Analysis by Dr. A. Voelcker, F. R. S., Con-sulting Chemist Royal Agricultural Society, England, shows only a trace of nitrates in Blackwell's Buil Durham Tobacco. The soli of the Golden Belt of North Carolina, in which this tobacco is grown, don't supply nitrates to the leat. That is the secret of its delicious mildness. LAMAR ON THE -ISSUES.

A Question of Veracity Between Kiefer and His Clerk.

Dead Congressmen as Expensive as the Living-Shades of Schenck at the Capital-The Porter Debate -MIP. New's Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.-The letter which lenator Lamar wrote the Commonwealth club of Philadelphia regretting his inability to attend the Carlisle reception is now for the first time marie public. The concluding paragraph is as follows: "The paramount issue before the country is still the reform of the national government from its sectional usurpation and corruption. The great want of the country is peace and administrative reform. To accomplish this great end of admistrative reform all true democrats, all patriots, whether of democratic or republican antecedents, who are willing to co-operate, should, whatever may be their differences on other questions, units to elect a democratic president. The union of the domocracy for the good of the Union is the first step to a crowning victory that will in-augurate an administration under which local self-government, a free and harmonious play of economic forces, the just rights of states and individuals, of labor and capi-tal, will be secured, and at the same time the American republic shall have opened to it a career of grandeur and beneficence transcending even the glories of the past." The official announcement of the resigna-tion of John C. New as assistant secretary of the treasury now made is not unexpected. Mr. New accepted the position under what he supposed to be an assurance that he would be expected to hold the position only a short time, after which he might be appointed secretary. At that time it was thought that Secretary Folger would be either promoted to some other position or would retire from the cabinet. Mr. New has since, at different times, when it was evident that the supposed arrangement would not be made, notified the president of his desire to retire; but the president last fall urged him to remain. It is now believed that Mr. New is not in favor of President Arthur's renomination. His pressing business interests are given as the cause of his retirement.

A few days since ex-Speaker Keifer said the resignation of Mr. C.W. Tyson, a committee stenographer of the forty seventh congress, was volunteered and showed the communica tion containing the resignation, which was dated March 3, 1883. Mr. Tyson was examined by Messra. Dockery, Brewer and Muller, of the house committee on accounts, and he said that the resignation had been demanded by Mr. Keifer, who expressed a de-aire to appoint in his stead his nephew. Mr. Tyson further said that he had not contemplated resigning until asked to do so by the ex-speaker. The members of the sub committee on ac-

SENATOR MAHONE ATTACKED A Bitter Onslaught Made Upon him

by State Senator Newberry.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 24.-The event in legislative circles is the discussion of Senator Newberry's resolution calling upon Senator Mahone to resign his seat in the United States Senate. The senate chamber was crowded, a number of ladies being present. Mr. Newberry opened in support of the measures and made a flerce onslaught upon Mahone, whom he termed a vile slandered of Virginia. He arraigned him for leaving his seat in the last congress and taking up abode in Richmond for the purpose of dic tating to the legislature; for assuming to himself an air of authority foreign to the customs of a free people, and for making the legislature pass laws to advance his own in terest and gratify his insasiated greed for plunder, place and power. "Think of it for a moment, Mr. President and senators," said the speaker, "and then bits your lips and hang your heads in shame, and with uplifted hand and a firm resolve let us swear that the like shall never be again in this our father's house. Let the seal of our condemnation be placed upon it. It is a blight on the fair name of Virginia, an insuit to the manhood of her people, and such conduct is without a par-allel in her history, and, so far as I know, is without a parallel in this great nation. It is thumb-catches, etc., are made of SOLID GOLD. an insult to the virtue and intelligence of a free people, and a usurpation of a power not to be tolerated under any circumstances. Every instinct of our nature and every emotion of our souls revolts at the thought of a petty tyrant and puny boss advertising us to the world and crying out in a squeaking tone of voice; 'Virginia for sale! Who'll buy, who'll buy!' Yes, Mr. President, Virginia was offered for sale and was sold. But thank God she was not delivered. Though fettered and bound as she was, she is still free. She has broken the withes of stalwartisms with which she was bound, and her brave and noble people are free. And, sir, permit me to say here, that they have been down to the Jordan of democracy and washed their hands of the leprous taint of bossism and have consecrated their hearts anew to the cause of human freedom and mean to strike for a higher and a purer Anglo-Baxon civilization." The speaker at some length argued to show that Mahone, while he was being elected to the United States senate as a demo crat, was intriguing with Grant and Cameron and giving assurances that he would cast the readjuster influence for Grant. He charged further that, being elected as a democrat to represent a democratic people, Mahone had now gone over to the repub-licans, if they would have him. He has made Virginia a mere pocket borough in the hands of a trading politician whose vanity has outgrown his discretion and whose patriotism is measured by his purse. The speaker bitterly anathematized Mahone as a traitor and traducer, who had spread abroad lies about bloodshed in Virginia. Mr. Newberry said this was one of the most peaceful and law-abiding states in the Union. He insisted that the people of Virginia had the right to demand Mahono's resignation.

This process of manufacture was invented by James Boss, who started in business in 1854, and the methods and tools used in making these watch cases are covered by patents. This is the only watch case made under this process. For many years the introduction of these goods was slow, owing to popular prejudice against "plated" goods, but gradually the public learned that the James Boss' Gold Watch Case was not at cheap gold-washed or electro-plated article, but was made of genuine gold plates of standard quality and thickness. Conscientious adherence to the determination to make the best watch case ever put on the market, and the adoption of every improvement suggested, has made the James Boss' Gold Watch Case the STANDARD. most subject to wear-the bow, crown, hinges,
