Salem, a town eight miles north of Greensburg, boasts of twenty widows, all owning their own residences, says an exchange. Well, Centre Hall has some 33, and all nice and nicely fixed for one who has not got where to lay his head.

The demand for goods at the Pennsylvania Bargain store, had near cleaned it out; but people can keep up the rush, at the same bargains, for Dinges keeps up the supply with new stock.

A son of Chas. Hoserman, dec'd, aged about 11 years, who with his little brother was attending school at Loydsville, Perry county, died last week. The remains were brought home to his grandfather, John Geistwite, near Aaronsburg, for burial.

Since the holidays there has been a considerable reduction in the price of overcoats and all ready-made clothing at the Philad. Branch. It seems as though Lewins intends to come down to prices that scarcely leave him any profit at all. Still, selling much at small profits counts too, and that is the plan Lewins conducts his business on.

The Lewistown Gazette, 27th, ult., says: Edward Treaster, living in the old school house above the Reedsville railroad station, who has shown signs of insanity for a short time past, attempted suicide last night, first by cutting an artery by shooting himself in the head. He is lying in a critical condition, the ball not doing its fatal work.

Don't forget, you that wish to begin housekeeping in the spring, that the solidest, best-made, and most stylish furniture can be purchased at Brackbill's old stand for much less money than elsewhere in this state. The stock embraces everything needed for parlor, sitting-room, bed-room or kitchen.

A FINE TREAT.

The entertainment in the Lutheran church of this place, on Christmas evening proved as interesting as it was successful. The audience was the most packed of any yet assembled here—every available space, even the windows, were taken up, the vestibule was full and great numbers had to go away not being able to get into the church at all. The character of the main features of the exercises was new here, and the exercises of the Christian crosses and monograms were both new and original, and specially prepared for the occasion by Mr. Fred'k Kurtz. The building of the monument to the eight graces was probably produced for the first time in this county, and was under the management of Rev. Fischer. The graces were represented, each with a block, by the following ladies dressed in white.

- Miss Mary Kralcher.....Faith.
Mary Emerick.....Virtue.
Joanna Atherton.....Knowledge.
Ellen Harper.....Temperance.
Rebecca Derstine.....Patience.
Iulda Richard.....Godliness.
Kate Harpster.....Brotherly Kindness.
Flora Neff.....Charity.

The base of the monument was 20 inches square, each succeeding block 2 inches less than the one below it. When complete the structure was grand and imposing—the blocks were white with edges trimmed in green, each with its appropriate lettering. This exercise was preceded by a brief introductory address by Rev. Fischer. As each lady put her block in place, she recited an appropriate passage from the N. T. The infant class, in charge of Mr. Wm. Wolf, then engaged in short responsive exercises, in which the little boys and girls did themselves great credit for promptness and accuracy.

The Creed, the Gloria Patri, responsive reading by the entire school, led by Rev. Fischer and Mr. Derstine, were among the opening features of the entertainment. The exercises of the Crosses and Monograms came in at the close. The exercises were opened by brief introductory remarks by Mr. Kurtz, on the origin and history of the Cross and its purposes. These symbols and emblems were then exhibited and their historical meaning briefly explained by the following ladies respectively, all in white dresses:

- Miss Sadie D-ininger.....Latin Cross
Annie Harpster.....Great Cross
Amanda Krumbine.....Cross of Jerusalem.
Mary Flory.....Tau Cross
Sadie Grirer.....Maites Cross
Annie Runkle.....Emblem of Christ
Lilly Shoop.....Monogram of Jesus
Estie Miller.....Cross of Constantine
Sadie Ros.....Monogram of Constantine
Buelah Brisbin.....Cross of Iona
Flora Neff.....St. Andrew's Cross
Annie Dinges.....Emblem of the Trinity.

As these emblems were exhibited in the above order they were placed upon a great triangle front of the pulpit by Mr. John T. Tee, and the ladies facing the audience, took position along the platform, themselves reciting the emblems, first the Tau, then the Latin cross, with seven small boys for transom, who recited appropriate verses as they took position, to which was added a circle the emblem of Heaven and Eternity, of four little girls and four boys, which combination remained standing until the choir had sung an appropriate hymn. The effect was grand and imposing.

The exercises all through were interspersed with fine music by the choir. There was singing by the infant class which was charming. J. W. Wolf officiated at the organ and had the musical part of the program in excellent training. The pulpit was handsomely decorated by the ladies with profusion of plants and flowers, flanked on each side by a palm tree. The most admirable order was preserved, by the large crowd, throughout.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

The Lutheran church edifice at Zion, Centre county, Penn'a, is now finished and will be dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, on 7th of January, 1883, at 10 a. m. Rev. Reimenneyer, of Lewistown, Rev. Steck, of Bellefonte, and Rev. Koser, of Pine Grove Mills, will be present to assist the pastor loci on the occasion. All neighboring ministers are most cordially invited.

C. W. SECHRIST.

The Christmas entertainment in the Lutheran church of Boalsburg, was a complete success in every particular. At the conclusion of the interesting exercises by members of the Sunday school, the three large Christmas trees were ransacked of their profuse and beautiful gifts, bringing gladness to many a young heart. A tremendous audience attended, which completely thronged the church, aisle and chancel. It was a merry Christmas to the Boalsburg Sunday school.

Some people do not feel any too hunky about the stomach, since the holidays. Reason—too much unwholesome food—those who got their good things at Sechler's grocery, pure, fresh and cheap, have had no need to call in the physician, altho' they ate their fill, and enjoyed it all thro' the holidays. Moral—always purchase your groceries at Sechler's if you would be on the safe side.

Mr. S. Strayer, of Fillmore county, Nebraska, writes us, Dec. 20, '82: Have 70 acres of corn which will average 55 bushels per acre. We had fine weather here all fall, no cold weather yet, and no snow, save some to show a little white on the ground. This is undoubtedly the best climate I ever saw—not much snow at any time in winter and little cold weather. Our markets are, wheat from 50 to 70; rye 60; barley 60; corn 25; hogs $5 per 100.

Brackbill, the oldest furniture manufacturer and dealer in central Pa., guarantees satisfaction in all goods put out by him, and at prices far below other furniture stores. Brackbill keeps the best of home and city-made goods, and has the largest assortment from plain to the most elegant and high priced. He can suit all classes wanting furniture, and deals honorably with his customers.

John Lambert, once a well-known landlord at Aaronsburg, and late of Middleburg, has made sale there, and gone to take the landlording at Millertown.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The Centre Co. Teachers' institute opened its 36th annual session in the court-house, at Bellefonte, on Tuesday, Dec. 23, lasting all week. We believe it was the best attended, best conducted and most interesting institute yet held in this county, which is owing to the high educational talent which Sup't Wolf engaged for the occasion. The institute appeared to us to be full of usefulness to teachers and to others, and the uniformly large attendance was evidence that the exercises were appreciated by all in attendance.

The corps of instructors and lecturers was as follows: George G. Groff, of Lewisburg University, Prof. of Nat. History, on physical geography, physiology and hygiene, with charts, manikins, &c. Prof. H. K. Sanford, Sup't of Middletown, N. Y., on arithmetic, school management, &c. G. W. Atherton, Pres. State College, on education and mental science. Prof. G. E. Little, of Washington, D. C., drawing and penmanship. Prof. Osmond, Penn'a State College, on astronomy and physics. Prof. W. A. Krise, of Gregg twp., on methods of instruction. Prof. Heston, State College, a paper on reform in spelling. Prof. Higbee, State Sup't, could not be present on account of illness.

Most of the instruction was accompanied with charts, diagrams, and such apparatus as tended to make the various subjects plain and rivet attention. The exercises were enlivened at intervals by vocal and instrumental music. The Bellefonte orchestra discoursed fine music during some of the sessions. We congratulate our friend, Sup't Wolf, upon the eminent success of this, his first institute—for really, we felt that it was good for us to have been there.

We were surprised last week to notice what a great falling off there was in the stock of overcoats and all other ready-made clothing at the Philad. Branch, during the holidays. This proves the good judgement of the people, they go where they can buy cheap and genuine goods, for which Sam'l Lewins, the proprietor, has gained a reputation and a big trade. The stock, however, has been replenished since, and Lewins is ready again for all demands, with another slight reduction in the already low prices.

From this on to spring prices on all kinds of goods—dress-goods, clothing, notions, canned goods, boots and shoes, will be offered at reduced rates, to make all possible room for new stock in the spring. All kinds of produce wanted. Dinges always gives farmers the highest market prices for produce.

A Post of the G. A. R. was organized at Rebersburg about two weeks ago, and mustered in on Thursday evening of last week. After the ceremonies the members treated the visiting officers to an oyster supper, and had quite a pleasant time. The Post is named "W. W. Bierly Post."

Lewins beats the world for selling clothing low. He keeps the best and largest stock always, and warrants goods as represented, or money refunded. Try the Philad. Branch for a real bargain, and you won't regret it.

We are sorry to learn that failing eyesight has obliged Mr. George Fryinger, of the Lewistown Gazette, to retire from that paper. The Gazette has been leased to George F. and James S. Stackpole, whom we welcome to the corps editorial.

Mr. Jonathan Wolf, of Miles, while at work in setting out saw logs near Paddy Mt. tunnel, Thursday, 21 ult., was seriously hurt by being jammed between two logs. While working at a log another above rolled down, and fastened him between the two.

John Weaver, of this place, has purchased a property near Farmer's Mills, and will occupy it in the spring. Our people will be sorry to lose him.

Mr. Jonathan From, of this place, while shooting mark, on 22 ult., by some accident had a piece of shell put through the fleshy part of his hand near the thumb.

Weather cold, but not severe. About 2 inches of snow on Monday evening, but it did not coax out any sleigh bells.

Rev. J. K. Miller, of this place, was presented with a fine silver watch, by his friends here as a Christmas gift. Subscribe for the Reporter at once.

PERSONAL.

Prof. Groff, of the Lewisburg University, remained with us over Sunday, while on his way to the Teachers' Institute, where he was one of the leading and most entertaining instructors, his subjects being physiology, botany, chemistry, etc.

John Shoop, of Will county, Ill., who left this section 16 years ago, has returned for the first time since he left, and has noticed many changes here. We were pleased to have a call from Mr. Shoop, Jan. 1.—Wheat No 1 red 1 00@1 19 No. 1 white 90c Corn 60c Barley 80c Oats 45c

Prof. P. H. Meyer, of Linden Hall, called upon the Reporter. The Prof. had a most successful musical convention at Rebersburg.

Mr. John Coldren and Mr. Sam'l Harter, of Gregg, and Mr. Silver, of Centre Hill, were callers at the Reporter office.

Mr. A. F. Krape has returned from Missouri and gave us a call. Mr. Jas. Leitler, the well known auctioneer, at Spring Mills, called on Tuesday.

Eq. Reinfelder, of Millheim, also honored us with a call.

A HANDSOME PRESENT.

On Tuesday last Mr. Sam'l Harter and Mr. John Coldren, of George's valley, brought to our town a handsome sleigh, and much to the surprise of the pastor, Rev. W. E. Fischer, made him a present of it, as a token of esteem from the George's valley congregation. The sleigh is really elegant in finish, cozy as well as substantial and neat, and it is just such a present as will cheer up a pastor, and make him feel that his earnest labors are appreciated. The George's valley congregation has done itself credit in this matter, and put the sleigh to the right place. The sleigh came from the shop of J. C. Condo, Penn Hall.

A happy New Year to all.

There was a big rush, during the holidays, for goods at cost, at the Brockerhoff store, still there is a supply left, and the sale at cost will continue until all is sold.

We have only had one day's sleighing (on Thanksgiving) so far this winter. Weather has been cold all along, however.

The law does not forbid hunting after January 1st, as many suppose—it only forbids the shooting or killing of deer. You can "hunt" as much as you please, however.

Mr. Jacob Richard has sold his horse and lot, in this town, to Mr. H. C. S. Irk, and thinks of moving to Michigan in the spring.

Rev. J. K. Miller, of this place, has accepted a call from the Logansville Lutheran church, and as we understand, will move to that place in the spring. Rev. Miller and his estimable family will be greatly missed here.

We are indebted to our friend John D. Decker, of the Seven Mrs., for a savory piece of venison. Within the last few weeks Mr. Decker and his sons had the good luck to kill five fine bucks—two were five and one six-pronged—the two 5 prongers weighed 182 lbs. each. These deer were all killed within two miles of Mr. Decker's home. If any other family can show a better record, this season, than the Decker's, the Reporter is ready to hear of it.

The sale of the farm of Joseph Shirk, dec'd, has been postponed to January 6.

The Lutheran congregation of Millheim realized $300 from the ladies' festival Christmas week. Much credit is due to such active workers as Mrs. Susan Harter, and others, for the success of the festival.

While John S. Schrack, a wealthy farmer living near Lewisburg, and some friends were on a hunting expedition on Friday last, their wagon upset on the rough mountain road and one of the guns accidentally discharged its contents into Mr. Schrack, inflicting injuries from which he died soon after.

The axe factory of Messrs. Mann & Sons, at Mill Hall, has shut down for a short time. Recently the firm manufactured a greater number of saws than the demand called for. Hence the present discontinuance of work.

The Masonic fraternity had a grand dinner at Meyer's hotel, in this place, on New Year's night. The table was filled with the best, and the guests who numbered 70, sat down to a princely meal, and did the inner man justice. Representatives of the Bellefonte lodge were present, and participated in the festivities.

The North American Review for January opens with a symposium in which three of the most prominent advocates in this country of the "Revision of Church Creeds," namely Rev. Dr. Newman Smyth, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher and Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, set forth the grounds upon which such revision is demanded, and in a defense of revealed religion against the encroachments of skepticism, and as an adjustment of the relations between faith and science.

"University Education for Women," a question that just now is being warmly agitated both here and in England, is discussed by Prof. W. Le Conte Stevens, who, though he zealously advocates the measure, commands the attention and respect of its opponents by the eminent fairness with which he states the adverse arguments. Prof. Isaac L. Rice gives a definition of Liberty, deduced from a profoundly philosophical study of the phases of political evolution, from the earliest Anglo-Saxon times to the present day. "American English," by Gilbert M. Atlantic, is a spirited defense of our classic fashion of English speech against the aspersions of sundry British critics. The Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas writes an article that can hardly fail to strike a sympathetic cord in many a mind, on "The Responsibility of Progressive Thinkers." "Bigotry in the Medical Profession" by Dr. David Hunt, is a protest from the pen of a respected member of the medical profession, against the First Commandment of medical ethics, which forbids association with any but regular practitioners. Finally Charles T. Congdon under the singular apt-title of "Adulation of Intelligence" exposes some of the grave evils to be apprehended from the monopolization of telegraphic lines, press associations and financial public journals. Published at Lafayette Place, New York.
