LOCAL ITEMS.

Rain on Sunday and Monday. The snow has all disappeared.
Wolf & Grove advertise in the Reporter for 40,000 ties.
Judge Orvis and D. F. Fortney, as we learn, are absent at Philadelphia, attending supreme court.
A son of J. S. Krape, at Spring Mills, broke an arm by falling down a flight of stairs in the school-house.
Moyer, a son of J. Henry Keller, who lately suffered intense y from a lock in his bowels, is out of danger again.
The fellow who believes in the groundhog was in town the other day.
He takes stock in spoons and wiches but takes no paper.
We would be glad to publish happenings sent by friends from their localities—it makes a paper interesting to western readers. Much can be put on even a postal-card.
"Our Little Ones, The Nursery," for February, is a gem, and sets the little ones wild with delight by its engravings and reading.
The adv. in this issue of the Reporter of F. G. Francisus, Lewistown, will be found profitable reading by all. Read it, sure.

No family should be without Schler's groceries, because they keep only such as are pure and fresh. They have as complete an assortment as can be found anywhere, and never fail to render satisfaction in any article sold.

PERSONAL.—Wm. Harper, merchant, of Bellefonte, favored our sanctum with a call. Mrs. Philip M. Meyer as "King," and Miss Belle Rankin, "Queen," all under the direction of Prof. P. H. Meyer.
Mrs. Dr. Woods will preside at the piano. Every person invited. Concert ticket, 25 cents. Door open at 6 1/2 o'clock; exercises commencing at 7.

Albert Mingle has purchased Mr.
Doll's interest in the shoe store of Doll & Mingle, and will carry on the same as heretofore. Mr. Mingle will render the utmost satisfaction to all patrons, and can be relied upon for strict honesty.

Mrs. Burk, 228 Elmers St., Chambersburg, Pa., says she has been entirely cured of dyspepsia by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

A teachers' local institute will be held at Centre Hall, Friday and Saturday of this week. As already announced, Prof. Groff will be present and deliver a free lecture on Friday evening.

going on within. Expel the lurking poison. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was devised for the purpose and does it.

The musical convention held here, last week, by that eminent musical instanctor, Dr. Perkins, of New York, was a fine affair of its kind. The weather was unfavorable during nearly the entire term, yet the attendance was better than one yet has seen under the circumstances.
So far as the musical part is concerned, it was a decided success, as the class acquitted itself most admirably at the concerts. The program at Thursday evening's concert was as follows:

- PART I.
1. CHORUS—"In the Lovely Vale of Streams."
2. QUARTET—"The Band."—Misses Bradley, Stott, and Mr. Meyer.
3. GLEE—"Hunting Glee."
4. SONG—"A Bird in Hand."—Miss Reeser.
5. PART-SONG—"Song of the Thicket." 6. SONG—"Tis Only a Little Faded Flower."—Miss Mary Bradley.
7. SOLO AND CHORUS—"Thou Art Our Father."—Solo by Miss Reeser.
8. SONG.—By Lowell Meyer.

- PART II.
1. SONG—"Man in the Life-boat."—
Rev. Mr. Fischer.
2. CHORUS—"Far away the Camp-fires Burn."
3. SONG—"The Mountain-lad."—Miss Stott.
4. GLEE—"Here in Cool Glee." 5. SONG.—By Dr. Perkins.
6. CHORUS—"Now the Roll of the Lively Drum."
7. SONG.—By Lowell Meyer.
8. SOLO AND QUARTET—"Let me Dream while Life shall Last."—Solo by Rev. Mr.
Fischer.
9. CHORUS—"Victoria! Victoria!"

The song by Miss Reeser, of Lock Haven,—"Three old Maids of Lee," was one of the prettiest features of the evening, and brought down the house with rounds of applause. Miss Reeser has a sweet voice, full of musical pathos, and sings with winsome ease and grace. The Misses Bradley and Stott, of Bellefonte, also proved equal to the occasion and gave evidence in their solos of first-class vocal qualities and musical talent of which Bellefonte may well feel proud.
Prof. Lowell Meyer, with his comic solo, formed one of the pleasurable features of Thursday evening, and brought him rounds of applause. Dr. Perkins, in his solo, gave evidence of fine voice as a vocalist and that he is as rich in voice as he is able as an instructor.

Mrs. Wolf, of Robinsonburg, in a solo, gave evidence of a fine voice.
The piano was presided over by Miss Mary Bradley, assisted by J. W. Wolf.
Prof. Stetler, with his trombone, added greatly to the effect of the music, and proved him to be an accomplished musician.

FRIDAY EVENING.
After dinner very large, every part of the house crowded. Good order was preserved throughout by the audience. The concert was even better than the evening before. The music was difficult yet charming and well performed, the entire class acquitting itself admirably. The following was the program:

- PART I.
1. CHORUS—"O Lord be Merciful." 2. QUARTET—"Friendship, Love and Song."
3. ANTHEM—"Come Ye that Love the Lord."
4. SONG—"Mary of Argyll."—Miss Stott.
5. GLEE—"Stealing Song."—Miss
Reeser.
6. SONG—"I am Content."—Miss Reeser.
7. ANTHEM—"Jerusalem, my Glorious Home."
8. SONG.—By Lowell Meyer.
9. TROMBONE SOLO.—By Mr. Stetler.

- PART II.
1. SONG—"Man in the Life-boat."—
Rev. Mr. Fischer.
2. CHORUS—"Far away the Camp-fires
Burn."
3. "O how Delightful!"—Miss Bradley.
4. SOLO QUARTET—"Hear dem Bells." 5. CHORUS—"Here in Cool Grot."
6. SONG.—By Lowell Meyer.
7. SOLO AND CHORUS—"The Mavelous Work."
8. SOLO.—By Miss Reeser.
9. JUBILEE QUARTET—"Joshua Made de Sun Stand Still."
10. CHORUS—"Soldiers' Chorus," from the opera of "Fouquet."

Prof. Philip Meyer, Wm. Keller, Krieger, and other musical instructors were members of the class and added greatly to the success of the convention.
The following is a list of the names of the singers in attendance:

Clinton Co., Cyrus Oriler and daughter, Henry Oriler and daughter, Hebersburg, Mrs. E. Wolf, Miss Beiss, G. Grove, Wm. Grove, T. Yrman,

Meyer, Prof. Wm. Keller, Geo. Roy, M. S. Berntine, James Lohr, Al Ott, Misses Kate and Cora McCormick, and Mr. Geo. Emerick.

Col. Josiah Neff, a native and life-long citizen of Potter township, died at his home near Centre Hill, on Saturday night, 16. Mr. Neff's health was delicate for the last two years, and subjected him to occasional confinements, but he would usually sufficiently to go from home again.
It is only a short time ago we met our dear friend in Centre Hall, looking ill, tho' we would not have suspected him so near death's door—his death was unexpected.

He was at the table at tea, and suddenly complained of a pain in his side, remarking, "I am dying," restoratives were immediately applied and he rallied a moment, complaining of the pain moving around the small of his back to the other side, in a moment more he leaned back on his chair, and expired, uttering his last words, "I am going to heaven." His age was 70 y. Col. Neff had a large circle of acquaintances, and when he professed friendship it was warm and true.
He was many years an active member of the M. E. Church, and an upholder of religious societies, as well as liberal in giving to their support. He had also a large vein of public spirit and favored all projects which tended to the public good.
As a farmer, he was a model as well as a highly successful one. His remains were interred at the Centre Hall cemetery on Wednesday, followed by a large concourse of people. He leaves a widow and daughter in the homestead and two sons in the west, to mourn an affectionate husband and father. Peace to his ashes.

In Bellefonte 16, the Republicans elected their local ticket. They stuck to their ticket. You see it?

All the principal business places in Bellefonte are using the electric light, in consequence of which the gas company has reduced its charges to 92 per 1000.

The believer in the groundhog now says the animal did not go back into its hole because he thought there would be another six weeks of cold weather, but for the reason that he knew it would be too wet to be out.

The Messrs. Vandye have the contract for the completion of our road, and are getting ready to go to work. Mr.
Vandyke says if he had the needed time he would have the road finished two months hence.

Now is the time, while prices have been again reduced at the Philadelphia Branch, to get ready-made clothing for less money than ever before. Prices have been reduced in order to get rid of stock on hand and make room for the spring trade. This is a rare chance for first-class ready-made clothing, every article sold will be warranted as represented.

There will be a meeting of Teachers in the public school-house at Belle fonte, on Saturday, March 1st, to organize a county Teachers' Association, for mutual benefit.

More rain on Tuesday. Further rain on Wednesday. For a change, we suppose, there'll be rain on Thursday.
Friday, however, we think, there will be —more rain.

Prof. Groff, of Lewisburg University, will deliver a FREE lecture in Centre Hall, on Friday evening, 22, in one of the churches.

Very stormy on Wednesday and colder and snow squalls.

In Memory of Wendell Phillips.
Boston, Feb. 9.—The Irish societies of Boston met this evening, and in consequence of the death of Wendell Phillips, voted to reconsider the vote to parade on St. Patrick's day, and voted to celebrate the day by a lecture on Sunday, March 16, the proceeds to be donated toward the erection of a monument or statue to the memory of Wendell Phillips.

At the memorial service to the late Wendell Phillips in Faneuil hall George E. Mc-Neil, a noted labor reformer, presided, and addresses were made by the following persons, supposed to be present every phrase of reform for which Mr. Phillips labored: Mr.
McNeil, J. M. S. Babcock, E. M. Chamberlain, Julia Ward Howe, Rev. Mr. McKenna, Rev. Dr. A. A. Miner, Hon. James M. Bufford and W. W. Brown. Letters of regret were read from John G. Whittier, Jesse Jones, George T. Downing and others, and from the trades unions. The attendance was about 3,500.

Down in a Coal Mine.
ASHLAND, Pa., Feb. 7.—While Joseph Smith, Michael Mulroy and William Sitzer were riding up the slope at the tunnel colliery this morning the running gear became detached from the car, precipitating Smith and Mulroy to the bottom. Both were instantly killed. Sitzer jumped from the car and escaped unhurt.

Half a Pintful of Blood.
ST. ALBANS, Feb. 15.—There were important developments in the Lake Champlain murder case. A party searching for Krans-er's body in Ladham bay found on Smith's point, a short distance from the shore, nearly half a pintful of blood and two spots where a human body had evidently lain. The red-dness of the blood was quite distinct.
Leading from this locality were also tracks and footprints out on the ice in the direction of two fish holes.

Burglar Keeler on Trial.
BROOKLYN, Feb. 15.—In Justice Walsh's court Edward Keeler, the burglar who is wanted in so many states, had a partial hearing on the charge of entering the jewelry store of E. H. Hayden, No. 235 Fulton street, and stealing property valued at $3,000. The examination will be continued.

A QUEEN'S CITY HORROR

Twelve Lives Lost by the Fall of Undermined Buildings.

Fifty Saved by the Boats—Statements of the Rescued—The Flood Here-where—Prompt Measures to Relieve the Suffering.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 16.—Robert Kyle's boarding house, corner Pearl and Ludlow streets, in the flooded district, fell yesterday morning at 4 o'clock and immediately took fire. The flames were soon extinguished and most of the inmates rescued, but John W.
Kyle, Mary Colter, Mand Ellis, James Orden, Bernard Von Wanker, Mrs. Von Wanker and Thomas Burke, his wife and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Wochmeier were drowned.

The scene which followed the crash was one of horror. Men were shouting and women and children were screaming for help.
Soon several boats arrived, and the boatsmen, with aid of lanterns, began to rescue the inmates of the houses. About fifty people were taken out of the wrecked buildings.

During the entire day the vicinity of the accident was crowded with people who not only filled the street above the water line but went out in boats to have a better view of the wrecked buildings at a casual glance.
The block appeared as if the fronts on both Pearl and Ludlow streets are still standing, but the back part of the houses are gone. She rear wall gave way and carried with it the main part of the buildings, breaking them across. Thus they were split in two. The fact that the front wall remained standing was providential, as otherwise there must have been much greater loss of life. By placing ladders against the remaining wall the firemen were able to rescue the people still on the upper floors without much difficulty.

Some very narrow escapes from death were reported by the survivors of the shocking accident. Ben Wochmeier says he did not awake until the crash came and he found himself going down into the water. With desperate strength he broke through the lath and plaster with his fist and crawled through the hole thus made. He was only slightly bruised. W. H. Cox, who slept on the third floor, with William Hahn, in a front room, was let down into the water, and Hahn was left. The room parted in two, and Hahn plunged into the water, and leaving Hahn unharmed. Cox says he was asleep until he struck the water and felt bricks falling upon him. He managed to climb upon the remaining part of the second floor and got out and down a ladder. His head was badly cut up by bricks.

Louis Derry jumped out of a second story window and was rescued by a boat crew unharmed.

George Singel's room, on the second floor, split in two and his wardrobe went down, but he and his wife remained uninjured on the part of the floor that held firm.

Nellie Wood, who first heard the cracking that preceded the fall, held a light for Willie Calkins to see. He jumped to the window, and Calkins, who was on a narrow space. Other like cases were reported. All the bodies have been taken out of the wreck.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—About 125 families received aid from the relief committees in the City hall, Allegheny. On Monday a number of mills and works of different kinds will be set up, giving employment to a large number of idle men who are depending on the relief committee for food, and who will then be in a position to help themselves. Though the rivers rose quite rapidly, the river men do not look for a flood, as they think the great bulk of the water is already down.

In the Monongahela the marks show twenty-one feet, most of which was from the Allegheny back water, although the river was plunging Cox down and running out. A portion of the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Western railroad below the Suspension bridge were covered, and the water was well up on the wharf beyond. Both rivers came up about two feet since Thursday night.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 16.—The Schuylkill river at this point is steadily falling. At midnight of Thursday it was at its highest—one foot above low water mark. Yesterday it registered but six feet three inches, and was still steadily falling.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 16.—There is no perceptible change in the freshet here. The ice remains gorged in the bar two miles south of here. The water is falling slightly.

At a meeting of citizens a committee was appointed to raise funds for relief of suffering from the food in the Ohio valley.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 16.—The Iron City's relief boat remained about half an hour here. Mayor J. A. Miller met the committee. He will expect aid from the government boat, and says it is needed badly.

At Wheeling the citizens crowded down to the wharf to greet the boat. E. W. Colwell, chairman of the relief committee, came on board and made an urgent request for food, saying that the $1,000 granted by the government will be spent shortly. Twenty sacks of flour, some corn meal, sugar, lard, coffee and crackers were turned over to the committee.

At Warren, Jefferson county, Ohio, there was a fearful state of affairs. Thirteen houses were entirely washed away, dozens of families not having a single article of value left. A considerable quantity of all sorts of supplies was distributed by the committee, who went among the houses and then left his general relief to the local committee in charge.

The Utica Asylum Outrages.
UTICA, Feb. 14.—The jury in the case of Evan Hughes, who received injuries in the state lunatic asylum, closed the questioning after examining five witnesses. They returned the following verdict: "That Egan D.
Hughes came to his death by reason of injuries inflicted on him by attendants James Brown, Franklin Bell and Alex. G. Weir while restraining said Hughes, who was in a state of frenzy, and that the acts of said attendants were in violation of the rules of said asylum, and without excuse or justification." Attendants Weir and Brown were arrested and held to answer to the charges implied in the verdict.

Extraordinary But Justifiable.
SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Judge Landon appointed E. N. Schenckers the receiver of the Jones Car company and directed him to pay the 400 workmen the wages due them since January 1. Judge Landon said the order preferring the workmen to all the other creditors was most extraordinary but justifiable.

He Came from Brooklyn.
WINOONKI, Vt., Feb. 16.—A portion of the members of the Congregational church here have locked the church against the pastor, Rev. H. Newman Wright, claiming that he has been too attentive to young ladies in his lock.

How Watch Cases are Made.

It is a fact not generally known that the James Bond Gold Watch Cases really contain more pure gold than many "solid" gold cases. The demand for these watch cases has led to the manufacture of a very poor grade of solid gold watch cases—low in quality, and deficient in quantity.
These cases are made from 4 1/2 to 10 karats, and a 5 or 6 karat case is often sold for 12 or 14 karats. It is now equally to buy a gold case so poor in quality that it will soon lose its color, or one so soft that it will lose its shape and fail to shut tight, thus letting in dust and damaging the works, or one so thin that a slight blow will break the crystal, and perhaps the movement.

It is economy to buy a James Bond Gold Watch Case, in which some of these things ever occur. This watch case is not an exception—it has been made nearly thirty years.

HALLOWELL, Pa., Oct. 24, 1883.
I sold two James Bond Gold Watch Cases thirty years ago, when they first came out, and they are in good condition. One of them is carried by a carpenter, Mr. L. W. Drake, of Hallowell, and only shows the wear in one or two places; the other by Mr. Bowman, of Conowingo, Pa., and it can produce one or two of these cases at any time.
