AWFUL ACCIDENT.

A Hundred and Fifty Lives Lost in a Coal Mine.

Richmond, Va., March 13 .- The most terrible mine disaster ever known in this country occurred at 1 o'clock this morning in the Southwest Improvement Company's coal mines at Pocahontas, Tazewell county, Virginia. The accident is believed to have been caused by miners venturing too far with lighted lamps. The Southwest Improvement Company em ploys about 500 men, of whom fully 150 were in the mine at the time, not one of whom, it is believed, is now alive. All the machinery in the mine was wrecked. Efforts are being made to recover the bodies, but in consequence of after-damp very little progress has been made. Telegrams received here ask that safety lamps be sent at once to facilitate the work of recovering the bodies. The scenes in the vicinity of the disaster are heartrending in the extreme.

Further intelligence represents the work of distruction at the coal mines as frightful and complete. 150 men vere in the mine at the time of the explosion. not one of whom is believed to have escaped. Those not killed outright by the terrible force of the explosion, most likely perish from after-damp.

Signs of it were plainty visible on every hand. The entrance to the main drift was torn out and scattered pell-mell for a hundred feet. The little train track was torn and twisted, and shapeless timbers and ties mixed in confusion all around. Cars were taken up bodily, torn in twain, and their iron wheels broken and shivered. They were thrown three and four hundred feet away. The ridge and timbers on the ridge opposite this drift were a blackened picture to the sumit, 600 feet away. A searching party found a pair of shoes that had been blown to the sumit of the ridge, and a mule was found at the same place, twisted into indescribable shape.

THREE FIENDISH NEGROES MUR-DER A FAMILY OF FIVE.

Springfield, Tenn., March 13 .- Perhaps the worst crime ever committed was perpetrated in this (Robertson) Co. yesterday. Twenty-five miles from this place, near the Kentucky line, live John Martin, his wife and three children, two of them grown young women, the other a boy of 12. The murder of this entire family was discovered by a peddler who came to the house. He gave the alarm and the whole neighborhood was groused. The door was broken in as if struck violently with an axe. This door led into Nails at $2,65 Basis. Bar Iron at the main bed room, where Martin and his wife slept. The scene upon entering the room beggars all description. Martin was dead upon the floor, his gray hair matted and soaked in a pool of blood. The head was split open in two pieces by blows from an axe. The forehead was crushed, and the glaring eyes were forced from their sockets. Upon every side were evidences of the frightful struggle that must have taken place. The walls and floor, etc., were bespattered with

How Watch Cases are Made.

Most persons have an ambition to carry a gold watch case, and yet few people know how a watch case is made, or the vast difference in the quality of them. In a Bourn GOLD WATCH CASE, aside from the neonesary thickness for engraving and polishing, a large proportion of the metal is needed only to stiffen and hold the engraved portions in place, and supply strength. The surplus is not only needless, but undesirable, because gold is a soft metal and cannot furnish the stiffness, strength and elasticity necessary to make the case permanently strong and close-fitting. The perfect watch case must combine gold with some metal that will supply that in which the gold is deficient. This has been accomplished by the James Boss' Gold Watch Case was which serves the WASTE of need less gold, and INCREASES the SOLIDITY and FIRENOTH of the case, and at the same time reduces the cost ONE HALF.

The house had been ran-acked from one end to the other, and tables and chairs were overturned. hand named George French was arrested by one of the county constables upon suspicion. Blood was found upon his shoes and clothing. He told a very lame story of his whereabouts the night before. It was plain that he was in some way connected with the murder. A crowd gathered and soon swelled into a mob of frenzied men. His contradictory replies convinced them he was guilty. A rope was brought and placed about his neck, and the mob swung him up to the near-est tree. He was let down half insensible and upon coming to confessed that he and Jim and Doc Carter, two negroes, working man upon the farm of 'Squire Davis, had planned the morder. He gave sickening details of the assassination, and confessed that all three of them had and confessed that all three of them had outraged the girls. They found $1,200 in money and divided it among them. He had hardly finished his story when he was jerked up and strangled to death. Twenty shots were fired into his body. The mob made a break for Davis' farm, where the two negroes were found. Although both of them protosted their in-notence, the mob hung them to the same tree and shot them while they
