A Lecture to Young Men
ON THE LOSS OF MANHOOD

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhea induced by Self-abuse, Voluntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility and Impairments to Marriage generally, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, Mental and Physical Inequality, etc., by ROBERT A. CULVERWELL, M.D., and author of the "Urethra Book," etc.
The world renowned author, in this admirable lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, blisters, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
Sent under seal in a plain envelope, to any address, post paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address:

ALMOST AS BAD
What the Perplexed Physicians do in Cases of Emergency.
"I'll tell you the honest truth," answered the doctor. "Bright's Disease bores the medical men almost as badly as cancer does. Having passed a certain stage, both point straight to eternity. It may be unprofessional to let out the secret, but whenever a patient comes to me with Bright's Disease, or any kidney trouble acting like it, I tell him to put on BENSON'S CAPICINE PAIN EXPELLER without delay." The doctor spoke by the card. The Capicine goes right to the spot. If you can be helped, the Capicine will do it. Look out for frauds. Is the word CAPICINE cut in the middle of the plaster? If so, you are all right. Price 25 cents. Seabury

NEW DEPARTURE.

Believing it to be the best for both merchant and customer that all dealings should be in cash, and following the example of most prominent and successful dealers, I have determined to do away with the credit system after the 17 of July, 1882. After this date the books will be closed and I will sell only F-O-R-C-A-S-H
or its equivalent.

Thankful to my customers for their past patronage, I hope to meet them in the future at my old stand, where I am confident I can sell much CHEAPER THAN BEFORE, and LOWER than elsewhere. Have determined to give my customers the benefit of the new system.

PRODUCE will be taken in exchange for goods at highest market price. Respectfully,

CENTRE HALL, PA. Mar. 22, 1883.

THE LANCASTER COUNTY VAC-CINE FARM.

From Grain-fed Stock.

This farm situated at Marietta, Lancaster county, is located in one of the finest sections of the state and besides has the extra advantage of fine railroad and postal facilities. It is not generally known how these farms are conducted or by what method vaccine virus is produced, and therefore, in describing Dr. Alexander's method, we are confident that the reader will become acquainted with not only the finest, but also the most carefully kept farm in the country. For obtaining good virus only heifers from 6 months to 2 years are selected, and this selection is limited to the Alderney and Dorchester breeds.

The cattle are all grain-fed during a preparatory period as well as during the time they are developing the virus and consequently they are neater, more healthy and cleaner than they would be otherwise. The grain-fed feature is peculiar to the Alexander farm. When a heifer is first selected it is taken to the farm and carefully groomed several times a day; after this important preparation, it is taken to the doctor's stables, where he had erected on his premises in order that the cattle might be under his immediate observation. The stables are a model of neatness and cleanliness, as there is hardly a perceptible odor about the entire place. They are erected so that the cattle may have the benefit of an eastern and southeastern exposure, and consequently plenty of sunshine.

The stables are also heated, which is also a great improvement over these farms generally. The operating room adjoining the stable, is exceptionally clean, comfortably warm, and well-lighted. On the north side of the room is a cistern, which supplies all the water necessary, and running from this cistern across the room, at the foot of the operating table is a trough with the floor dipping toward it from either side, and consequently all the debris from operating or droppings from the cattle, fall into this trough, and is easily washed away. The operating tables are as ingenious as they are practical, and are the exclusive invention of Dr. Alexander. They are thus constructed: A heavy frame-work is fastened to the floor, in which rests a V shaped table, cushioned in such a manner that when the animal lies in on it, the spinal column rests perfectly free and its weight rests on that portion of the ribs near the vertebrae; at the end of the table there is a hollow box which is covered with a soft cushion, upon which the heifer's head rests very comfortably during the operation. By an arrangement of rope and pulleys, this table is manipulated by means of a crank so that it can be carried across and left gently drop on the animal's back, while she is standing at the side of the table. This manoeuvre causes no resistance, because it inflicts no pain; then after fastening several straps, one man can raise her deliberately off her feet and lay her squarely on her back, which is the most favorable position for operating—the head of course lays on the side.

When she is on the table, the feet are secured by means of cushioned straps, and thus the operation goes on without any interruption. After the operator has finished, the crank is turned again and the heifer lands on her feet. This table works so admirably that when our townsman, Chas. A. Heinisch, saw it, he said:
"I always considered this brutal treatment, but on such an apparatus it is really a kindness."

We will now suppose the calf is ready for operation—both sides of the upper and inner parts of the hind legs are thoroughly lathered and cleanly shaven and afterwards carefully washed with sponges.

Then this surface is thoroughly slapped with the hands in order to bring the blood to the surface, preparatory to inoculation which is done by previously scarifying the part that is to receive the virus. From 7 to 10 days after the inoculation the vesicles will begin to mat-urate, and the animal is again brought on the table, and the parts previously shaven, are again scrupulously washed and sponged in order that no particles of dust or dirt may come in contact with the virus. The ivory points and quills are then coated with the existing virus, fastened upon the racks and laid aside to dry—afterwards they are coated a second time from another heifer, thus not only hermetically sealing the first coating, but also giving the benefit of the virus from two heifers. This lymph is also put into glass tubes, but for obvious reasons the dry form is preferable.

Crusts are also found scattered over the denuded parts, and they have been quite popular of late; but it is urged against them, that in the drying a large surface is exposed, thus rendering them more or less inert, and if the surrounding epithelium which is valueless, be broken off the crust does not present a saleable appearance.

Dr. Alexander, appreciating the force of this objection, has substituted his patent tablet, though he furnishes crusts if desired. These tablets are simply the crusts deprived of the dried epithelium, and while yet damp well crushed and the mass then moistened with pure lymph, after which they are pressed into tablet form.

This is by far the most desirable form of virus; this is less liable to become dry as was proven by experiment.

One of these tablets was exposed to the air for several months, and afterwards the central position was used in vaccination, and the result was a successful taking.

We cannot omit referring to the doctor's most original and ingenious method of drying and preserving the virus in its different forms. By a peculiar construction and arrangement of air chambers and absorbents he is able to maintain an even temperature, both summer and winter, of 40 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

Here the quills, points, etc., are kept and it is surprising how well the object desired is obtained.

The packing rooms are in harmony with the entire surroundings—bright, airy and comfortable.

The packings are simply unique and surpass everything in this line we have ever seen.

Everything is put up in glass; the points are enclosed in small test tubes, well corked and consequently not liable to any metallic contamination.

The quills are equally protected. The tablets or crusts are first wrapped in tissue paraffine paper, then in tin-foil and then in an appropriate bottle. Indeed these packings must be seen to be appreciated; they are on exhibition at the drug store of Chas. A. Heinisch, and in our opinion are all that can be desired.

When Dr. Alexander started his farm, in order to be sure he sent out none but reliable virus, entered into an arrangement with a hospital in Philadelphia to test the virus from every heifer—if it was first-class he sent it out, if not it was thrown away; he still continues this practice sending fresh virus to the city every day, and as might be imagined it has been of great service to him.

The profession appreciate a good thing when they see it, as is evident from the demand for the goods.

By actual calculation we find that during the first two weeks of January the doctor filled orders for 12,220 points, not to speak of tablets and quills which are also greatly sought after. We know Dr.
Alexander to be thoroughly conscientious and strictly reliable and consequently we heartily wish him success in his enterprise.—Practitioner.

DR. GAST NOT GUILTY.

We copy the following Chester dispatch, dated March 10, from the Sunday's Press: "The jury in the case of Samuel Gast, the cancer doctor, charged with manslaughter, in having caused the death of Mrs. James Armstrong, whom he treated for cancer, to day returned a verdict of not guilty."

PE-RU-NA
A new remedy, originally compounded and introduced to the medical profession, and then to the public at large, by S. H.
Hartman, M. D. He has prescribed it to over 40,000 patients with the most gratifying results. It acts upon the system in a manner that is entirely unlike that of any other remedy, and is the only medicine needed in almost every disease to which flesh is heir. (In Constipation, Diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, MANALIN should be given with it.) PRU-NA is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, each one, according to medical authors, a great remedy in itself.
Dr. Hartman has succeeded in extracting and combining the active principles of these ingredients into one simple compound, which perfectly combines with the VITA-MEDICATRIX NATURALIS in every disease, and a cure necessarily follows. There is not an organ it will not reach nor a disease it will not cure.
