NEW DEPARTURE.
Believing it to be the best for both merchant and customer that all dealings should be in cash, and following the example of most prominent and successful dealers, I have determined to do away with the credit system after the 17 of July, 1882. After this date the books will be closed and I will sell only F-O-R-C-A-S-H or its equivalent.

Thankful to my customers for their past patronage, I hope to meet them in the future at my old stand, where I am confident I can sell much CHEAPER THAN BEFORE, and LOWER than elsewhere. Have determined to give my customers the benefit of the new system.

PRODUCE will be taken in exchange for goods at highest market price. Respectfully,
I. J. GRENOBLE,

NEUTRALIZED.
In what way a Prevalent Evil may be Shorn of its Power to Harm.
Malaria is a broad name for many diseases—all originating in blood poisoning. Bilious fever, the typhus and typhoid fevers and chills and fevers are prominent members of the family. Malaria affects the builders, the plumbers and the physicians. Despairing of ordinary treatment, the latter almost unanimously recommend BROWN'S CAPSULES FOR PLASTER as the greatest anti-malarial specific of the age. These plasters act upon the liver, spleen, bowels and kidneys. Worn over the region of the liver, and upon the back over the kidneys, they ward off malaria like an armor. No other plasters do this. When you purchase, satisfy yourself that the word CAPSULE is cut in the center of the plaster. Slatery & Johnson, Chemists, New York. Highest awards at International Expositions. 5th April 45

A MIRACLE IN OIL CITY.
DOCTORS DUMFOUNDED—DRUGGISTS AND THE PEOPLE WILD WITH EXCITEMENT.
[From the Oil City Derrick, July 21st 1881] Miss Maggie Martin, of this city, has been ill and confined to her house for several years. Our best physicians failed to give her relief. She took Peruna and, to the astonishment of all who knew her, she is now up and about again. Mr. Simmons, the Druggist, sold 184 bottles last week. He buys in gross lots. Mr. Cowell, too, sells it. Ask your Druggist for Dr. Hartman's book—"Life of Life" (gratis) for address Dr. H. Osborn, O., for one.

Instead of feeling tired and worn out instead of ache and pain, wouldn't you rather feel fresh and strong? If you continue feeling miserable and good for nothing you have only yourself to blame. For Brown's Iron Bitters will surely cure you. Iron and iron are its principal ingredients. It is a certain cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, malaria, weakness, kidney and heart affections. Try it if you desire to be healthy, robust and strong and experience its remarkable curative qualities.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIVE
Herald: There is a man living in East New York who was born when the Declaration of American Independence was but two years old and this city comparatively a village. His name is John Neihoff, a Dutchman by birth, and he was a resident of this city up to six years ago. The record of John's example will be somewhat of a stumbling block to the temperance lecturer and Sunday school teachers, for the old man has been a drinker and an inveterate smoker for nearly a hundred years. His age is 105. Neihoff is an inmate of the Wartburg Home for the Aged and Infirm, a worthy institution supported by the Lutheran churches of this city. Though permanently crippled from a wound he received during the campaigns of the French Revolution he still walks without a cane. His eyesight is good, requiring no glasses, and his head is covered with a thick growth of straight coarse white hair which he wears cut short. His appetite is good, his digestion perfect and he enjoys the best of health and spirits. When asked how he was in the habit of eating his answer was, "Everything that comes along."

HE FOUGHT AT WATERLOO.
"I was born at Appeltern, in Holland. My father was a paper manufacturer. At eighteen years of age I entered the army and served six years. When Napoleon came back from Russia I was forced into the army I served three years, most of the time in Belgium. Our last battle was at Waterloo. When I left the army I went to Germany. I got married there to Helmina Burger.
"When did your wife die?"
"I don't know."
"Where was she buried?"
"I don't know."
"How many children had you?"
"One, a son named Heinrich."
"When did your father and mother die?"
"I don't know. My father was eighty-six years old when I came to America. I don't how old my mother was."
A number of other questions were asked simply with a view of testing the centenarian's memory.
"Who was the King of Holland at the time when you were serving in the army?"
"I don't remember the name of the king. I only remember Prince William the King's oldest son."
The European monarchs of whom he seemed to have any recollection were Napoleon I. and Frederick the Great. He did not remember ever hearing of King William of Prussia, Napoleon III. or Queen Victoria. When asked if he knew the name of the present President of the United States he answered with a smile and a shake of the head, as if to say, "Of course, I couldn't be expected to know that."
"Have you ever heard of Gen. Grant?"
"I've heard the name, but I don't know who or what he was."
"Did you ever hear of Henry Ward Beecher?"
"Yes; but he did not discover Am. Ric."
"Who was Luther?"
"A good man."
"Can you name some of the largest cities in the world?"
"I cannot."
"Which is the largest city in America?"
"I think it must be New York, but I don't know."
"How long have you been a smoker?"
"All my life."
"How much do you smoke now?"
"It depends upon how much tobacco I have. If I have plenty I smoke all the time."
"What kind of tobacco do you use?"
"Any kind."
"Did you ever drink much?"
"I never drank much. I always drank a little."
"Do you believe in a future life?"
"Yes, but I think it will not be like this one."

The dynamite crowd wants to bust up England from one end to the other, and all Englishmen are scared. When an Englishman gets up for breakfast he's afraid to turn up his plate, for fear there might be dynamite under it. There is one thing that is not going to be busted up, and that's Lewis & Co's great clothing store. The low prices and large assortment have drawn such a large trade to the Philad. Branch, that all opposition is in vain.

EIGHTEEN NIBILISTS CONVICTED.
St. Petersburg, April 19—The trial of eighteen prominent nihilists ended here today and resulted in the conviction of all the prisoners. Six were condemned to death, two for life-long servitude and the remainder to terms of imprisonment ranging from fifteen to twenty years.

Henry W. Colburn and Brenard Ashley, keepers of the fog signal at Point N. W. Year, San Mateo county, Cal., attempted to row ashore in a skiff with two friends, Gaston and Frank Platt. The boat capsized and all were drowned. The two of the keepers were eye witnesses of the accident. They signaled a passing steamer, which made a search for the unfortunate men, but without discovering them.

MUTE.
Most wondrous cure beneath the sun. Was that in Quarryville, Where A. B. M. for farmer's son. Was deaf and very ill. For long, long years no sound can reach This wretched suffering man. But when Peruna sought the breach, His cure at once began.

The Pennsylvania Bargain store uses all customers alike; the poor man's cash goes as far as the rich man's—bargains are put up for all. Assortment of goods equal to any in the valley in every respect, while prices are the lowest.

The Good and Worthless
Are never imitated or counterfeited.

This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B., and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and good name of H. B.

Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with various cunningly devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits.

Beware of them. Touch none of them, but; Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits. (3)
