

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED. KURTZ, Editor and Prop'r.

Ingersoll now neither believes in God nor the Republican supreme court.

Lewisburg and Milton are both about finishing up their water works, under stock companies.

At Lewisburg an iron standpipe is being erected, which will be 130 feet high and 13 feet in diameter. The borough has obligated itself to pay the company 6 per cent. yearly on the whole investment, for the use of the plugs only; besides this the citizens will have to pay water-rents. The stock thus will be worth from 15 to 20 per cent. At Milton the conditions are about the same. The water in both places will be taken from the river. If they could have water like at Centre Hall, pure, sparkling and fresh from the bowels of the earth, how much higher they would prize it.

The Edmunds law to kill off mormonism does not accomplish its purpose, and might as well not have been passed. Only three convictions have resulted under it, and polygamy is on the increase in spite of the Edmunds law.

Up in Albany a pretty young girl told a plaintive story before Justice Clute, complaining that dashing Harry Finklestone, of Troy, had won her affections, and under promise of buying her a trousseau borrowed $40 from her. The girl afterwards learned that Harry was engaged to seventeen other girls, of whom he had borrowed similar sums, so the match was broken off and an attempt made to recover the money. This Harry beats the "very old Harry."

Is it true that the B. E. V. interest at Bellefonte, has all along opposed the extension of the Pennsylvania road? It always looked so—and we are told so by good authority. Show your hands.

A great battle was fought in Africa. A Khartoum dispatch says: Between 25,000 and 30,000 Arabs attacked Hicks Pasha's army. Ten thousand Arabs, divided into two columns, attacked the Egyptian square on two sides, thus enabling Hicks Pasha to use his six thousand Remington rifles, Krupp gun and Nordenfolt rocket batteries. The Arabs were only armed with lances. Falling after some time to reach the square, they fled, leaving 8,000 dead and all their women, food, baggage and animals behind. Hicks Pasha pursued the main body of fugitives, and overtook them at Melbas, where he found El Madhi posted with the fugitives and a body guard of 2,000 cavalry. The Arabs again were attacked and repulsed with great loss. El Madhi's horse was killed under him. El Madhi is reported to have been cut down by the light cavalry sent in pursuit of him. Hicks Pasha has taken possession of El-Obeid and the Government treasury.

It is told us by good authority that there was an article of agreement between the Pennsylvania and the B. E. V. railroad companies entered into about the time stock was taken and collected from our people, said article stipulating that the Pennsylvania road should not be completed. Is it true that such a gigantic fraud was practiced upon the honest, hardworking people of Centre county? D. G. Bush, what do you know about this? J. D. Shugert, what do you know of such an agreement? Gov. Curtin, Ed. Blanchard, et al, is this true or false? Speak out gentlemen, our people want to know what you know about this alleged article of agreement.

It is to be regretted that a bill was passed in the legislature last winter, extending the time five years for all unfinished railroads within which to complete the same. This bill affects Centre county, and yet our people were not informed of it. With opposition to it, or a proviso, some good might surely have been done the Pennsylvania road, and its completion insured. The bill, however, became a law, and now, if the company sees fit, it can let our unfinished road hang fire another term of five years.

We take pleasure in recommending Hall's Hair Renewer to our readers. It restores gray hair to its natural color, prevents baldness, makes the hair soft and glossy, does not stain the skin, and is altogether the best known remedy for all hair and scalp diseases.

Another heresy case is on board, but this time in the Universalist church. A committee of Philadelphia members of the Universalist faith, Rev. Messrs. Moore and Sweetzer, has investigated the charges of heresy preferred against Rev. H. A. Westall, the pastor of the Erie Universalist church, and the investigation resulted in his resigning from the membership of the Universalist ministry. The charge was based upon Rev. Westall's non-acceptance of the Bible as an absolute authority on matters of faith. The trustees of the Erie Church declined to follow the instructions of the investigating committee and have re-engaged Mr. Westall another year.

The formal transfer of the command of the army from Gen. W. T. Sherman to Lieutenant General P. H. Sheridan took place at noon on 1 inst., at the headquarters of the army in the War Department building. Gen. Sheridan spent the forenoon in making himself acquainted with the business of the office. Gen. Sherman and the members of his staff rendered him every assistance. Shortly before 12 o'clock the two highest officers of the army called on the Secretary of War, Gen. Sherman, to take official leave and Gen. Sheridan to report for duty. The transfer was accomplished quietly and without any ceremony whatever.

A FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Millfistown, Oct. 31.—It has just transpired that Louis Musselman, a farmer living in Millfistown, Juniata county, committed suicide on Friday morning by hanging himself in his corn crib. He arose early, fed his stock and attended to his customary duties before committing the rash act. He was aged about 42 years, and had been afflicted for some time with malaria, and this, together with several law suits in which he was engaged, it is supposed unbalanced his mind and prompted the commission of the deed. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely end.

Thos. J. Elder eloped with Mrs. Lloyd, from their home in Mill Hill, on 22. He is lodged in the Lock Haven jail in default of $500 bail. He explains the elopement as a joke played on Mr. Lloyd as the reason of his returning. However, he left the following heartless note behind for his wife: "You shall never see me again; I have left with a woman I have loved for years." Thus, it seems, the true reason of their return is yet to be divulged.—Cl. Democrat.

JOHNSON, HOLLOWAY & Co., Philadelphia, agents.

—Will the railroad be made? It looks like it, and there are promises in that direction, and if the people are deceived there is one consolation in knowing that a part of the money can be gotten back by purchasing clothing at the Philad. Branch. On every suit you buy from Lewis & Co. you can save from $5 to $10 compared with prices at other stores. Now it is worth while to patronize the Philad. Branch under such inducements. The goods there are warranted first class, and should an article be found different, any loss will be made up. The Philad. Branch does business only on honest principles, and is determined that every man shall go away satisfied that he has the full worth of his money, and more for it than any other clothing house will give. These are facts attested by any customer of Lewis & Co.

Suffering from Hydrophobia.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 26.—About ten months ago a thirteen-year-old daughter of James Barry, of Germantown, Schuylkill county, was bitten by a dog, and as the wound apparently had healed up no serious thought was given to it. In the early part of the week the girl began acting strangely at times and she took to her bed and soon became speechless. A physician was soon for, but the poison was already actively at work, and before the doctor arrived the girl was exhibiting in violent paroxysms of hydrophobia. On Wednesday during a quiet spell she indicated a desire to communicate with her mother, and wrote on paper furnished her "The dog has done it all." She has continued to have fits all day, and no hope is entertained for her recovery.

CLIMBING THE SPIRAL STAIRS. Invisible Architecture in a New-England Parsonage. "Yes," she said, "our children are married and gone, and my husband and I sit by our winter fire much as we did before the little ones came to widen the circle. Life is something like a spiral stair case: we are all the time coming around over the spot we started from, only one degree further up the stairs."

"That is a pleasant illustration," remarked her friend, "amusingly, gazing into the glowing coals which radiated a pleasant heat from the many window stoves. "You know we cannot stop toiling up the hill, though."

"Surely we cannot, and for myself I don't find fault with that necessity provided the advance in life is not attended with calamity or suffering for I have had my share of that. Not long since my health utterly broke down. My system was full of poisons. My digestion became thoroughly disordered, and my nerves were in a wretched state. I was languid, ate little and that without enjoying my food, and no strength or ambition to perform even my house duties. Medical treatment failed to reach the seat of the trouble. The disease—which surely was weakness of all the vital organs—progressed until I had several attacks which my physicians pronounced to be acute congestion of the stomach. I was given up to die. As the crisis had partially passed, my husband heard of the merits of PARKER'S Tonic and an incipient in just such case as mine. I took it and felt its good effects at once. It appeared to pervade my body, as though the blessing of a new life had come to me. Taking no other medicine I continued to improve, and now I am in better health than I have been for a long time."

DROWNED IN BEER. Concerning this Popular Beverage Two Men Express their Minds. "The fact is, and you may stick a pin there, that the people of this country are likely to be drowned in a flood of lager beer," shouted an enthusiastic teetotaler the other day, into the ear of your earnest correspondent. That German drink has struck us hard. It is a second deluge.

"Yes, and the worst of this beer-drinking business is that it gets up kidney troubles, as a heavy wind raises the waves," added a city physician, who had a knowledge of the times and a tendency to metaphors. "The midnight seaborner leaves behind it a wake of furred tongues, headaches, neuralgic pains, nausea, and all that, and lays the foundation of Bright's Disease."
