Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing.
They don't know just what is the matter, but they have a combination of pains and aches, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why BROWN'S

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and for several Bitters, and am happy to say I now have a good appetite,

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, PA. Mar. 1, 1883.

The Largest Paper in Centre County.

(State College Investigation—continued from opposite page.)

Fifty thousand dollars in 1859 and forty-nine thousand nine hundred dollars in 1861, for the erection of buildings; five thousand dollars in 1870 for building on the Eastern experimental farm; eighty thousand dollars in 1878 for the movial of a mortgage debt upon the property. This debt had been incurred owing to the great increase in cost of building contractors had been forced to abandon their undertaking. We find no question in any quarter that the above named appropriations were applied to the uses for which they were intended. Other donations to the college, chiefly by the State Agricultural Society and citizens who were interested in starting it, have amounted to one hundred and fifty-four thousand two hundred and eighty-eight dollars. On summing these statements it appears that the principal sums contributed to the college (aside from the endowment fund) amounts to a total of three hundred and eighty-three thousand and seventy-one dollars and fifty cents, as follows:

Appropriated by the State, one hundred and eighty-four thousand nine hundred dollars; expended for experimental farm, forty-three thousand eight hundred and eighty-six dollars and fifty cents; contributed from private sources, one hundred and fifty-four thousand, two hundred and eighty-five dollars, and the college has to show for this, farms, buildings and apparatus, regularly, and, as we believe, fairly inventoried at four hundred and fifty one thousand, six hundred and fifteen dollars and seventy-seven cents.

It is not necessary to dwell at greater length on this branch of the subject. The details are given in full in the accompanying papers; and we believe that no impartial mind, on examining them, can fail to reach the same conclusion, that the financial trusts of the institution have been honestly and judiciously administered.

III. THE EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

The questions connected with the conduct of the experimental farms, the committee found in some respects to be more perplexing than any others in the course of their inquiry. It is clear, from their testimony, that these farms have conducted many valuable experiments, and served a useful purpose, though they have come short of the anticipations which were indulged in at the time provision was made for them. This result may be accounted for partly on the ground of insufficient appropriations from the college funds, and partly from the fact that the trustees, in order apparently to gratify local sentiment, entrusted the general management of one of the farms almost entirely to a committee of gentlemen in its neighborhood. The purpose of the arrangement seems to have been entirely honorable to both parties. The college authorities were willing to concede their plans to the scrutiny and control of a body who had no interest in local pride or public opinion, to stimulate and reward their efforts, and the local committee was willing to perform an unrequited public service. But divided responsibility could hardly fail to result in divided counsel; and divided counsel resulted, as might naturally have been expected, in diminished efficiency and something of mutual criticism.
We can find, however, no reason to doubt that while larger appropriations would have added to the usefulness of the Eastern and Western farms, the trustees of the college have in good faith expended in that direction fully as much as their income would justify, considering the large and growing needs of the department of instruction in the college.

The amounts appropriated to the Eastern farm, in Chester county, from 1869 to 1881, is eighteen thousand eight hundred dollars; to the Western farm, in Lancaster county, sixteen thousand and forty dollars, and to the Central farm, near the college, forty-one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars. In our opinion; it would be unjust to the college, as an institution of higher education, to cripple its resources by taking from the funds now at its disposal any larger appropriations to the farms than have heretofore been made; while, on the other hand, it is evident that they can never be made to meet public expectation without a much larger expenditure. It is our belief, that the only way in which the farms can be made to do good to the State, would be for the State to make a fair annual appropriation to the maintenance of them.
But it is extremely doubtful, in the light of recent agricultural knowledge, whether three or a dozen farms are enough or better than one, for the purpose of scientific investigation to compensate for the increased expense. For the purpose of practical experimentation, the more farms the better, but it seems to us not unreasonably to suppose that that end could be nearly as well and much more cheaply reached by a system of voluntary co-operation among individual farmers, carrying on their operations and working out their experiments in correspondence with the college, and to some extent under its direction.

The report then refers to the successful operations of other agricultural institutions and then makes some recommendations with regard to ours, and concludes as follows:

In conclusion, your committee would most respectfully represent, that a reorganization of the board of trustees seems imperatively required if the purposes of the State College are to be realized by the agricultural and mechanical classes of the State, to the extent of its original design.
The law that made the agricultural societies the custodians of the welfare of the school, seemed at the time the best that could be done; but their change of character since that time have unfitted them for this responsible duty, as their failure to participate in the annual meetings clearly demonstrates. By the same law, a number of State officials were made ex-officio members of the board; a duty they seemed to have overlooked, as we find by the minutes of the board, their presence rarely, if ever, noticed.

It has been suggested and strongly urged before the committee, that if the Legislature sees fit to authorize the sale of the experimental farms that an experiment station should be established.

We think this a good suggestion and would recommend the subject to the careful consideration of the Legislature.
All of which is respectfully submitted, AMOS H. EYLER,
Chairman.

The Freeburg Corral says a daring robbery in Limestone township, Union county, near Seebold's Mill, has just come to light. On the night of January 31 three burglars forced an entrance into the house of George Leitner. One robber stood guard over Leitner and his wife, who are both aged persons, while the other ransacked the house. The burglars took away some article of value, a few dollars in cash and a horse from the stable. Later they stole a horse and sleigh from Henry Miller.
Chaos was given, the live stock was abandoned, and the daring thieves escaped.
