Spring Mills, Pa,

LOCAL ITEMS.

——Deckertown, in White Deer valley, has small-pox cases.

——J. S, Erie, Pa.,—you are still sound in the democratic faith, as per your note.

——Uriah Moyer will be hung at Middleburg, March 7. Wm. Kurtz, formerly local on the REPORTER, will be present at the execution as reporter for the Middleburg press.

——Don't make a purchase of furniture before looking in on Camp's stock, else you may regret it.

——Brown's new grocery, on Bishop street, is becoming a favorite place for family groceries with all housekeepers. Low prices draws the trade. Try Brown when in Bellefonte.

——Farmers will bear in mind that all country produce can be disposed of to great advantage at the Pennsvalley Bargain store; and if they want pure and fresh groceries, Dinges always has 'em.

——On last Friday night a horse belonging to John Neff, of this place, got loose in the stable, and had a leg broken by a kick from another horse and had to be killed in consequence next morning.

——Two good citizens of Potter, last week, passed from time to eternity—one, father Heimbach, who had been ill for more than a year; the other Mr. Jonathan Royer, who suffered much for the last 18 months from abscesses.

——The venerable Peter Wilson, of Spring Mills, this week celebrates his 85 birth day, by a family reunion, which has been a custom with that family for some years. Mr. Wilson, we are pleased to say, is still in the enjoyment of good health, and with his mental faculties unimpaired. Mr. Wilson was 85 years old last Sunday. 18. He is still superintendent of the Spring Mills Sunday school which he assisted in organizing Sept. 8, 1828.

—— Gen. J. P. Taylor has entered suit in the court of common pleas of Philadelphia against the Peoples' Railway Company for the recovery of damages for the fatal injuries sustained by his wife, on the charge of reckless and immoderate driving. We are informed that the bill of expenditures for treatment of Mrs. Taylor, medical and other, were upwards of $6000, and that for amputation of the limb newas charged $500.

——Lorne, the husband of princess Louise, flirts with Mrs. Don Cameron. The marquiss looks so tidy and handsome in his suit got at the Philad. Branch, that all the Washington ladies are half crazy over Victoria's son-in-law. Beecher once truly said, that it is not dress that makes the man, but when the man is made, he looks better when dressed up.

The Treasurer of Clearfield county one day last week received a check for $600, marked "conscience money," from some unknown conscience struck individual.

While cleaning up the granary on the premises of the late Joseph Clewell, at Catawissa, Mr. Charles Clewell found in a barrel of screenings a sack containing $700 in old gold and silver coin. Let every farmer who reads the REPORTER clean up his granary.

——Mr. Jacob Richard, long a citizen of this town, intends moving to Michigan in the spring. His sale will be found advertised in another column.

——We understand our friend H. I. Barnes is about to open store in the Stone Mill stand. If this is true the people in the upper end of the valley can depend on getting their store goods right, as Mr. Barnes can buy and sell goods with any one in the county.

——We still have assurances that our railroad is to be completed in the near future. The fact that a corps of Penn'a railroad engineers are now locating the route between Bellefonte and Lemont, gives us strong hope that there is reality about the matter at last.

The "North American Review" for March opens with an article on "Money in Elections," by Henry George. Robert S Taylor writes on the "Subjugation of the Mississippi," a work which in his opinion and in that of the Mississippi Commission, of which he is a member, can be accomplished only by employing, for the purpose of deepening and straightening the channel, the forces developed by the river itself. Moncure D Conway contributes a very striking study of Gladstone as a man and a statesman. Hon. George W. Julian's "Railway Influence in the Land Office" is a grave judicial exposure of the practices which, against the manifest intent of the law and the determinations of the highest courts, have won for corporations millions of acres of the public domain. Richard A. Proctor writes of the "Pyramid of Cheops;" Wm. G Summer of "Protective Taxes and Wages;" Elizar Wright of "Some Aspects of Life Insurance;" and finally, there is a symposium on "Educational Needs," by Prof. G. Stanley Hall, Prof. Felix Adler President Thomas Hunter, Dr Mary Putman Jacobi Published at 20 Lafayette Place, New York, and for sale by booksellers generally.

——Ladies who wish to keep up with the latest styles must purchase their dress goods at Dinges', who always gets on the latest as soon as out, and he never lets you go away without a bargain in any purchase you make.

——We are in receipt of Hiram Sibley & Co's Seed Catalogue, for 1883—Rochester and Chicago. It is a fine work and complete as to seeds, flower, vegetable and other kinds. It is handsomely illustrated, and no family should fail to have it on the table. Sibley & Co. are reliable parties and do a large business in bulbs, seeds, etc., for garden and farm, which they guarantee. The Catalogue contains also cnodensed essays on the culture of special crops and garden plants, in each case are written by specialists having skilled experience, and hence possess unusual value. The vegetable seed department is almost a manual of garden practice.

It is the aim of this house to offer none of the so-called novelties until they have been tried in the field or garden. Only well-tasted varieties and standard sorts are embraced in this catalogue.

The Farm Seeds Department is a feature included in no other seedsmen's catalogue to such extent. Here all the desirable varieties are carefully described, and in many cases their adaption to soil and localities is designated.

On Friday, 9th, the mother of Uriah Moyer favored her doomed son with a visit. The old lady bowed with sorrow, was conducted into the cell by Sheriff Richly. Her pent up fountains of grief seemed to break their fastenings when she again beheld her son, who seemed equally affected. They remained together for some time and both seemed to feel better for the visit. She told the Sheriff that she intended making one more call to Middleburg before Uriah was hung—which she expected to be the last time she will ever visit the place.

Notwithstanding Moyer being confined in a cell on the first floor and Erb on the second, they have effected a way to converse with each other, which is done by both opening their windows, when they can hear each other but cannot see. Erb reads him passages out of the Bible while Moyer listens eagerly and occasionally interrupts the reader by explanatory questions. Erb has been confined now for two years and nine months, and being a constant chewer of tobacco he complains that the long confinement has so broken his constitution that this habit makes him nervous.

——While congress is fooling on the tariff and our state legislature is acting the dunce on the prohibition question—both congress and the legislature seemingly afraid to face the music—they keep right on selling pure and really cheap groceries at Sechlers, in the Bush house block. Sechler is never afraid to face his customers, he has a clean conscience, and has always been strictly honest with all whom he sold groceries to.

PENN HALL ITEMS.

Some of the tax-payers have been discussing the propriety of establi-hing a home for the poor for this and adjoining townships. They believe it would be a benefit to purchase a tract of land and erect the necessary buildings for the purpose; have land enough to keep the inmates at work in raising grain and vegetables and grain for the use of the home.

Constable Kline was fully prepared and had a warrant to arrest a fellow for violating the tenth commandment; the fellow got wind of it and took Greeley's advice.

Coasting accident.—George, son of Wm. Heckman, came down the hill near the school house and ran against a pile of lumber, fracturing a bone below the knee. Dr. Vanvalzah was called on and bandaged his leg.

Had some contention in regard to the water right on stream crossing the turnpike at this place, as to the right of cutting open the ice to water cattle, thereby overflowing the yards below. It has been amicably fixed again.

John P. Condo and family, of Loganville, will make Penn Hall their home, after April 1st. He is a successful salesman for Smith, Foster & Co's grocery in Philad.

Cornelious Musser and wife have left for Stephenson county, Illinois, to make it their future home.

Frank Yeanck and family, and William Wise have left Brushvalley for Missouri.

It would be a vast saving of time and much anxiety if some of our young people had telephone connections.

J. B. Heckman is making preparations to build a new wing to his barn, 60x70 feet, and to put a new roof on the whole.

NEWS BOY.

LOGANSVILLE.

Rev. J. K. Miller, of Centre Hall, on Sunday evening, 11, preached a soul-stirring sermon in the Evangelical church. The protracted meeting is still in progress, and up to this time much good has been done.

The Lutheran parsonage will soon be occupied by Rev. J. K. Miller, of Centre Hall.

Mr. D. M. Brumgard, Principal of the 7th street Grammer school of Renovo, formerly of this place, had the misfortune some time ago, to fall and break his leg for the fifth time. He is we understand, under the treatment of Dr. Wm. H. Hall, one of Renovo's best surgeons, and is doing as well as can be expected.

——Cold and stormy Wednesday.

Clearfield county will become a separate judicial district as soon as an apportionment bill is passed. Col. Walter Barrett, Frank Fielding, Esq., and David L. Krebs, Esq, the latter a law partner of Senator Wallace, are the most prominent Democratic aspirants for the judgeship.

——Keep in eye Teats' grocery, ye housekeepers, when you go to Bellefonte. It is a new establishment, opposite the Bush house, full and complete in every department. All goods fresh and pure and prices fair. Teats wants all kinds of country produce, and allows farmers the best prices for it. Give Teats a call, and see his stock—he will treat you right.

J. H. REIFSNYDER, Trustee, will offer for sale, on Saturday, March 3, 1½ miles south of Aaronsburg, a valuable FARM, of 139 acres, known as the Michael Kreamer farm. Thereon erected two dwelling houses, a large bank barn and all the necessary outbuildings, a never-failing spring at the door, orchard with choice fruit. About 95 acres are cleared and in a good state of cultivation, the balance is well timbered with the best white pine, white oak and other timber.

TERMS:—One-half on confirmation of sale, balance in one year with interest, to be secured by bond and mortgage. 1s

OUR VISITORS.

Mr. George Raber, of Miles, called upon the REPORTER. George is one of those genial fellows we always like to meet.

Esq. Carlin, of Rebersburg, illumined our sanctum with his presence the other day.

Mr. E. J. M'Closky, of Will county, Ill., honored us with a call. Mr. M'Closky left these parts some 13 years ago. He is pleased with the west and from his looks we judge it agrees with him.

——Old Wiggins seems to have got into the Centre county papers—all but the REPORTER. The Bellefonte papers are snapping and snarling at each other, and one of them even sent a stray shot across the mountain at the REPORTER, which bounded right back. Then there is the Elk Creek Schmutzblatt which has been beating the air for five or six weeks fighting the old Berichter defunct these 15 years, and is mad because nobody cares about denying it is the ghost of the dead one. Amid all the REPORTER stands alone, serene, calm, sweet and smiling. Now if they don't soon behave, we'll call all out on the floor and thrash the whole class. You fellows over the mountains, if you will be good, we have a few dimes left from our Supplement job, we'll buy each of you a little candy; and for the sage of Elk Creek, when he gets into his right mind again, we will buy him what he most needs, a piece of soap and a handkerchief with the ten commandments printed on.

——Rev. J. K. Miller, of this place, moved to Logansville, on Tuesday, having accepted the pastorate of the Lutheran charge of that place, consisting of 5 congregations.

The Jersey Shore, Pine Creek and Buffalo railroad will be completed to Williamsport, connecting with the Reading road, by May 1st.

——The Bargain Store of C. Dinges has now become one of the fixed indispensable institutions of Pennsvalley. Full assortment of first class goods, low prices and fair and square dealing have placed this store in the front ranks. New goods are received almost every day, and every department is kept complete to meet all demands.

——John G. Emerick, of near this place, intends moving to Karthouse, in the spring. His sale is advertised in another column.

——All kinds of produce wanted at Brockerhoff's store, where the highest prices the market affords will be paid, and all goods sold at cost in order to close out stock. Farmers, house keeper everybody, remember this.

——The suits at the Philad. Branch are all made expressly for the Centre Co trade, hence you find no auction stock or shoddy. Goods are all plainly marked, and one price for all. Lewins has not yet been known to take advantage of a single customer.

At Lock Haven families living along the river moved out of their houses fearing the flood—but the danger is now over.

Williamsport, Pa., February 18.—The gorge in the river here still stands, although the water is twenty-four feet high. Parties along the shore are still moving out. Three canal aqueducts are under water, two of them broken. Above the gorge the water has commenced falling and the worst is believed to be over unless a sudden thaw occurs.

S. Wilton, Wrightsville, Pa., says: "I consider Brown's Iron Bitters superior to any medicine I ever used."

For the REPORTER.

To disbelieve the old saying "it never rains, but it pours," meant never to have attended a minister's donation party, for on such an occasion it surely pours. The kind donors pour into their pastor's house quite unceremoniously and their kindness pours forth in such rich abundance of useful provisions that neither law nor order is regarded, such as we believe it to be heavenly. By such evidence the pastor of the Reformed church and his family, living in Centre Hall, were thoroughly convinced, on Tuesday night, as to the truth of the old saying. If ever any minister's family was "pounded" they were compounded, and can any one blame them for being no little confounded, by reason of the great surprise resulting from such skilful plodding and rushing in upon them so unawares. But then the generalship of the Lafayettes and the Alexanders is never called into question. They are always sure of a victory when they have faithful and competent armies to follow them, take in the situation and carry out their plans. Yet when all is done I fear it must be conceded that women will outgeneral men in getting up a donation party. However it may be, allow me through the REPORTER, not simply to report, but to express also the heartfelt thanks of the family thus remembered to the kind and generous donors. And now may their generosity be the occasion of abundant blessings upon themselves in a long and prosperous life. PASTOR.

Life in Parisian Studies.

A young New Orleans artist, who has just entered Julian's school of painting in Paris, sends home the following account of his initiation by the mob of jolly artists: "After a thousand impertinent remarks about the noveau they all set to singing. One, with many salutations and ceremonies, placed an easel where I could not see the model, and invited me to set to work; asked my age, whether I was married, etc., and retired. Then another stepped up, bowing, and informed me it was customary for the noveau to pay for a punch. I agreed to do so. Then another stepped up and begged the honor of ordering it for me, stating that twenty-five francs would be sufficient, I objected to paying so much, when he agreed to order one for fifteen. Meantime a vote was had to decide whether I should sing, and it was decided that I should not. The hot punch came in and every one was served. One mounted a stool and led the studio song: "A la sante du noveau." They made a thundering noise and became very jolly and sociable with me—all touching glasses and wishing kind wishes. This was my initiation to the noisest set of grown-up boys, middle-aged and white-haired boys that I ever met. They are very good natured, full of mirth and wit, but of such a sort as only Paris can create. Their mouths are never shut; they never say a serious thing or utter a refined sentiment. They are simply shocking. Lately an American girl had the conrage and nerve to enter the school for men. She drew from nude male and female models, and bore all the vulgarity and smoke of these Frenchman, and was soon far ahead of them with her brush. An auburn-haired English girl entered into this crowded room. She worked hard and appeared to hear nothing."

The horses of the West Philadelphia passenger railway company, are brushed and cleaned by steam aparatus, erected a short time ago. A horse is groomed in this manner in four minutes.

PURITY.

Of all the ills of human flesh,
No greater can be found
Than that which slowly weaves a mesh
And ends in finding bound
The victim, this is dread Catarrh;
But there's one healing cure,
And tho' you search both near and fer,
Naught like Peruna pure.
