AGRICTO TURK.

PRESERVING SALT MEAT .--- Much of the corned peef and salt perk put up by farmers becomes tainted or completely spoiled during the summer and fall. The injury is not caused by using too small an amount of salt. As a rule, much more salt is employed than is necessary to preserve the meat. Sometimes it contains impurities that cause the meat stick, to contract a bad flavor. Pure salt should be employed for preserving meat and dry products. It costs but little more than that which is impure, and it is more satisfactory in all respects. Meat packed in a barrel and covered with brine becomes tainted or speiled consequence of small portions of it or some of the fat or blood it contains coming to the top of the brine. The air comes in contact with it there, and decomposition takes place. The products of the decomposition of animal substances slways have an unpleasant taste and smell, and these in the case of meat in a barrel are communicated to the brine and from thence to the meat, Meat packed in brine should be cut in pieces with a very sharp knife. This will leave the edges smooth. After it has been for a few days in the brine the latter should be poured off and Loiled. The bolling will cause all the impurities to rise to the surface while the blood will be coagulated. These substances should then be skimmed off, and when the brine is cold it can be returned to the barrel. If the brine does boiling should be repeated. Special pains should be taken to keep the meat under the brine at all times. A perforated top or false cover; or a frame work, should rest on the meat and be weighted down by a clean stone. If these pre-cautions are employed the hability of cautions are employed the hability of spoiling will be very slight.

CORN AND OATS FOR HORSES -The stated as follows; The former is deficient in many of the elements of nutrition so necessary for recuperating the constant wear and tear which necessarily takes place in the body of a living animal. On this account horses which are fed exclusively on corn and hay do not receive the nourishment which adpears necessary for the kue support and maintenance of the animal fabric;hence we must not be surprised that corn fed horses show signs of being lanquid, by sweating profusely while being worked, lack vitality, etc. Oats, on the contra-ry, contain more of the essential elements of nutrition than any other arti cle of food which can be fed with 1mpunity to horses. Oats are not only the most natural food for horses, but are decidedly the most nutritious. They are the cheapest, because there is less risk in feeding them, and experience has proved that horses properly fed on oats and timothy hay can, with regular exercise, good grooming, and proper sanitary regulations, be brought to the highest state of physical culture, and can perform more work with less ovidence of fatigue than when fed on any other article of food.

A Busy Scene.

Mr. W. W. Sunderland is one of Danbury's (Conn.) first citizens, and a prominent man. His worl is considered as good as his bond, and any statement coming from him would never be doubted by any one knowing him. He conducts, at 5 and 7 Spring street, a very large factory for the manufacture of sashes, blinds, doors, etc. In connection with this he employs a large number of men, and many of the largest buildings in the city are monuments of his skill as a builder and architect Recently, when called on, he was found at his place busily engaged in directing a small army of men. On making our errand known we were invited to his office, when Mr. S. briefly told a wonderful story of a matter which had troubled him greatly for a long time. He said: "I am very busy, but always have time to say a good word for so valuable an article as Hunt's Remedy. My mother is seventy-six (76) years old. She has suffer-ed for a long time with the dronsy and kided for a long time with the dropsy and kid-ney complaint. She has doctored with several physicians and used a large quantity of medicine. Really, she has taken everything we could hear of, without finding any relief, until my sister, who lives at Bridge-port, Conn., suggested to her to use Hunt's Remedy, as she knew of a number of perturned to the barrel. If the brine does sons there who had been benefitted by using not continue pure, the operation of it. She commenced using it, and finding relief she has continued until now she has used in all eight (8) bottles, from which she has received great benefit. Her case is con-sidered incurable, but we all think, as she says, Hunt's Remedy is all that keeps her

Nothing Like It.

No medicine has ever been known so effectual in the cure of all those diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood as Scovill's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for the cure of scrofula, white swellings, rheumatism, pimples, blotches, eruptions, venereal sores and diseases, consumption, goitre, boils, cancers, and all kindred liseases. No better means of securing a beautiful complexion can be obtained than by using Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, which cleanses the blood and gives beauty to the skin.
