DR. JOHN F. HANCOCK, late President of the National Phar-maceutical Association of the United States, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters has a heavy sale, is conceded to be a fine tonic; the character of the manu-facturers is a voucher for its purity and medicinal excellence."

Dr. Joseph Roberts, President Baltimore Pharmaceutical

"I indorse it as a fine medicine, reliable as a strengthening tonic, free from alcoholic poisons."

Dr. J. Faris Moore, Ph. D., Professor of Pharmacy, Baltimore Pharmaceutical College, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a safe and reliable medicine, positively free from alcoholic poisons, and can be recommended as a tonic for use among those who oppose alcohol."

DR. EDWARD EARICKSON, Secretary Baltimore College of Pharmacy, says:

"I indorse it as an excellent medicine, a good digestive agent, and a non-intexicant in the fullest

Dr. RICHARD SAPINGTON, one of Baltimore's oldest and most reliable physicians, says:

"All who have used it praise its standard virtues, and the well-known character of the house which makes it is a sufficient guarantee of its being all that is claimed, for they are men who could not be induced to offer anything else but a reliable medicine for public use."

A Druggist Cured.

Boonsboro, Md., Oct. 12, 1880.
Gentlemen: Brown's Iron Bitters cured me of a bad attack of Indigestion and fullness in the stomach. Having tested it, I take pleasure in recommending it to my customers, and am glad to say it gives entire satisfaction to all."

GEO. W. HOPPMAN, Druggist.

Ask your Druggist for Brown's IRON BITTERS, and take no other. One trial will convince you that it is just what you need.

Document: Mesers Scabury & Johnson, Manufactur-ing Chemists, 31 Platt St., New York : Gentlemen :- For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Perous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Parmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognised by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Bouson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use sheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Elec-trical Magnetic toys.

Editorial Rooms. The scene representing an editorial room difficulty in Milton Nobles' play of "Interviews" is very funny, but it is greatly exaggerated. The popular impression that an editorial room is a constant battle-ground, that the editors are being incessantly hounded for copy, that indignant subscribers rush in with complaints and horsewhips, that the editor is a persecuted creature— is all a fallacy. The average editorial room is a very quiet sort of a place—a spot where loafers are seldom tolerated, and where disturbances very infrequently occur.— The idea that the foreman is inveterately howling for copy is an erroneous one, invented probably by some amateur journalist, long ago, who did not know that all well regulated editors make it one of the important details of their business never to let the printers stand and charge time. The editorial room is not a luxurious spot, but it is invariably comfortably quiet. It is especially a rare field for the study of character. In the course of a brief year every phase of human nature passes before the eye of the editor in his sanctum, and it is there that the cant and hypocrisy of humanity are most frequently self-exposed .-The hollowness and rottenness of politicians are first detected by the editor, for the politician has a confidant in the edilor. And it is so with merchants, lawyers, preachers, and every manner of man who steps into the editorial sanctum. If they are weak and hypocritical the editor is the first to discover it, for the editorial room is a sort of a disrobing room for the rest of the world-a chamber where people come and lay off their masks and toggery, and display their blemishes and weaknesses. those who are in the secrets of the sanctum it is no wonder that editors are invariably the most confirmed of cynics. -Denver Tribuae.

Etiquette.
Etiquette is not as strict as it once was-as when, if a courtier sat on a redhot stove by mistake, he had to roost there-and it is good form to compliment your hostess when she gives you a CARRIAGES, nice dinner. The Chinese, who think we are uncivilized, and that their table demeanor is perfect—claiming all things as they do, will probably claim they have taught us this. It is simply what the Kansas folk call "dead common sense." In China no conversation is allowed except upon remarks upon the food-complimentary, of course-as, for example, to the host:

"Oh, Beaming Sun, essence of gentility, deign to allow the miserable worm at your feet to remark (casually) that this chow-chow is prime!" or words to that effect.

In China all plunge chop-sticks, after a flourish in the air, at once, and it is horrid form to finish before anyone else

In India, especially in Lucknow, they are excruciatingly polite. Two natives once upon a time, fell into a ditch. You think they floundered out in a twink-ling? They didn't anything of the kind. Politeness interferred; one said: "When your honor rises, then I may

"No, your honor must get up first,"

"How can I take precedence of your honor? Never!" Neither would consent to violate the laws of good breeding, and I fear they are lying there yet. People who ask you to take part in amateur theatricals are not troubled in this way; they sometimes act as if missionary work were needed among them -they ask you to take a part and then make a "super" of you. - Qniz.

A London Club Story. Talking about swagger, too much of this commodity has lately brought to grief a certain member of a well-known good third-rate London club. This gen-tleman is not only a confirmed "tufthunter," but one who, so far from admitting that any member of the "upper ten" could by any accident be unknown to him, is always ready to boast of close and intimate friendship with everyone who happens to have either rank or position. His failing is notorious; and three humorists determined to give him a lesson. Accordingly in the club billiard-room, one of their number, Mr. C. casually said: "Are you going to Lady L"'s to-night?" "No," replied the victim; "her ladyship will never forgive me; but the fact is I am fagged out, and good people are scarce, I think." "Quite right: "I'll make your apologies," said Mr. C.

Aghast at this unlooked-for proposition, but unable now to retreat from the position he had taken up, the only rejoinder of Mr. J. was a feeble Thanks; I wish you would." Half an hour later, just as the trio were about to leave the club, unhappy Mr. J. drew Mr. C. aside, and, after some beating about the bush, was at last obliged to confess that he did not know Lady L., and begged Mr. C. not to mention his name to her. " "All right," said his triumphant tormentor. "I won't; you may depend upon that, for I don't happen to know her myself!" - Quiz.

The Bad and 1-13. Worthless Are never imitated SEE ALTON or counterfeited.

This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously cunningly devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits.

Beware of them. Touch none of them, but: Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.
