"BURY ME WITH MY HUSBAND."

An Old Lady Found Dead Upon Her Husband's Grave.
NAPOLÉON, O., Sept. 12.—While William Parker was walking through Forest Hill Cemetery, he found the lifeless body of Mrs. Frances Gorman, aged seventy-five years, beside her husband's grave. The old lady was friendless and alone in the world, her husband having died some time ago. Her only consolation was in visits to the grave of her husband, which were very frequent. Before she started out, she told her neighbors that she was going over the river and would hardly be back till morning.

On the way she met Undertaker Musser and stopped him, saying: "I am going to die and I want you to bury me with my husband."
Mr. Musser thought it was the raving of a childish old lady, and he promised her he would, assuring her that he hoped it would be a long time yet before she died.

Where she stayed all night is not known, as it is hardly possible that she could have lived through the long, cold night in the open country, and the doctor gave it as his opinion that she had been dead but a half hour when found. She died of heart disease.

THE CORN CROP

Not Yet Out of Danger from Frost—Immense Yield.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The Tribune's reports from the corn crop, which are complete, do not indicate that it is yet safe. It says: "Briefly speaking, we may say that the corn grown on the area southwest of a line drawn through Rock Island, Ill., and Louisville, Ky., is practically out of danger from frost, while all situated on the northwest side of that line is yet in peril. We may regard about one-half of the crop as practically assured, for the rest, its fate yet lies trembling in the balance. Speaking roughly, we may say that there is now a crop of 1,400,000,000 bushels of corn assured, and that for each week from now that a destructive frost is withheld 150,000,000 bushels more will be added to that aggregate; that would equal to 1,550,000,000 bushels by the date of the autumnal equinox, and 2,000,000,000 bushels if the frost holds off till the end of the first week in October."

SENATOR McPHERSON.

The Report that He Intends Resigning from the Senate Denied.

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 11.—Regarding the published statement to the effect that United States Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, contemplated resigning his seat in the senate, an intimate friend of the senator said, "Senator McPherson has only recently returned from Europe, and I am sorry I am unable to speak with authority on the subject. I can say, however, that I do not believe there is a word of truth in the story. I think I would be one of the first persons to know if he intended resigning the senatorship. I cannot say how the report originated, but I should be exceedingly surprised if there was any foundation for it." Senator McPherson was at his home in New Jersey, and could not be found at his office when a reporter called.

S. S. Cox Very Confident.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Truth reports Hon. S. S. Cox as saying, on his chances of the speakership: "I will say, however, that I consider my chances of election to be excellent. I know I shall receive some of Mr. Carlisle's support as Mr. Randall's friends calculate upon. With the great State of New York solid for me, I think I can win. I believe Mr. Carlisle to be stronger now than Mr. Randall, but things may take a change. I shall receive support from north, south, east and west, and shall make a respectable showing. I am in the ring to win if I can!"

EX-GOV. CURTIN ON THE SITUATION.

[From an Interview in the Altoona Times.]

He regards the attitude of the republican members of the legislature on the apportionment question as infamous, going to establish a precedent that is dangerous to constitutional government. Their defiance of the plain mandate of the organic law and the violation of their solemn oaths, show a desperation and wantonness calculated to alarm every sincere lover of liberty and the perpetuity of free institutions. It is the same spirit that ruled in the fraudulent transaction of 1876-77—the arbitrary grasping of power not given by the votes of the people nor admitted by any just division of political power.

He thinks the outlook for democratic success this fall is promising, and all that is needed to insure it is for the democrats to get out to the polls. He is sure that many republicans are disgusted with the methods employed by those in authority in conducting the affairs of the national government, and the attempt of Cooper, Quay, Magee & Co., in refusing to give the people equal representation under the constitution. With reinforcements from this direction, the defeat of Christ, Magee's man Livezey ought to be no longer a question, as well as that of the trimmer Niles.

HARD TO TELL.—OUR EXCHANGES ARE

declaring that "the Republican party must go." But where shall it go? asks the Clinton Democrat. Well, if Bob Ingersoll's idea is correct, it's hard to say where it shall go.—Centre Reporter.

We want none of your jokes over this solemn affair. There must be a hole for such fellows as Brady, Dorsey & Co., or there is no justice above or below. The idea of mixing decent people with such fellows, on any continent, is too ridiculous for sane men to debate over. The separation must be complete to be just.—Clearfield Republican.

FOR THE REPORTER.

BERLIN, SOMERSET Co., Pa., Sept. 15. I was not a little surprised to learn through the Reporter of the death of my old friend, Mr. John Hagan, of Farmers Mills. Knowing him for over eight years as his pastor, and being in a position to judge of his character, I feel constrained to say a few things concerning him. John Hagan was of German extraction, exceedingly reticent, and simple as a child. This simplicity of character extended to even the minutest details. His faith was earnest, unshakable and most beautiful. While the foundations of other and stronger men were shaken by the inconsistencies of Christians and the strides of anti-scriptural science, he stood calm and serene; first, because of his child-like restfulness in the arms of his heavenly Father. With such a christian department internally one could look for strong external manifestations. And these were given. Sickness alone vacated his seat in the house of God and in the prayer meetings. The latter service he would attend going on foot two and three miles every Sabbath. No extravagance was heard in his conversations. His rule was, "Let your yes be yes, and your nay, nay." No doubt we, his brethren, think we can fully spare him. And if I knew him as well as I think I did, I believe his choice would have been to remain with us, until long before departing for the heavenly sanctuary. Yet he was prepared to say, "Thy will, not mine, be done." Exemplary as a Christian, a citizen, a husband and father, he has fallen to be mourned by all who knew him. As pastor I wish to offer the bereaved family my sincerest sympathy, and direct them to the Father of us all, Who chasteneth those whom He loveth. W. E. FISCHER.

ENCOURAGING.

Having been encouraged by the steady increase of business, I have remodeled, repainted and added to the external as well as the internal appearance of my DRUG HOUSE, thereby making it more attractive to my customers. I would now thank my customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and solicit a continuance of the same. My stock is as near full as possible. I am in complete communication with the principal Drug Houses of New York and Philadelphia and am supplied with cuts and price lists, and anything in my line not kept in stock, will be sent for at once and delivered at the same prices that it could be bought at if you want or sent yourself. I buy my drugs for cash, pay no discounts, which enables me to sell just as cheap as any other drug store in the county. All business confidential. J. D. MURRAY, Jun 21f Centre Hall
