REPUBLICANS MUST FACE THE HUMES LAW.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Mr. Secretary Stenger, who is ex-officio a member of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, made a speech in Pittsburg on 13, which will require some attention on his political opponents. He charged that his associates in the Board, State Treasurer Daily and Auditor General Lemon, are not carrying into effect the Humes law in accordance with its letter and spirit. This law provides that the unexpended balance in the Sinking Fund shall hereafter be invested in State loans, if practicable, and if not, in United States bonds. The average balance in the Sinking Fund is about two million dollars. Instead of investing this, or any thing like this amount, Mr. Stenger charges that the majority of the Board have inaugurated a policy of investing only two hundred thousand dollars a month, and that thus far only 400 thousand dollars have been invested under the law. State Treasurer Bailey, when asked why he has not executed the law, declares that it is "impracticable," and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, as a member of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners, contends that it is not practicable. Mr. Stenger asserts that if Joseph Powell, the Democratic candidate, becomes State Treasurer he will execute the law in its true spirit, and that Mr. Livsey, if elected, will follow the example of his predecessor. In this is at least one issue joined in State politics, and it will have to be met. Mr. Stenger charges that State Treasurer Daily, Cashier Livsey and Chairman Cooper were all actively opposed to the law when before the Legislature, and that Mr. Niles, the Republican candidate for Auditor General, "stole away from his seat and dodged the vote." From this Mr. Stenger concludes that in the election of Livsey and Niles this important law would be left to the tender mercies of its enemies. If the law can be evaded now, the Secretary fears that some device will be adopted, under the plea that the law is impracticable, to prevent any further investments of the balance in the Sinking Fund. He therefore urges the election of a State Treasurer and Auditor General in Powell and Taggart who will unite with the Secretary of the Commonwealth in ordering the entire sum in the Sinking Fund, together with what is in the general Treasury in excess of five hundred thousand dollars to be invested in bonds of the United States without any delay.

A MANIAC IN COURT.

He Assaults the Judge and Tries to Take His Own Life.

NEWARK, Oct. 16.—An exciting scene occurred in the First Precinct Police Court here yesterday and Judge Ricard narrowly escaped being assaulted by Thomas Martin, who was arrested for assault and battery, preferred by McGuinness, a saloon-keeper, whom he attacked with a beer glass on Sunday night, and it required three officers to take him into custody. When arraigned yesterday and told what he was charged with the man, whose clothes were in rags and stained with blood, dirt and whitewash, with a face all cuts, bruises and plaster, said: "You've got it down fine, Judge, and if you'll let me off I'll skip the town."

"Well, I guess you'll go out of town," said the Justice, "whether I let you go or not. There is another charge against you."

"Why don't you give me the whole business in a lump?" growled the man. "I ain't no chicken," adding an epithet against the officer who arrested him.

The Judge again reminded him that there was another charge against him, when, with a horrible oath, Martin, who had been grinding his teeth, sprang toward the Judge, saying he would get even with him. He grabbed several articles on the Judge's desk to fling at him, but was frustrated, when he tried to wrench the gas fixture off. He kept the police at bay by kicking and shouting to the Judge, "I'll kill you."

The Judge then withdrew to the ante-room, and three officers then secured the ruffian, but not before he had struck a reporter a terrible blow in the face. On being dragged into his cell he tore all his clothes, except a bloody shirt from his person, and acted like a madman, yelling, cursing and calling for a knife with which to kill himself.

Thinking the man was only shamming the officers left him alone, but a few minutes later, when he was quiet, they returned and found Martin hanging to a bar at the top of the cell door. He had knotted a handkerchief about his neck and tied it to the bar and let himself drag upon the floor. He was quickly cut down and resuscitated, when he again began his ravings, adding: "I'll never go back to State Prison. I'll kill myself first."

In the meantime the Judge remained his seat, and the officers and reporter who had struck by Martin preferred other charges against him, and he will probably get a long term to serve in prison. He is but twenty-five years old, but has served two terms in the New Jersey State Prison, one in the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania and several terms on Blackwell's Island.

THE SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.

It May Spread to Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Pittsburg.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—Sheriff Roubiquet, of St. Clair county, Ill., swore in about thirty men deputy sheriffs and distributed them among the different railroad yards in East St. Louis. Seven United States deputy marshals were also on the ground, but they were specially assigned to the Ohio and Mississippi railroad yard, that road being under the protection of the United States court. In the Cairo short line yard one new man was assaulted and all the other new men in that yard driven out by the strikers, but after the deputy sheriffs made their appearance the strikers retired and the new men resumed work. All the roads are working small forces made up mostly of employees of other departments, but the trains move slowly, except in the Ohio and Mississippi yard, where the usual work is being done under protection and where there is nearly a full force. On this side of the river the situation is much the same as in East St. Louis, except that there are no special officers on duty. The clerks and other employees are doing some work, and perishable freight is being moved rapidly, but there is little life in the yards. The strikers assert that the yard men in Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Pittsburg will strike within a week and that their demand will be the same as that made here, which is the Chicago standard.

ARRESTED FOR WIRE TAPPING.

A New Move to Suppress Chicago Bucket Shops.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—A warrant for the arrest of C. F. Van Winkle and William Alkorn was sworn out on the 15th inst. by Charles J. Barclay, representing the Western Union Telegraph company, charging them with conspiracy. The warrant says Van Winkle and Alkorn conspired to injure the property of the Western Union company by taking from the wires information as to the state of the markets, for the purpose of conveying it to others improperly. Van Winkle was arrested and held in $1,000 bail until the 20th inst. for examination. Alkorn has not yet been arrested. The trouble dates from last May when the Western Union refused to furnish the market quotations to the bucket shops, and since then has removed its tickers from these offices. The bucket shops were not able to secure the reports that were necessary to their existence and have since been working all kinds of schemes to keep a record of the markets with varying success. An investigation showed that Van Winkle and Alkorn had tapped the Western Union wire at the stock yards and run a branch wire into a small office, where the quotations were taken off. The bucket shop men claim it is only a piece of spite work.

The Results of Miscogeneration.

FLUSHING, L. I., Oct. 17.—John Miller, the German from Cincinnati, who married a colored girl here about three weeks ago, has disappeared. He had been working as a farm hand, near Flushing, and became quite intimate in the family of Mr. Hinkman, a colored resident of the town, and in a few days was installed in the Hinkman mansion as a son-in-law, having married the only daughter of old Hinkman, Miss Eliza. Both the whites and blacks of Flushing were very indignant over the marriage and threatened Miller with violence unless he and his bride left the town. Accordingly Miller disappeared. The bride applied for a warrant for his arrest for desertion, but it has not yet been served.

Old Enough to Know Better.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 18.—A successful bunko-steer of Tuesday has just come to light, Ferris M. Sanford, aged ninety-three years, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a man of wealth and business shrewdness, who is stopping with relatives here, being the victim. He was induced by two young men to go to a room on State street, and was informed that by a certain speculation he could double $1,000 in a few hours. The old man fell into the trap, drew $1,000 from the Springfield institution for savings and gave it up to the men, expecting to receive $2,000 at 3 P. M., which of course was not forthcoming. The sharpers have been seen about town for some days but have had ample time to escape.

"Let Him Go."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 18.—In conversation with the Rev. M. H. Houghton concerning the published stories that his first horse had trotted at the fall races of the New Haven Racing Association and won the first prize, he said: "I own and drive a good horse, but the chestnut horse Borax I let go about four weeks ago. He trotted here and that was what the sensation arises from."

CONGRATULATING THE GOVERNOR-ELECT.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—A correspondent called on Judge Hoody this evening at his office, where he spent the afternoon with a few friends. He is still much shattered in health, but looked better than when he returned from Philadelphia. The natural depression that attends his low form of malaria was manifest in his distrust of his election, even when the Republicans all conceded it. He was vexed at the delay in complete returns and apprehensive that the narrow margin of 5,000 on 700,000 votes would not hold out. He is a man of high nervous organization and the pressure of the campaign has been too much for him. He is certainly in better condition than when he left Philadelphia and his friends are confident of his early and complete restoration to health. He is receiving a flood of congratulations from personal callers and by telegraph, and among the earliest to congratulate him to-day in person was Senator Pendleton.

JUDGE FORAKER EXPLAINS HIS DEFEAT.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Judge Foraker this afternoon said that he made out on Monday, county by county, an estimate of his majority in Ohio, and he put it at 6,000 in the State. The returns from the first counties heard from tallied wonderfully closely with his estimates. Later returns began to vary wildly from his figures. Lucas county was one of these, in which he had given Hoody 500, and Butler and Stark counties have also varied from his estimates and against him. He said one main trouble with the Republicans was lack of money; that they only had $9,000 on which to run the campaign. The vote in different parts of the State was so precarious that he did not by any means give up his chances for a small majority.

HOW RANDALL MAY PROFIT BY IT.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—One of the interesting questions raised here as to the effect of this election is the discussion among leading politicians of its influence on the choice of a Speaker for the House of Representatives. The opinion is expressed by prominent Democrats that it will make a boom for Randall. Another expected result interesting to Cincinnatians is the expectation that one and perhaps both Presidential conventions will be held here.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION AND THE SENATORSHIP.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—A. R. McClure telegraphs from here to his paper, The Philadelphia Times: "The Prohibition amendment is defeated, but it has poiled an immense vote—a vote that will make the Prohibitionists disinclined to take far-back pews in the political congregation hereafter, and a vote that should greatly conserve the free-liquor arrogance that has been alighting itself so freely in Ohio. It is probable that the question will settle down on the Scott law or some, like stringent control of the traffic. "The unexpected Democratic loss in this city is more or less imputed to McClure's hostility to Pendleton and his forcing his personal warfare against the Senator at the cost of party harmony. This will make Pendleton strong in the rural districts and his reelection is quite probable, even with the Cincinnati delegation opposed to him or at least not actively supporting him. Pendleton's friends claim that he can be nominated without a vote from either Hamilton or Cayahoga and the claim appears to be warranted. Governor Hoody will naturally take sides with Pendleton against McClure, and The News-Journal, in which Hoody is a shareholder, will gain prestige in its battle against The Enquirer by Hoody's signal triumph."

How Watch Cases are Made.

It is a fact not generally known that the James Bos's Gold Watch Cases really contain more pure gold than many "solid" gold cases. The demand for these watch cases has led to the manufacture of a very poor grade of solid gold watch cases—low in quality, and deficient in quantity. These cases are made from 4 1/2 to 10 karats, and a 5 or 6 karat case is often sold for 12 or 14 karats. It is not economy to buy a watch case so poor in quality that it will soon lose its color, or one so soft that it will lose its shape and fail to shut tight, thus letting in dust and damaging the works, or one so thin that a slight blow will break the crystal, and perhaps the movement. It is economy to buy a James Bos's Gold Watch Case, in which none of these things ever occur. This watch case is not an experiment—it has been made nearly thirty years.

HELENSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 24, 1892.

I sold two James Bos's Gold Watch Cases thirty years ago, when they first came out, and they are in good condition yet. One of them is carried by a carpenter, Mr. L. W. Drake, of Hantsdon, and only shows the wear in one or two places, the other by Mr. Bowman, of Conningham, Pa.; and I can produce one or both of these cases at any time.

W. S. & Co., Lebersburg, Pa. Send 2 cent stamp to Keystone Watch Case Factory, Philadelphia, Pa., for handsome Illustrated Pamphlet showing how these Bos's and Keyless Watch Cases are made.
