The drop fell at thirty six minutes past ten. The fall failed to dislocate Ostrander's neck and his struggles were horrible. He was pronounced dead in fourteen and cut down in seventeen minutes. He died with oaths on his lips, cursing his mother and sisters, whose tesumony brought him to the scaffold, and protesting his innocence. He also cursed the court officers and even the friend who had shown him favors while he was in jail. Otherwise his harangue on the scaffold was wild and incoherent. Although labored with all the morning by the priest he bluntly refused to im-plore God's forgivness, but persisted in his protestations of innocence.
