VILLARD'S RUIN.

Why the Great Railroad Magnate Finally Succumbed.

Of All his Wealth Absolutely Nothing Left-Sacrificing his own Money to Fight the Wall street Attack on Northern Pacific.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 .- The ruin of Henry ada 29. Villard, the great man to whose untiring energy the Northern Pacific owes whatever irretrievable. His vast properties, aggregating possibly ten million dollars, have been swallowed up in the insatiable maws of the great enterprises he had under way and was supporting. In fact the case is a parallel one with that of Jay Cooke, his predecessor in the presidency of the Northern Pacific, and is prototype as a failing railroad magnate. A reporter visited the palatial residence at within a few days ago the property of Mr. Villard, and in which he now occupies a single floor through the suffrance of his creditors. The reporter saw him and was deeply impressed with his wretched appearance But he begged to be spared an interview and referred the scribe to a particular friend with the remark, "You may take what h says as coming from me. He knows all about it, and has the sad satisfaction of having given me advise which, if followed, might have rendered your visit here today fruitless." Under a pledge that his nam should not appear, Mr. Villard's friend said: Mr. Villard is a ruined man in his private fortune. He hasn't as much money to his name today as you have. It has all gone to the help of the great enterprises he has been his conscientious integrity, for he has voluntarily sacrificed his private means to support the Northern Pacific. Mr. Villard deserves the sympathy of the public instead of the villification and abuse he has received from some quarters. He is a very sick man. This thing has preyed upon his mind so that I thought at one time that he would never recover his mental faculties. He has absolutely nothing left. His stocks, his bonds, his two residences, are all involved in the wreck. He has saved nothing. He never was so rich a man as was reported. He was not worth ten EATING millions, as I have heard it said, five was Regular meals 25 cfs. Oysters in all styp | ment of the Northern Pacific, and there was some ill feeling between the two. When he called and found Mr. Villard sick in bed, and when he learned that he had impoverished himself in his efforts to support the company.

Mr. Billings expressed his entire belief in Mr. Villard's integrity, and there was a scene of reconciliation between the two. Why Just opened a full line of Choice Fami- he sacrificed his own fortune is a long story Briefly, the burden of this great enterpris upon him has been almost beyond belief.
Upon him alone depended the carrying out of this gigantic undertaking. It was absolutely necessary that the road should be fin-PROVISIONS, ished before the present congress met. What its fate at the hands of congress would have been otherwise the bills that have already been introduced will show. Most railroad with a character from congress are per mitted to issue bonds for every twenty five DRIED FRUITS, miles or so of completed road. These are MEATS, sold to raise money with which to build. But the terms of the Northern Pacific charter required it to complete a given number of miles before a bond could be issued. This made it necessary for the company to borrow oney, sometimes as much as $12,000,000 or FISH, SYRUPS, ETC., $15,000,000, as at the time Garfield was shot no action could be had from congress. The GLASS, CHINA, WOOD AND first thing President Arthur was called on to do was to authorise the issue of bonds for over three hundred miles of completed roads All this financiering had to be done by Mr. Villard himself. When the Wall street operators made a combined attack on the stock recently, Mr. Villard was straining at the lowest living prices. Goods are every nerve to preserve the company's credit make matters worse, he was away from the city and had to do business by telegraph. A til everything he owns is pledged.

But there is one source of strain upon him which I have not mentioned. Money MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS has been thrust into his hands to invest for other people. All financial men know what that experience is. Friends would insist on having him invest their savings. When the stock went down such was Mr. Villard's sense of honor that I have known him many and many a time to put his hands into his own pocket and purchase the stock to save them from its depreciation. I have in mind one case within my own knowledge If I should tell you the man's name you would be surprised. In this case Mr. Villard voluntarily suffered a loss of $90,000. I suppose he has lost $1,000,000 in this way. Mr. Villard's resignation of the presidency is now in the hands of the directors, and will be accepted at Friday's meeting, I suppose. Mr. Billings has been urged to accept the place, but he does not want it. His health i

How Watch Cases are Made.

The many great improvements introduced in the manufacture of the Jas. Boss' Gold Watch Case, have led to similar improvements in the making of silver cases. Under the old methods, each part of a silver case was made of several pieces of metal soldered together, requiring a great amount of cutting and soldering, which softened the metal and gave it the pliability at the head of. There can be no question of | of lead rather than the elasticity of silver. Under the improved methods, each part of the Keystone Silver Watch Case is made of one solid piece of metal hammered into shape. The advantages are readily appar> ent, for every one knows that hammering hardens the metal while soldering softens it. To test the superiority of the Keystone Silver Watch Case, take one of 3 oz. weight, press it squarely in the center when closed, and it will not give, while a case of same weight of any other make will give enough to break the crystal. The Keystone Silver Watch Case is made only with silver cap and gold joints.

Send 2 cent stamp to Keystene Watch Cace Factories, Phila-delphia, Pa., for handsome Himtrated Pumphlet showing how James Boos' and Keystone Watch Cases are made. (To be continued.)
