A WOMAN HUNG.

Winsor, Vt., March 30 .- Mrs. Meeker, who was executed this afternoon, slept soundly last night, and after breakfasting. in accordance with a request made yesterday to see the gallows, was led out by the sheriff this morning to examine it. She closely scrutinized every part of the structure, ascended the steps of the scaffold alone with firm tread and without emotion and inquired of the sheriff if she would be required to climb the fatal stairs unassisted at the the final moment. The drop and its mode of working were looked into with an air of morbid curiosity, and eyeing the trap she asked: "Is that the place?" After returning to her quarters she was visited by the chaplain and manifested the most stolid indifference. Later on, when visited all their customers. It is a notable fact hy Sheriff Atherton, she inquired after her that every well regulated family gets its husband and daughter, and then with much agitation said: "Tell them I am to be murdered to-day. I am an innocent woman." She alluded to her son's confession as a lie and said he had brought her to the gallows.

When Mr. Atherton rose to leave she began to cry and kissed his right hand twice, and sending her love to the folks at home she cried "Good bye! good bye!" as he left. Mrs. Meeker ate a hearty dinner. Her son Almon was left in his cell. The spectator were admitted at one o'clock. and the procession moved to the gallows, where she was seated in a chair and evidently did not like the crowd. After prayer by the chaplain, Sheriff Amsden handed her a paper with these words; "Emeline Meeker if you have anything to say why the execution of your sentence should not take place, you have now an opportunity." This was done on account of her deafness; she was calm and paleand only I fergive you for hanging me," Her Dap4t legs were then tied, she standing all the trembling but said, "May God forgive you all." The drop fell at 1. 30; after hanging thirty minutes the body was taken down dead, Mrs. Meeker died with scarcly a struggle, she will be buried in the prison cemetery this afternoon. The hanging was the most uneventful one that eyer occurrad in Vermont.
