign purposes. Bayne, republican, has even more severe than on the former occasion, when he attacked the administration for using patronage to carry primary, control nominations and to nominate candidates in defiance of the will of the people. He arranged the system of assessments to buy up newspapers and other supporters. He allowed the late Simon Cameron's expression that he would vote for an ox if he were on the ticket, and that he would vote for a pig if he were on the ticket. He contrasted Garfield's policy with that of Arthur, and declared that he would vote for Arthur if he were on the ticket. He declared that he would vote for Arthur if he were on the ticket.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET IS ALL THAT ANY HONEST MAN COULD WISH. There is no stomach about the name of any of the nominees, or blemish of character. No bossism, star-routeism or any other "ism" had a hand in the nomination of the democratic state ticket. The democracy in all sections of the state had the ticket with delight, and republicans are forced to admit that it is the embodiment of excellence from top to bottom. It behooves democrats in the different counties to place in nomination local tickets which will prove equally satisfactory. Let the office seeking crowd get on the side, let the men who only cling to party when it is in a majority, to get office, be set down upon. Take old and tried men who stood in the ranks through thick and thin, and who have a character that is clean and spotless like that of the men on our state ticket. Let the democrats of the state have the ticket with delight, and republicans are forced to admit that it is the embodiment of excellence from top to bottom.

EX-GOVERNOR CUTTIN ON PATTON'S NOMINATION. Some one started a falsehood that Gov. Curtin disapproved of Patton's nomination, when in fact he urged it at Harrisburg. The following denial is telegraphed from Washington: Washington, July 17.—Ex-Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania, when shown the item in a New York paper this morning in which he is quoted as disapproving the nomination of Patton for Governor of this State, declared it to be a mistake and unjust to the candidate as well as to himself. He believes the nomination of Patton to be in harmony with the general wish of the party, and that Patton will receive a full party vote, with large republican backing, which will insure his election.

THE FREIGHT HANDLERS STRIKE STILL RAGES IN NEW YORK. The strike of the Clearfield coal miners is considered at an end. There did not seem to be any prospect for harmony by the Wednesday meeting of Cameron's committee, as the independent miner's vote at the ball offered.

GUITEAU.

Incidents of His Execution. Dropping the piece of paper which had been placed in his pained hand at his own request for the purpose he exclaimed, "Glory, glory!" He dropped his head and was broken and died without a struggle. The reverend gentleman who had been present for the purpose he exclaimed, "Glory, glory!" He dropped his head and was broken and died without a struggle. The reverend gentleman who had been present for the purpose he exclaimed, "Glory, glory!" He dropped his head and was broken and died without a struggle.

THE PLATFORM. The democratic party of Pennsylvania, holding fast to the faith that all citizens are equal before the law, and that the rights of personal property and the rights of local self-government, demand the maintenance of the administration of government and the enforcement of the law, and in favor of the protection of the individual citizen against the power of the majority, and in favor of the protection of the individual citizen against the power of the majority, and in favor of the protection of the individual citizen against the power of the majority.
