ALMOST AS BAD What the Prolapsed Physicians do in Cases of Emergency. "I'll tell you the honest truth," answered the doctor. "Bright's Disease bothers the medical men almost as badly as cancer does. Having passed a certain stage, both point straight to eternity. It may be unprofessional to let out the secret, but whenever a patient comes to me with Bright's Disease, or any kidney trouble acting like it, I tell him to put on Benson's CAPSULE FOR URIC PLASTER without delay." The doctor spoke by the card. The Capsule goes right to the spot. If you can be helped, the Capsule will do it. Look out for frauds. Is the word CAPSULE cut in the middle of the plaster? If so, you are all right. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York. Highest awards.

ENCOURAGING. Having been encouraged by the steady increase of business, I have remodelled and added to the external as well as to the internal appearance of my DRUG HOUSE, thereby making it more attractive to my customers. I would now thank my customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and solicit a continuance of the same. My stock is as neat full as possible. I am in complete communication with the principal Drug Houses of New York and Philadelphia and am supplied with cuts and price lists, and anything in my line not kept in stock will be sent for at once and delivered at the same prices that it could be bought at if you went or sent yourself. I buy my drugs for cash, pay no discounts, which enables me to sell just as cheap as any other drug store in the county. All business between dealer and customer strictly confidential. J. D. A SCENE IN THE HOUSE. Hot Words from Mr. Van Voorhis Lead to a Motion for His Expulsion.

Washington, March 1.—At the evening session the Deficiency Appropriation bill was taken up and passed with an amendment permitting the appraisal and sale of vessels stricken from the navy register. The River and Harbor bill was then taken up. Mr. Anderson (Kan.) moved to increase the appropriation for removing snags from the Mississippi River from $50,000 to $100,000 to $150,000 and to $180,000, but each motion was voted down by an over-whelming majority.

Mr. Van Voorhis (N. Y.) moved to strike out the item for the improvement of the Sacramento River. He said that if the Chairman of the committee had not been from California no such item would have been put in it. "It is so outrageous," he continued, "so damnable, that nobody but a gambler and a cut-throat would think of tacking such a thing as that to such a bill as this."

Mr. Hoar demanded that the words should be taken down. Mr. Page—Oh! I hope not. Mr. McLane—It is an insult to the House. The words were read at the Clerk's desk, and reported to the House. Mr. McLane immediately offered a resolution of expulsion. Mr. Hancock, Mr. McCook and Mr. Mills urged that Mr. Van Voorhis should be given a hearing.

Mr. Robinson (Mass.)—This is the House of Representatives, it is true, and yet, day after day, scenes transpire here that are not creditable in a national House of Representatives. (Applause) That is no excuse for the gentleman from New York (Mr. Van Voorhis). It is true that this should be stopped, but I say it is just to ourselves, we should pause before we take the summary proceeding that is provided for in the Constitution. We should give the offending member an opportunity to make the simplest apology to the House. If he declines, if he wavers, if he attempts to justify himself, then I will go to the other extreme. (Applause.)

Mr. Hoar said that he had asked that the words should be taken down because that was the only method in which the dignity and good breeding of members could be maintained.

Mr. McLane—The meanest and commonest criminal in the land has a right to be heard. But when I come to ask this House to pass on this resolution, when I take the responsibility of moving it, I have a duty to perform and I recall to the House that the gentleman from New York, previous to the words which were taken down, addressed the gentleman from California as the Chairman of the Commerce Committee. He knew perfectly well to whom he addressed his language and it is fresh in the minds of every member of the House that last night we were discredited and disgraced by this same member from New York. He then addressed the Chairman of the Commerce Committee in language that though it could give no disgrace to the gentleman from California gave infinite disgrace to this House and to the gentleman from New York who uttered the language. Last night he made some reference to the gentleman's early life and spoke of him as a mule-driver and stage-driver. It would have been quite in the line of current report if the gentleman from California had said to the gentleman that if he had been born a mule-driver or stage-driver he would have remained such probably to the present hour. (Laughter and applause.)

Mr. Hancock—I call the gentleman himself to order.

Mr. McLane—I am quite in order. The Speaker—The Chair must caution the gentleman that it is not in order to make personal remarks.

"Take his words down," suggested some member, while Mr. Mills and Atherton in an excited manner held an indignant colloquy with Mr. McLane, who folding his arms defiantly, said: "I know what I have said. Take my words down." But the demand was withdrawn, and McLane continued his speech. He was followed by Mills, who protested against a man being tried without a hearing, and some apparently sharp words passed between him and McLane which could not be heard on account of the great confusion in the hall at the time.

Finally Mr. Van Voorhis was accorded the floor and, standing in the centre aisle, said that he had been very earnestly opposed to a river and harbor bill. In opposing it he had found it very difficult to be heard in consequence of the confusion in the House, so that in addressing the Chair he had always found it necessary to speak with a good deal of power and difficulty. What he intended in the instance before the House was simply to characterize the measure under consideration. He had not the slightest intention to be personal to anybody, nor had he supposed that he was using language different from what others had used with perfect impunity. He then withdrew the words and said that he very much regretted that any exception should be taken or that he was under the necessity of withdrawing those words. (Laughter.)

Mr. McLane then withdrew his resolution, but Mr. Herbert (Ala.) offered another resolution censuring Mr. Van Voorhis. Mr. Page asked that this resolution be withdrawn in the interest of business, but Mr. Herbert declined to do so. Mr. Thompson (Ky) moved that the resolution be laid on the table. Lost—60 to 82

Mr. Van Voorhis was again accorded the floor. "If," he said, "the river and harbor bill men want to ensure me if it has occurred I suppose I can stand it. I don't know but they are in the majority here, and the only misconduct which seems to affect my friend from Alabama (Mr. Herbert) is that I have opposed this bill (murders of disapproval). From what I said before, I meant to be understood as withdrawing in the fullest possible manner the language which was objected to, and in addition to that I apologized to the House for using it, and to the gentleman from California. If any supposed it applied to him

The resolution was lost—66 to 78. The scene caused great excitement

A Relic. We found, that night, when, free from pain at last, She slumbered in the darkened room below, In her old Bible pressed and folded fast A flower gathered fifty years ago.

Wondering we scanned it there, so brown with age, So withered, and with curious eyes read o'er The writing traced beneath it on the page,— A date, a dim initial,—nothing more,—

And asked, with eyes that filled we knew not why, And hands that touched it gently, reverently, What dear memorial of days gone by This little faded flower might be?

Why had she kept it hidden there away Through all those years? What hopes, what joys that were, What golden memory of some far day, Spoke softly from those withered leaves to her,

What potent talisman was this, to start To life again that old forgotten time, Beneath in her chill and wintry heart The flush and fragrance of her youth's glad prime?

Had hand of lover gathered it that day, That fair, bright summer day, so long ago? What sweet, shy dreams lay folded there away?

What maiden hopes and fears? We might not know. Silent we stood. We felt a sense of shame, As those who, wandering, enter unaware Some holy place, yet this I can say, Softly we turned, and left it lying there.

But when we gathered for our last long look Upon her, in her calm and tranquil rest, We drew the flower from the worn old book And laid it gently on her peaceful breast. —Robertson Torbridge.

The Puzzling Cap. The little folks of long ago used to like riddles as well as those of to-day. From a tiny book called "The Puzzling Cap," printed in Albany almost a hundred years ago, we copy the following: I'm found in most countries, yet not in earth or sea;

I am in all timber, yet not in any tree; I am in all metals, yet I am not gold; I am not in England, yet this I can say, I'm to be found in Westminster every day. The letter M.

I have no eyes, and yet my nose is long; I have no mouth, and yet my breath is strong. A pair of bellows.

My friend and I from home did part, Of whom I had some way the start; So on we ran ten miles or more, And I same distance as before; Now tell me how that this could be, As I ran twice as fast as he? Fore and hind wheel of a coach.

Costumes are to be less clinging this season, but prices will stick.

Roll in, tumble in, or any other way you can get in, to Brockerhoff's store, before April 1st, if you wish first class goods at cost. Dress goods, clothing, boots, shoes, glassware, canned and dried fruit—all offered at cost to close out stock.

A bill establishing the whipping post in New York State for men that beat their wives was reported favorably in the lower branch.

High tariff, low tariff, or no tariff, Dinges will always offer his customers goods at a bargain, and give more value for the money than any other store, and pay highest prices for all kinds of country produce.

The decrease of the public debt for February is reported in round numbers at $7,600,000.

PLEASANT. Dyspepsia, O, dread disease, What mortal can withstand? Insatiate Ill—naught can appease, It roams throughout the land; How few, indeed, escape its pains, And yet there's simple cure, The only one that now remains— Peruna, pleasant, sure!

MAN-A-LIN. It is a new remedy, originally compounded and introduced to the medical profession, and then to the public at large, by S. H. Hartman, M. D. He has prescribed it to over 40,000 patients with the most gratifying results. It acts upon the system in a manner unlike that of any other remedy, and is the only medicine needed to cleanse every organ to which health is best. In Consumption, Disease of the Liver and Kidneys, Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, etc., it should be given with it. PE-RU-NA is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, each one, according to modern authors, a great remedy in itself. Dr. Hartman has succeeded in extracting the active principle of these ingredients into one simple compound, which perfectly combines with the VITAMINIC NATURA in every disease, and a sure necessity follows. There is not an organ it will not reach nor a disease it will not cure. Ask your Druggist for Dr. Hartman's compound on the "Direct Mail," Dr. S. H. Hartman & Co., Proprietors, For Files and Folio Diseases, also
