A TRENTON SENSATION.

Senator Youngblood Claiming to Have Been Insulted by the Governor.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 5 .- Mr. Youngblood furnished the senate with a genuine sensa-tion last night. In response to Gov. Abbett's special message, calling attention to the re-fusal of a Hackensack Cemetery association to permit the burial within its limits of a worthy colored man's body, the senator Grew up a bill to meet all such cases. When it came up on second reading Mr. Young-blood rose and stated that he 'had had the hardihood, temerity or impudence, or what-ever it might be characterized, to call on Gov. Abbett at the executive chamber to ask his opinion of the Hackensack bill. Had the governor," he said, "quietly kieked him (Youngblood) (out he could not have more hastily followed the bill. He had framed the bill upon the basis of the governor's message of last week and his excellency would learn before the close of his gubernatorial term that there were people in the state beside Gov. Abbett. For himself he did not choose to take the governor's impudence and was indifferent as to whether he, the governor, liked it or not, but he wished to state publicly that he had been insulted by the governor, and that any gentleman who should call at the executive chamber must take the same chances Mr. Youngblood declined to talk after the adjournment, except to say, curtly: "I don't propose to put up with any of Abbett's insolence." Gov. Abbett said to the American Press representative that he did not insult Mr. Youngblood; he was opposed to the provision of the bill which exempted religious associations which own or control a cemetery; they have no right to discriminate. "Mr. Youngblood," he added, "ventured to suggest that I did not understand the bill, and I took occasion to inform him that my knowledge of the subject surpassed his. He took umbrage at this, I suppose, but certainly he was not insulted."

GAY HEAD'S HORROR.

The Investigation Still in Progress-An Alleged Heartless Admission. Boston, Feb. 7.—The official investigation into the cause of the City of Columbus disaster was continued. Roderick McDonald, quartermaster of the ill-fated ship, thirty-five years of age, and a follower of the sea for the last eighteen years, testified. His estimony, however, was remarkable only for what he didn't know.

Capt. Burnham, of the board of inspector of steam vessels for the Boston district, stated that the captain of the steamship Glaucus had admitted to him privately that the Glaucus passed the wreck of the steamship City of Columbus after daylight on the morning of the disaster and recognized her; that the signals of distress were seen from the Glaucus, but that the latter steamer did not stop because the captain did not wish to be delayed on his trip. "This," said Capt. Burnham, "is one of the most heartless things I ever heard of. It was outrageous, and I propose to summon the entire crew of the Glaucus before the board. I never heard of such a violation of that holy but unwritten law of humanity so essentially and so generally respected among seamen."

The Queen's Speech. LONDON, Feb. 5.-Parliament reassembled to-day; Charles Bradlaugh occupied a back seat. The queen's speech congratulates her faithful commons upon the satisfactory relations existing between Great Britain and foreign nations. The Madagascar incident had been arranged cordially with France. A commission had been appointed and was sitting in Paris discussing the regulation of the Newfoundland histories which, it was hoped, would be concluded satisfactorily to both the United States and Great Britain An agreement had been made with Portugal respecting the interests of that country and England in the Congo country. Arrangements were progressing favorably towards the assumption of diplomatic relations with Mexico, and negotiations had been commenced for commercial treaties with Turkey and Japan. The treaties with Spain and Corea had been signed. Unforseen calamities in Egypt had prevented the evacua-tion of that country by the Brit-ish troops, but it was hoped that the existing difficulties there would be speedily adjusted. It was expected that the Transvaal negotiations would soon reach a favorable conclusion. The social condition of Ireland exhibited a substantial im provement. Agrarian crime has sensibly diminished, and law has been everywhere upheld. The estimates for the services of the coming year are in a forward state of preparation, and will shortly be submitted to you. The following bills are recommended

Pathologists Puzzled. SPRINGFIELD, Pa., Feb. 7 .- Wm. Furge son, of this place, when seventeen years o' age was attacked with severe pains in his right hand, and though he is now forty-six years old he has been annually attacked similarly, though at each time suffering more than at the preceding time. Convulsions and paroxysms now visit him at exactly the same period of the year, and always at the same hour in the evening. He is now sufsame hour in the evening. He is now suf-fering the most acute agony, and is visited by scores of physicians, who have been com-pletely baffled. His body becomes terribly swollen, he becomes unconscious, and on waking shows evidence of having passed through a terrible ordeal. On being restored he becomes perfectly well, and is only troubled at intervals of a year. The case can be accounted for by the fact that Furgeson's mother during gestation saw the contortions and evidences of agony in a snake which had been thrown into a fire, and that he has become thus birthmarked in

MADE ON PURPOSE. One of Those Mistakes (?) Which are

More Frequent than Profitable. "Why, my child, this is not BENSON'S CAP-CINE POROUS PLASTER," said a father to his little daughter, after examining a package she had just brought from the drug store. "In't it, papa? I am sorry, but I asked the man for Benson's—I know I did, and he took the 25-cents you gave me to pay for it with," exclaimed the child, positively. "Maybe the drug man made a mistake."

"I'll go 'round and see myself," was the gentleman's comment, as he donned his coat and hat.
"Why didn't you send me Benson's plaster instead of this cheap and trashy thing?"
"Why I thought that would suit you just as well "You thought! you thought! What business had you to think? I don't pay you for thinking, but for filling my order," said the indignant caller, contemptuously. "Take that thing back and give me my money, I'll get what I want elsewhere.

BULWER LYTTON'S BRIDGE.

Where it Touches the Shores and the Great Columns in Midstream.

"What a beautiful bridge between old age and childhood is religion. How intuitively the child begins with prayer and worship on enteaing life, members of the lower house of the Saxon and how intuitively, on quitting life, the old man parliament, who have always been consid-turns back to prayer and worship, putting himself again side by side with the infant," remarks Sir

Yes, but between its distant abutments the they were among the most persistent opponents of Prince Bismarck's policy, and in 1872 they were condemned to two years' in wrath and desolation. Prayer and worship in wrath and desolation. Prayer and worship alone do not sustain these. Nature's solid rocks must lie unshaken beneath, and human art and skill must rear and solidify the structure overhead. God's will is best exemplified in the laws He head. God's will is best exemplified in the laws He has made for the creatures whom He has placed under their control. Neither the child's trustful "Our Father," nor the old man's "Forget me not in the midst of mine infirmities," will alter this by the weight of a single grain.

Science and art first—then faith and prayer—is the order of heaven itself. Divinity heals through its agents, and those agents are the discoveries of men; not the vague announcements of prophets or seers. Is life a burden to you? Does time drag? Is your power to cope with life's problem and duties weakened? You are not well. Your blood is sluggish and tainted, perhaps; or some important organ is torpid or overworked. This fact may have taken the form of dispepsia, rheumatism, gout, malaria, pains in the stomach, chronic headache or any of a half a dozen other ills. P A B-K E B'S TO N I C will invigorate you, as fresh air invigorates those who have been shut up in damp, fetid cells. It is powerful pure, delicious, scientific, safe—the keystone of the central arch of the bridge of life.
