On Monday, Aug. 14, a peculiar and very serious accident occurred near Curtin's works in this county. Mr. William Shalley is a prosperous farmer in that vicinity. On the day mentioned his spirited horses the only occupant of the wagon being the hired man. In driving through the yard, not far from the house, the wagon struck a heavy plank on which was a hive of bees. The concusion upset the hive and the bees flew out swarming upon the heads of the children and stinging them frightfully. Mrs. Shalley ran to the rescue of her children, succeeding in getting them in owed, still attacking the children. horses. The animals fought them with their mouths, the bees stinging their tongues terribly. Although Mrs. and Mr. Shalley fought the fierce and ngry bees, they could not expel them rom the house until they had built a great fire and filled the house with smoke. Neither could they be driven rom the horses until the hired man had ouilt a fire under the animals, the smoke hasing them away. One of the horses has since died from the effects of the inuries received and the tongue of the other horse swelled until it bursted. The children have been in a dangerous

> The fools are not all dead yet, and there is one big fool who seeks fame by a big jump. A special from Bradford says: The Kinzua Viaduct, eighteen miles from Bradford, on the line of the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad, is the highest bridge in the world. The structure, which is entirely of iron, is 2,052 feet long, and the height of the rail above the bed of the stream, which looks like a silver thread below, is 301 feet.

Agdrug clerk in this city, Julius Behling, is making a series of experiments, which, if successfully carried out, will certainly give him a niche in the temple of fame. He recently read in a newspaper that an advecturous person had jumped from a three story building, alighting on the ground as easy as though he had stepped from a horse car. In his descent he carried an open silk umbrells | signed, several weeks ago. The horse is with bamboo ribs, and one night in July a bay about 6 years old, right hind foot mounted the rail of a bridge, and, openingihis umbrella, stepped off into space. 23au3t The distance to the water was perhaps fifteen feet. He went down easily and landed in about three feet of water. He then made up his mind to startle the world by jumping off the great Kinzua Viaduct. On Wednesday last he went to the bridge with an excursion party, and stationing himself on the structure at its highest point, tremblingly opened a cotton umbreila. There was no breez . Behling carefully adjusted the umbrella and let it drop. It did not capsize, but when half way down it started off in a southerly course, and was soon lost to sight in the dense forest which skirts the valley. cured by using Brown's Iron Bitters. open his umbrells, and jump off.

It is a fact not generally known that the James Boss' Gold Watch Cases really contain more pure gold than many "solid" gold cases The demand for these watch cases has led to the manufacture of a very poor grade of solid gold watch cases low in quality, and deficient in quantity. These cases are made from 4% to 10 karats, and a 5 or 6 karat case is often sold for 12 or 14 karats. It is nor economy to buy a watch case so poor in quality that it will soon lose its color, or one so soft that it will lose its shape and fail to shut tight, thus letting in dust and damaging the works, or one so thin that a slight blow will break the crystal, and perhaps the movement. It IS economy to buy a James Boss' Gold Watch Case, in which NONE of these things ever occur. This watch case is not an experi-ment-it has been made nearly thirty years.

I sold two James Bose' Gold Watch Cases thirty years ago, when they first came out, and they are in good condition yet. One of them is carried by a carpenter, Mr. L. W.
