Truth.

He who has the truth and keeps it. Keeps what not to him belongs, But performs a selfish action, That his fellow-mortal wrongs.

He who seeks the truth and trembles At the dangers he must brave, Is not fit to be a freeman-He at best is but a slave.

He who bears the truth, and places Its high promptings under ban, Loud may boast of all that's manly,

But can never be a man!

-William D. Gallagher

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED KURTZ, Editor and Proprietor.

TERMS: $2.00 a Year, in Advance.

VOLUME XV.

CENTRE HALL, CENTRE CO., PA., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1882.

NUMBER 47.

The Comet.

The comet! He is on his way, And singing as he flies: The whizzing planets shrink before The specter of the skies; Ah! well may regal orbs turn blue

And satellites turn pale, Ten million cubic miles of head, Ten billion leagues of tail.

On, on by whistling spheres of light He turns not to the left nor right, He asks them not their names

y stood half-outlined. One spurn from his demoniac heel-Away, away they fly, Where darkness might be bottled up tral and shadowy as Guy saw them. In the center of the lighted space And sold for "Tyrian dye."

And what would happen to the land, And how would look the sea, If in the bearded devil's path heavily armed. Our earth should chance to be? Full hot and high the sea would boil,

Full red the forests gleam; Methought I saw and heard it all I saw a tutor take his tube. The comet's course to spy; I heard a scream, the gathered rays

Had stewed the tutor's eye; I saw a fort-the soldiers all Were armed with goggles gree Pop cracked the guns! whiz flew the balls!

I saw a poet dip a scroll I read upon the warning back, "The dream of Beelzebub;" He could not see his verses burn, Although his brain was fried,

To wet them as they dried. I saw the scalding pitch roll down The crackling, sweating pines, And streams of smoke, like waterspout Burst through the rumbling mines; I asked the firemen why they made Such noise about the town: They answered not-but all the while The brakes went up and down.

I saw a roasting pullet sit Upon a baking egg; I saw a cripple scorch his hand Extinguishing his leg; I saw nine geese upon the wing Toward the frozen pole, And every mother's gosling fe'll Crisped to a crackling coal.

I saw the ox that browsed the grass Writhe in the blistering rays, The herbage in his shrinking jaws Was all a fiery blaze; I saw huge fishes, boiled to rags,

Bob through the bubbling brine; And thoughts of supper crossed my soul; I had been rash at mine. Strange sights! strange sounds! Oh. fear

Its memory haunts me still; The steaming sea, the crimson glare, That wreathed each wooded hill. Stranger! if through thy reeling brain Such midnight visions sweep, Spare, spare, oh spare thy evening meal, And sweet shall be thy sleep.

-Cliver Wendell Holmes.

A STRANGE STORY.

CHAPTER I.

"luck" or not, it is certain that care- face was concealed from even the served. less Guy Crawford had found life very slightest view.

branches of the trees, under foot the tured Guy. soaked soil, and all around the dreary came on it had lessened a little, while the wind had increased in power. The said something in a tone so low that lack of wealth deter her."

only dimly discern objects about him; are right," he said.
he had not seen a human face or a huhe had not seen a human face or a hu-have said, and if the song one side of his character stood fully revealed. Guy Crawford would take life cheerfully as it came. He would not pause in a course which opened before him becourse which opened before him becomes a constant of the castern say and the c course which opened before him because of doubts as to the end of it all. But, despite the debonois work as the debonois with the debonois work as the debon

But, despite the debonair way in free. The one who has been spokes you love me, and I will tell you." which he sang of putting scruples to man during the night turns to him as an end, there was a strong undercurtifier. The one who has been spokes—"You will not believe me. You an end, there was a strong undercurtifier." an end, there was a strong undercur- they are ready to move off. rent of principle and honor in the "As our way lies east this morn-course of this man's life, for all the ing, yours lies west. You may go first. manifold ebbs and flows on the sur- Never cross the path of any of us again, face—ebbs and flows which ran to and and be thankful in what the gods sent fro with the varying impulses of cir- you last night there was hope for you.

Guy Crawford would have thought of no alternative. He would have said "fate" at once.

He sang the three lines over again;

Something else touched his forehead; he could not see what it was. His impulse to fight was conquered by its contact, however, for he guessed that it was the muzzle of a revolver.

"Bring a lantern!" said the man who had captured Guy; and a light was more based almost impulsively.

was produced almost immediately.

But little was visible. The rain
We have heard more of him in the have sent you?" frops on the branches shone in the past than we have seen of him. Let light, and, having hung for a moment in brightness, dropped one by one into the blackness; trees and a fence near we heard him something more than a year ago, but much the same as then : There were several horses tied to he fence—horses which looked spec-"Then take whatever the gods may send, Putting to scruples and doubts an end, Is the sensible way to live, my—

"Goodness gracious!" there were two men besides Guy. Both The climax was not unnatural when were evidently disguised and both were eavily armed.

"Come on," said both of them in a cliff, and went over just as he came just told the wonderful story of herjust told the wonderful story of herone on, and one of the cliff, and went over just as he came just told the wonderful story of herone on, and one of the cliff, and went over just as he came just told the wonderful story of her-

"Come on," said both of them in a breath to Guy; and one of them added: Don't you dare to make a noise above a whisper."

The light wentout; a hand rested in anything but a gentle manner on each shoulder, and the philosophical singer was hurried away by his two strange captors.

Guy Crawford was not frightened; he was surprised and startled, but not frightened. He had little money with Guy had done little-except act on him, no valuable jewels, only an old watch, no papers. Robbery would be nothing to him.

He didn't exactly welcome the curious episode in which he was taking an integration on the way down.

Guy had done little—except act on the precept embodied in his favorite song—for the lady would have fallen on the sand but for him, and had already escaped the danger of the rocks on the way down.

Guy had done little—except act on the precept embodied in his favorite song—for the lady would have fallen on the sand but for him, and had laready escaped the danger of the rocks on the way down. ous episode in which he was taking an on the way down. on the way down.

She had, however, or affected to have, a great deal of gratitude, and Guy Crawford always found a smile of through his mind—"Then to take whatever the gods may send"—and the full force of his position, regarded the full force of his position.

as a ludicrous comment on the senti-ment it expressed, burst upon him. The three cousins might look coldly To have saved his life he couldn't have at him; he never knew it. The woman helped it—he laughed out loud! might be more than kind to him; he "You infernal fool!" hissed one of never guessed it. His own heart might the men in his ear. "This isn't funny, even if you think so."

"I know it," answered Guy; "it's Never any of these, until he stood a very solemn and serious affair. But one night with a telegram from his emwhy don't you take my money and ployers in his hand. His vacation, watch at once, and let me go?" which was to have lasted for a month "We don't want your money and longer, must close. He had only one watch, man! We've money and more day to remain.
watches enough, without going hunt- In the light of coming parting he Whether there be such a thing as the way her head was bent; but her wear who found a flaw in the idol she generally a guarantee of friendship. London.

sense about 'taking what the gods sense about 'taking what the gods sense, and we took him at his word, you see, and took him."

The leader laughed—a low, stifled augh that was shut loves a good wonen."

Tricking a Trickster.

One day several years ago an Eastern man dropped into a village in this State and made known the fact that trons forming the other parts of an experiment of the same are considered the correct wear with pale green silk or satin front breadths, paniers and plasses.

his friend there to meet him, but he had been disappointed. Asking the station-master for directions he set out on food for his destination.

It involved walking twenty miles, but he said to himself that he liked how the impatient man with him answered:

"Merely pretends, bedow," "Merely pretends, bedow," "Merely pretends he does," "Merely pretends he does," "I'll open an aunity but my father's feture with a magnificent applique, and the word that a magnificent applique, and the spice again, and as low as be fore; and the impatient man with him answered:

"He'll do, you say? I should hope so, Why, I wouldn't go hunting this priend would send for his baggage, as well as he loved my cousins almost his friend would have a warm well-come for him.

He life of the word that eleaders, named for time from an aunity but my father's fortune was left with strange complete words and the first of the part of his part of the words and the complete words and the complete words and the complete words and the complete words and transportation of mere hand a word word for him.

He poste again, and as low as be fore; and the impatient man with him answered:

"He'll do, you say? I should hope so, Why, I wouldn't go hunting through this black night for another one for tiwe the pary you offer!" The leader spoke again and them an able to live on less than a revolution in the inland transportation of mere hand a word word word for his baggage.

"He'll do, you say? I should hope so, Why, I wouldn't go hunting through this black night for another one for tiwe the pary you offer!" The leader spoke again and them an able to live on less than a revolution to the him has been altered to be sold and the word in the clarks in called in a fellow townsman named he to live and the word in the clarks in the fact that has defined to the him has been arrived to the sold words and the control words and the man and the time fact that a day to see how much business and the words of the dealers, named for the state of black Lyons velve and the word in realized that he was lost. He believed at his funeral who lies here."

"Perhaps so. I can scarcely say it might be midnight now; he could "I know her. I knew him. You how low a man might fall. Which Morning again. Rain still falling, down on her face. But he sang, nevertheless, as we but a break in the clouds low down in have said, and in the song one side of the eastern sky almost lets the sunnever shall," she said.

"What do you mean?"

Be thankful for life this morning.

She was closely veiled. My captors and hers were in disguise. I love you, It is a beautiful morning. Fall has but a minister married me to her. The

He came a step nearer.

you satisfied to take what the gods

CHAPTER III.

Our closing scene is five years later. The marriage which had taken place in that rainy night had been supple-mented by another ceremony—a happy one this time,

The guilty man has died and has confessed his crime. The other two cousins have restored the money that one considers the cause. A lady had ventured too near the edge of the

"Hark," says Clinton, "I hear the dinning at only $2.50 a week.

Mrs. Mary Jacklin, Detroit's

A natural question, dear reader, is it? troit that Mr. Witti intended to make so escape in time if they find they do not long and hazardous a journey. At the agree. The dim light of the stormy night was enough to show white and indistinct masses here and there. Guy recognized them as monuments and headstones. They had entered a cemetery.

The Head Hunters.

A walk of a quarter of an hour—

A walk of a quarter of really that, but seemingly longer—had carried them into what Guy felt was a particularly desolate and retired part of this desolate and retired place. They made a turn in an avenue which was closely hedged with evergreen, and a strange scene lay before them.

A half-dozen lanterns stood on the land in the kine was the country without molestation. He had made an important trip, and was, it is believed, on his way to Kimanus. Near the head of the Sibuco river he would be on the frontier of Dutch Borneo, and in a region where Mr. Carl Bock found the natives unusually savage and unfriendly. Witti had a party of seventeen men. He divided them, administration of seventeen men. He divided them, admortant trip, and was, it is believed, on his way to Kimanus. Near the head of the Sibuco river he would be on the frontier of Dutch Borneo, and in a region where Mr. Carl Bock found the natives unusually savage and unfriendly. Witti had a party of seventeen men. He divided them, added the subtwent of the country without molestation. He had made an important trip, and was, it is believed, on his way to Kimanus. Near the head of the Sibuco river he would be on the frontier of Dutch Borneo, and in a region where Mr. Carl Bock found the natives unusually savage and unfriendly. Witti had a party of seventeen men. He divided them. A half-dozen lanterns stood on the ground or hung from the trees. In the woman before him would shut back the space thus lighted a group of six men and one woman stood near a large men and one woman stood near a large and a traitor sought what she might "Then to take whatever the gods may send, Putting to scruples and doubts an end, Is the sensible way to live, my friend."

So sang a clear voice, with more of nature than cultivation in it. Perhaps there was more of conviction and against the monument. Guy Crawhaps there was more of conviction and acquiescence in it than of music.

Whatever the gods may send, Putting to scruples and doubts an end, Is the sensible way to live, my friend."

So sang a clear voice, with more of nature than cultivation in it. Perhaps there was more of conviction and acquiescence in it than of music.

She stood in a dejected attitude, leaning against the monument. Guy Crawhaps there was more of conviction and acquiescence in it than of music.

The total whatever the gods may send, Putting to scruples and doubts an end, Is the sensible way to live, my friend."

It am going away to-morrow. I are cecived a telegram which makes it imperative."

"Yes," she answered, with much the look that a heathen priestess might the look that a heathen priestess might the look that a heathen priestess might the way who found a flaw in the idol she idon to push on ahead in company with the explorer. The natives. The other men and a traitor sought what she might a two points and a traitor sou But a look of faith in his truth came was to her face as he continued:

"Yes Lam going Lought to have
"Yes Lam going Lought to have less Guy Crawford had found life very good and the world very pleasant while taking "whatever the gods had sent" him.

One old gray-haired man, with a frightened face, stood near her; his hands, too, were bound. The rest of the men were free, were disguised, stimulate one to musical efforts. Overstimulate one to musical efforts overstimulate one to musical efforts. Overstimulate one to musical efforts overstimulate one to musical efforts. Overstimulate one to musical efforts overstimulate well-armed as the two who had capmust tell you I love you—I do; but tured Guy.

must tell you I love you—I do; but latter fell almost immediately. Witti lace below them, while the collars rest defended himself with his revolver and upon the neck without any relief of One of the captors held Guy Craw- "You have not asked me to give killed two of his assailants. The rest white or cream lace above them. One of the captors held Guy Crawmoan of the rain-laden wind.

The rain had fallen all day long in an almost silent torrent. As evening came on it had lessened a little, while the wind had increased in power. The world seemed now one dreary, vacant world seemed a fittle, while the other stepped across you any hope."

"You have not asked me to give you any hope."

"No—nor shall I. I have no right seemed to be the chief. The leader made an impatient movement, and said something in a tone so low that no one but the men to whom he spoke world seemed now one dreary, vacant
world seemed now one dreary, vacant
"I refused each of my cousins to"I refused each of my cousins tothe wind had increased in power. The world seemed now one dreary, vacant realm of night and storm.

Said something in a tone so low that no one but the men to whom he spoke could hear it. He was evidently angry.

The man answered in a louder tone:

"I know it."

"I refused each of my cousins to the attacking party decapitate Witti, while others cut off the lower limbs of the standard flung them, with

But Guy Crawford, wet and weary, cold and in darkness, alone and lost, tramped sturdily on; and as he pressed forward he sang, over and over again:

"Not the right man? How was I wouldn't have supposed more than one man would be tramping about the country on such a night except he was well paid for its essensible way to live, my friend."

Guy Crawford had left the little railroad station at noon. He expected his friend there to meet him, but he had been disappointed. Asking the Smith winked and winked, but Gil-"I don't know which one and I bert insisted on looking over the coats, and a hat, and laying down the $20 he remarked: "Take your pay out of that. I reckon I've saved at least $3 over any other store in town." "Tell me the truth, no matter how grave, with a revolver at my head. Detroit Free Press.

FOR THE LADIES.

Queen Victoria's visit to the south of France this winter will be spent at

The Madeira road at Brighton, in England, has become a great place for ladies on tricycles. There have been 184 women students at Michigan university during 1882. Of this number 110 were in the literary department. Paris is setting women a sensible fashion in dispensing with high-heeled shoes. Flat soles are to be the order reafter, and women will be able to walk without a rotary motion.

It is said that a lady school-teacher n Auburn, Me., during the summer vain Washington, was the mother of forty-four children, only eleven of whom are now alive. In addition to these duties, she was a doctor and surgeon and served through the war with the rank of major.

The competition of young girls for appointment in the English postal service is increasing. At an examination to test the qualifications of applicants there were 800 candidates for thirty places. The salary is very small, be-

Dreeze."

All listen, and up the hill comes the music of a happy and honest heart—
"Then to take whatever the gods may send, Putting to scraples and doubts an end, Is the sensible way to live, my friend."

As the voice ceases Clinton asks,

"Is the song true?"

A reference with success, giving them a liberal education, and has accumulated a fortune of $50,000 in the produce business. She is now sixty-four years old and "smart as a cricket" yet, being well are smart as a cricket.

Taking the United States through watch, man! We've money and watches enough, without going hunting for them on such a night as this. What we want is a man. We want you!"

They walked for a while in a comparatively open road; they turned aside into a narrow path later. At length they climbed a stile and entered an inclosure.

The Head Hunters.

The London Telegraph describes the murder of Mr. Witti, the explorer, by the head hunters of Borneo: Mr. Witti had, it seems, been making his way to the head of the Sibuco river. This region may be considered at present quite beyond the active administration of the British North Borneo company. The Head Hunters.

The London Telegraph describes the murder of Mr. Witti, the explorer, by the head hunters of Borneo: Mr. Witti had, it seems, been making his way to the head of the Sibuco river. This region may be considered at present quite beyond the active administration of the British North Borneo company. The governor was not aware that Mr. Witti intended to make so here is not a large city, says the Phila-

Fancy feathers of every description

Arabesques of satouche are the defended himself with his revolver and upon the neck without any relief of let the brighter features of his past and the dearer hopes of his future shut down so near together in his mind as to make the present almost unreal, was a philosopher, whether he knew it or not.

When night had fallen Crawford realized that he was lost. He believed at his funeral who lies here."

To the woman he said:

"You know this place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not. But my share of haif a million dollars would be a temptation to any scoundrel, wouldn't it?"

Wouldn't it?"

To the woman he said:

"You know this place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not. But my share of haif a million dollars would be a temptation to any scoundrel, wouldn't it?"

Some of the most expensive wraps wide open, and Gilbert walked in and dollars would be a temptation to any scoundrel, wouldn't it?"

"You know this place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not had a million dollars would be a temptation to any scoundrel, wouldn't it?"

"You know this place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not had a million dollars would be a temptation to any scoundrel, wouldn't it?"

"You know this place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not had a million that the hour named. The stranger was in the store with his eyes wide open, and Gilbert walked in and called out:

"You know the place? It is your gaged to one of the others, he loses his share, to be divided among the rest. Two of these men love me. One does not have a million of the most expensive wraps are simply long cloaks of embossed plush or velvet or plain fabrics, with borders of parlor. ot. But my share of half a million ollars would be a temptation to any coundrel, wouldn't it?"

"Say, Smith, I'm coming in to morrow to pay you that $75."

"Wall I might look at an overcoat."

"Wall I might look at an overcoat."

wide open, and Gilbert walked in and called out:

"Say, Smith, I'm coming in to morrow to pay you that $75."

"That's all right," was the reply.

"Wall I might look at an overcoat."

"Wall I might look at an overcoat." and finally found one to suit. Then he helped himself to a pair of boots

A Remarkable Burglar. Mary Morris, a petite fourteen-year old girl, with a remarkably sweet face. He was given about ninety cents in which seemed to beam with childlike change, and walked off with his pur- innocence, was sentenced by a Chicago chases and was not seen again for a court to two years in the house of court "Well, I will. Somewhere in the world I have a wife living. I never saw her, I never expect to know her."

week. The stranger not only did not buy Smith out, but when Smith went fourteen indictments for burglary and to take that $20 out of Gilbert's hide larcency. The judge remarked that it saw her, I never expect to know her, to take that $20 out of Gilbert's hide larcency. The judge remarked that it I married her one night at her father's he was the man who got whipped.— was one of the most astounding cases of which he had ever heard. This girl is the most remarkable burglar of modern times. For the past two years she Scene on railway platform at Hei- has plied her vocation, committing inthe sang the three lines over again; then muttered to himself:
"That's all right; but it is a very natural thing for one to ask himself why in the world Clinton was not at the station?"

It is a beautiful, norming. Fain has but a minister market here there. The state of rankwy plateful at the station form, but it is not late. Many summer tourists will linger at mountain and ocean for weeks yet.

A young man walks along a narrow strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the first that the station?"

Scholer of rankwy plateful at Heise delivery delivery factors in the strip of sand at the strip of sand. Strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the plant of the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the plant of the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the strip of sand at the strip of sand at the strip of sand at the strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, the strip of sand at t why in the world Chiton was not at the station?"

Allow me to tell you that I am at strip of sand. At his right is the ocean, smooth as the summer sea, free from the buffeting hands of the storm, ever dead in the buffeting hands of the storm and the buffeting hands of the storm that for the year 1880-81 the number of wrecks, casualties and collisions on the coasts of the United Kingdom was 3,575, or 1,056 in excess of those of cupies a place which cost $1,000,000. 1879-80, the number of lives lost The taxes alone on this grand establishment are $12,500. She has a dozen

FACTS AND COMMENTS.

Nurses trained in New York hospitals are in great demand to attend the sick. are in great demand to attend the sick. According to an ambulance surgeon, sufferers from accidents or violence ask to be taken to hospitals that have lady nurses; and, as a matter of course, wealthy families secure trained nurses for their invalids. Nursing the sick is an occupation which is not likely to be overdone, though there are now schools for training nurses in most of our large cities. This, however, is not a new thing. In the middle ages women were not only the nurses but the physicians, and Roman Catholic hospitals are still under the charge of nuns.

peans, have at least graduated at the for more than the entire cost of the principal seats of learning in Europe. Further signs of improvement are to be found in the increased employment of Europeans in connection with rail-ways talgraphs are and in the contral park. The old farmhouse still stands, and is occupied by James (Gaddis who have sensibled by ways, telegraphs, etc., and in the recent decree for the assimilation of with vegetables for many years. He has become rich and owns many differ widely among the invalid visidiffer widely among the invalid visitors as to the curative qualities of the water, but all agree that at least a temporary relief is afforded. One of the springs is set apart, at certain hours of the day, for indigent persons, who are allowed to plunge into a pool. This daily gathering of crippled and dying wretches, who have begged their way to this place, is described as a most pitiful spectacle.

Newport, where, however, the same seclusion was maintained. In this way a lifetime passed, and it was one of great activity. James Lenox did a day's work every day, and when death closed his career of fourscore he left a noble record. The funeral was in keeping with his previous habits. The hour was not announced, and there were no invitations. A small circle of kindred assembled, and after the prayer the undertaker conveyed the remains third year after the cuttings are set age this year is 12,000,000 gallons. Some of this will be distilled for brandy, and some drunk at home, but the bulk will be sent Eastward, to be the bulk will be sent Eastward, to be more juxuriously.

tion and so elaborately garnished as to | wagons on this smooth plateway, and be almost as indescribable as some of draw them by steam traction engines a similar character were gone over. I be almost as indescribable as some of the intricate costumes with plaitings, puffs, plastrons, vandykes and other decorative features.

draw them by steam traction tagines to their appointed destination. Passenger traffic is excluded from the scope of the scheme; it is confined entirely to goods, and the anticipation tirely to goods, and the anticipation live well here for what it would cost Down the rainy gale ran his voice again:

"Then to take whatever the gods may send, "Stop your noise!" said a harsh voice at his elbow, and a heavy hand was laid on his shoulder. "Stop your noise."

"Guy Crawford, my name is in that gour service at any time and place."

Traveler—benignantly—"Ah, indeed, that is very kind of you. Just the buffeting hands of the storm, ever becomes. At his left is a low line of cliffs, high in some places. They are workness, with long flanges on the louter edge to keep the wagons on the three it was, except which one of the tree it was, except the coward hirelings who helped him. We have thus far had only the grown and a heavy hand was laid on his shoulder. "Stop your noise."

"Guy Crawford, my name is in that your service at any time and place."

Traveler—benignantly—"Ah, indeed disposed of, the revenue supplying the entire family wants. Eight down and finish his nap on the court that is very kind of you. Just the laid in two parallel rows, with long flanges on the outer edge to keep the wagons on the thouse steps, as they wanted to current the supposed wax figure burst into a metally leave will be laid in two parallel rows, with long flanges on the outer edge to keep the wagons on the track. It is statched for met to the hotel."

Traveler—benignantly—"Ah, indeed, that is very kind of you. Just the story of house steps, as they wanted to current the supposed wax figure burst into a metall plates will be laid in two parallel rows, with long flanges on the outer edge to keep the wagons on the track. It is statched for met to the factory or steamer. The metal plates will be laid in two parallel rows, with long flanges on the court that is very kind of you. Just the story, will only on the court that it is a low line of the revenue supplying the entire family wants. Eight down and finish his nap on the court that is very kind of you. Just the laid in two parallel rows, with long flanges on the total rows and the rest is in most place. The metal plates will be laid in two parallel ro

Modest Benevolence.

Fifth avenue, New York, contains The English Wreck Register shows two ladies of great wealth, each of Persia.

There are ten large bath-houses at Hot Springs, Ark., and the price of a bath varies from lifteen to thirty cents, the latter being the limit fixed by the State government, which owns the springs. An attendant is paid not more than $1 a week. The natural temperature of the water is about 140 degrees, and for bathing it is usually reduced to 100 or a little less. The baths are taken, as a rule, in tubs, placed in a large hot apartment, and separated by low partitions. There is not much luxury in the appliances or surroundings. Vapor baths may be had, but not much in the style of New York establishments. Opinions

There are ten large bath-houses at Hot Springs, Ark., and the price of a bath varies from lifteen to thirty cents, the latter being the limit fixed by the State government, which owns the springs. An attendant is paid not more than $1 a week. The natural temperature of the water is about 140 degrees, and for bathing it is usually reduced to 100 or a little less. The baths are taken, as a rule, in tubs, placed in a large hot apartment, and separated by low partitions. There is not much luxury in the appliances or Surroundings. Vapor baths may be had, but not much in the style of New York establishments. Opinions

The bases sut it is still proud to be gardent er of the Lenox family. James and third of a century in a plain-looking house in the lower part of the avenue. The bouse was different, socially speaching, from any other in New York. The only visitors admitted were the pastor, the plysician and a few family connection. On Sundays, the brother and sister walked over to the church, which stood on the other side of the same avenue. Every one must see daily instances of people who complain from a mere labit of complaining.

While we retain the advenue of except upon proof sufficient to sustain it.

He who selects his companions with care is more likely to make unto himself faithful friends.

Every one must see daily instances of people who complain from a mere habit of complaining.

While we re

The extent of wine making in California astonishes visitors from the last. At the vineyards of San Gabriel, gation that in chediana to the congression of the c fornia astonishes visitors from the East. At the vineyards of San Gabriel, the largest in the State, 500,000 gallons the largest in the State, 500,000 gallons would be delivered. The illustrated wounds the heart; and, like a shaft made from this year's crop of grapes.

The unskilled labor employed is usually refused. However great might be the which, with its own natural force, The unskilled labor employed is usually climates, but the experts are mostly from the wine districts of France and Germany, though Americans learn the process readily. The grapes are stemmed and squeezed by machinery. It had been expected that Lenox would the juice runs into vats, where it ferments sufficiently and is pumped into great butts in the cellars. There it stands until it is clarified by whites of stands until it is clarified by whites of safe fithing trystee all his life because of salt. The patient should be kept as stands until it is clarified by whites of as a faithful trustee all his life, he eggs, isinglass or gelatine, after which it is filtered through charcoal and knows his wishes, and since his death drawn off into casks for shipment. As they have been carefully fulfilled. The o the profits of grape culture, it is cal- income is administered for benevolent culated that the vines will bear in the purposes. third year after the cuttings are set out, give a profit in the fourth, and in the fifth yield enough to pay all expenses, including the cost of the land.

A correspondent of the Chicago News writes that while everything was the set of the cost of the land.

Plate Railway," and, broadly stated, month for my room, with coffee every the proposal is to lay out a series of roadways, radiating from Liverpool to the centers of manufacturing industry the centers of manufacturing industry is that it will be possible to carry them to live poorly at home. Amerithese at a much lower rate than is now cans have not taken advantage of the charged by the railway companies. inducements offered by Dresden or The movement has its origin and motive in the burdensome charges now levied, which have been the subject of levied by large and levied by large le persistent protest by all the commercial bodies of Liverpool. The chief saving will be in the handling of goods.

But to persons in America who have an income from rents or invested capital of say $1,000 a year, the inducements offered by this delightful counterpolar to the comments of The wagons, which will be similar to try are beyond computation. those in general use on ordinary roads except that the axles will be of the same length, will be loaded directly from the steamer or the factory, drawn by horses to the nearest station of the "plateway," and there attached cities grow. He says he went off into to a long line of similar vehicles with the mountains hunting, and, night an engine at its head. Arrived at coming on, he went to sleep in a tree their destination, horses will draw to be out of reach of the wolves. He them to the factory or steamer. The was awakened early the next morning

A correspondent of the American Culticator gives the following as a rule for the location of storms: The wind almost always blows in a circle around a storm, and when it blows from the north the heaviest rain is east of you; if it blows from the south, the heaviest rain is west; if it blows from the east, the heaviest rain is south; if it blows from the west, the heaviest rain is north of you.

Lenox, sister of the philanthropist, who occupies the house built by the latter, when Fifth avenue first became an aristocratic street. She lives alone, with the exception of the servants, but her purpose in life is to carry out her brother's philanthropist, who occupies the house built by the latter, when Fifth avenue first became an aristocratic street. She lives alone, with the exception of the servants, but her purpose in life is to carry out her brother's philanthropic schemes, for which reason he made her sole heir. Old Robert Lenox, the founder of the family, had four children, a son and three daughters. Harriet is the last of the line, which, in her death, will become extinct. She lives alone, with the exception of the servants, but her purpose in life is to carry out her brother's philanthropist, who become extinct. She is, like her late brother, a recluse, but devotes her time yet showed a remarkable turn for be-nevolence, but exercised it in the most According to information furnished private manner possible. The senior According to information furnished by recent numbers of the Ferhan, the journal of Ispahan, civilization is making considerable progress in Persia. A large college, which was completed last year with government aid, has now commenced in earnest among the upper classes of Persian youth, who will have the advantage of tuition at the hands of professors who, if not Europeans have at least graduated at the for more than the entire cost of the houses, but is still proud to be garden-

"I pay twelve marks, or $3, per in cold water until you get ready a de- box or tray placed to hold it in the cencoction of wormwood and vinegar. When the herb is fresh gathered po

Other adventures and experiences of

A Western man has been telling

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

The great red spot which has been visible on the surface of the planet Jupiter for several years is reported to be growing fainter, and the early disppearance of this remarkable object seems imminent.

Experiments conducted between Munich and Miesbach have proved conclusively that electrical energy capable of being converted into mo-tive power can be sent over an ordinary telegraph wire.

nave of the pavilion of the exhibition at Trieste also damaged the electric light apparatus. A man, while en-gaged in repairing it, accidentally re-ceived the full discharge of the electric current, and was killed on the spot. Heat and light are identical in character, though different in degree. All solid bodies become self-luminous at the same temperature, which is about 1,000 degrees. When the body is raised to the temperature of 1,000 degrees it emits red rays; at 1,200 degrees, orange rays; at 1,300 degrees, yellow rays; at 1,500 degrees, blue rays; at 1,700 degrees, indigo rays, and at 2,000 degrees, said the youth, "but I can sit of the same temperature, which is about 1,000 degrees. A young gile as they now say, nickel-plated of New York ordered a pair of loons of his tailor and returned the same temperature, which is about 1,000 degrees. The difference: A young gile as they now say, nickel-plated of New York ordered a pair of loons of his tailor and returned the same temperature of 1,000 degrees, orange rays; at 1,300 degrees, yellow rays; at 1,500 degrees, indigo rays, and at 2,000 degrees, which is about 1,000 degrees.

In warm-blooded animals the heart's action ceases in a very few minutes after the destruction of the nervous centers, or after the circulation of the blood in its own vessels is by any means arrested. Not so with cold-blooded animals, however, as the heart of one of them may continue to beat for many hours after it has been emptied of blood, and even after it has been cut out of the chest. The pulsations of the heart of an eel have been seen to continue for six hours after separation from the rest of the body; of a torpedo, for nine hours; and of a salmon, for twenty-four hours.

WISE WORDS.

It is sad but true that we can silence ur conscience easier than our de-variation was the summer residence in another man's things than our own. enjoy of the great things that they toe in lieu of a nasal organ, and vice ess there would not be much envy in the world. A more glorious victory cannot be gained over another man than this, that when the injury began on his part the kindness should begin on onnection is the observation that by quiet as possible.

For a scald or burn, apply immediately pulverized charcoal and oil. Lamp oil will do, but linseed is better. For chapped lips mix two table-spoonfuls of clarified honey, with a few drops of avender water or any other perfume, and anoint the lips fre-lock's gall and keep it in a bottle; rub a little on the warts two or three times a day and in a short time they Don't sleep in a draught; don't go to bed with cold feet, and don't eat what you do not need just to save it, are

To remove warts, get a little bul-notes of warning sounded by Dr. Foote's Health Monthly. Charcoal forms an unrivaled poulalso invaluable for what is called proud flesh. It is a great disinfectant It sweetens the air if placed in shall low dishes around the apartment, and foul water is also purified by its use. For bruises or sprains bathe the part decoction and bind on the herb,

Miss Van Zandt, the American ima donna, who has won such enviable honors in Paris, was lately the heroine of a little comedy at the Musee Grevin. She went to that famous gallery of wax figures with her mother and some friends, and, seeing a vacant niche draped with red curtains, in a room where there were no other visitors than her own party, slipped into it, gave her friends monitory glance, and sat still. The curtains were drawn so that only her bust and head were visible. Pretty supercilious and altogether superior lady came along, viewed the dainty features, fair locks and sparkling eyes features, fair locks and sparkling eyes and then said: "So this is Mlle. Van Zandt, is it? Ouite pretty, but no like-

Iron chess-boards and chessmen with sold in Berlin for the convenience of

Charming frankness; "You have lovely teeth, Ethel." "Yes, George," she fondly lisped; "they were a Christmas present from Aunt Grace,"-When a man gets into a fit of to per, do not allow his example to come contagious, for there is a against counter fits.—Boston Ta

It is said that trained dre evening wear are coming back favor. It is very evident that if were not trained it would be very The hurricane which destroyed the for the wearers to manage th Lowell Citizen.

First masher: "Well, did you the acquaintance of that strange you were raving over?" Second d "Yes, followed her home." First "How did she strike you?" ditto: "She didn't at all; she g big brother to do it."-Phi The difference: A young gilded ( my skin and I can't in thes It was at the house of th parents after the wedding. Of were exposed the costly preser gentlemen were examining those suddenly: "These, you

Giving and Gaining Though the river to the sea

Is forever flowing—
Though the blossom greets the bee,

Still the river floweth fleet-

In her wise ordaining:

Who withholds hath empty hands.

HUMOR OF THE DAY.

It may be set down as an axiom that when a person grows fat he grows waistful,

Late in life George Washington rode in his own carriage, but in his earlier years he took a hack at the cherry

We sneer at the Siamese for worshiping the elephant; but think of the money that is paid here annually just to see it;—Salurday Night.

Still the rose's heart is sweet. 'Tis the grand eternal law, Giving is but gaining; Nature knows no single flaw the bride's presents, but what de groom get?" "Oh," replied the "he gets the woman." First g man: "Is that all? Poor fello Boston Transcript.. A chicken at Allian During the night the car was attach to a train, and when the feathered bird descended from his unsteady perch he failed to recognize the scenes of his childhood. He was in Lima, Indiana, and the man in whose garden the fowl went to scratching got into a fight with the whole neighborhood by accusing everybody of owning the bird .- Boston Journal. Genius makes its observations in shorthand; talent writes them out at length.

This country may not be ready to go to war with a foreign power on a day's notice, but she could soon find a substitute for cannon balls, provided No accusation should be advanced except upon proof sufficient to sustain it.

The best penance for envying and if they were fired from a cannon at the

If we did but know how little some | ror when he found a well developed versa. Now, whenever he gets a cold, in order to blow his nose .- Baltimor Agricultural Wonders.

Stalks of wheat six feet high, with eads six inches long, are the pride of What an argument in favor of social | California farmers.

> the South was on exhibition in North Carolina. It is forty-seven inches long. The corn crop of Texas this year is estimated at 140,000,000 bushels. The value of the agricultural products of that State is $94,071,998.

the root to the ear.

The largest tobacco leaf reported this season was grown by John C. Dougherty, of Laneaster county, Pa. It is forty-six inches long and twenty-William Pfeiffer, of Gunpowder, Md., exhibits a stalk of corn measuring sixteen and a half feet from the root to the top, and ten feet two inches from Griffin, Ga., has the largest peach orchard in the South, containing 50,-000 trees and covering nearly acres. Four hundred grafted a trees and 5,000 pear trees stand on the There are 12,000 head of Jersey cat tle on the Isle of Jersey and 6,000 on the Isle of Guernsey. The exportations from both are nearly 3,000 head per year. Several hundred come to the United States. A rose bush bearing over 1,000 buds s the pride of a garden in Charlestown, Mass. It is thirty-five years old, and it covers over 100 square feet of ground. A single stem had sixteen less were quite numerous. Smokers of cigars in the cafes in some parts of Germany make it a rule to cut off carefully the end of the cigar before proceeding to smoke it, and to deposit the piece so severed in a metal ter of the room. The trays are placed in the cafes by a benevolent society the leaves, wet with vinegar, and bind on, and when the herb is dry put it in the vinegar and let it boil a short time; then bathe the bruise with the year: The statistics furnished by nineteen of the branches in the Rhenish provinces show that in 1881 no less than 4,500 pounds of tobacco were collected in this way. This was sold for £1,200, a sum which sufficed to provide an outfit for over 1,700 poor children at an expense of about fifteen shillings each. The branches of the society are steadily increasing in number, and have doubled within the last monitory glance, and sat still. The curtains were drawn so that only her bust and head were visible. Pretty soon visitors thronged in. "See," said one, "there is a new figure, Mile. Van Zandt. What a good likeness!" A group gathered round, expressing, some admiration, others disapproval, the fair singer meanwhile keeping perfectly still. At last a languid, supercilious and altogether superior latest convention met in Brunswick. A growing every year, and it is thought that if they keep on increasing in the same ratio future conventions may find

A little three-year-old, in admiring her baby brother, exclaimed: "He's got a boiled head like papa.'