SPRING MILLS.

Since my last writing we have had quite an ice flood. Last Sunday a week the ice on Sinking Creek gorged and was thrown out over the road; in places it had to be removed before the road could could be traveled. The foot-log across Penns Creek opposite Henry Krumrine's is almost impassable, and the props under the bridge below Dr. Vanvalzah's were torn out and had to be repaired on

Our friend Ralf Spiglemeyer, while out sleighing, had a mishap; his horse ran off and jumped into John A. Grenoble's lot, breaking the fence down and smashing the sleigh all to pieces. John Long's horse seeing the fuss thought it a free pitch in and ran off too. The result -another smashed up sled.

Fred Krumrine and Sam'l Leitzel, while on their way home from the concert on Friday night, in front of Mr. Alexander's, undertook to pass a sled. Fred ran a little too high up the bank, and both were thrown out. Leitzell got some serious bruises but Fred was not much hurt. Their horse ran off and broke up the sleigh.

The grain market seems brisk, and J. D. Long is doing a fair share of it too. It keeps Charley Krape pretty busy attending to the many customers at G. A. Runk's warehouse. C. D. Q.

The Commissioners, it appears, take the ground that the Borough is asking for too an expensive a structure, but are disposed to furnish a bridge in keeping with othamong the children in the vicinity of er county bridges put up by them. The attorneys presented the enormous debt of the Boro' and its consequent inability to contribute anything toward a new bridge. Mr. Fortney argued the case in behalf of the Commissioners and the county. The board, we are informed, is of a mind to erect a bridge in keeping with bridges put up in other parts of the county by them.
