The cause of malarial disease is said to have been discovered by Professor Laveran, a French physician at Val-de-Grace. It is a very minute organ.

de-Grace. It is a very minute organ-ism, named by him Oscillaria malaria. M. Richard, who announced the dis-covery in the French Academy of Science, has found the microbes in all the fever patients of the Phillippeville hospital in Algeria. These are lo-cated in the red blood corpuscles and completely destroyed their contents. They can easily be rendered visible by treatment with acetic acid, but other-wise it is difficult to detect them in the corpuscles. They look like a neck-lace of black beads, with one or more projections which one or more

The tendency of lime is downward in the earth, for rain takes with it more or less lime whenever it falls, and the kinds of lime most subject to the action of moisture are those that are in the finest possible state of division. Hard lumps that have reverted to limestone are almost useless, and their application is extrav-agance. It is admitted that there are unseen and often unknown agencies According to G.
