Mr. W. F. Allen, the Secretary of the Railway Time Convention, who devised the standard time system and secured its universal adoption by the railroads, has ssued a circular to all companies asking for the names of the towns (if any) on the line of their roads which are not governed by standard time. His idea in issuing the circular is to ascertain officially the extent to which the standard time system has displaced local time. The general reports have indicated that the use of local time is extremely limited. The Mahdi is not an Arab by birth, and is of a black hue, which is unacceptable to the Semitic Moslems. He belongs, however, to the Kadriyeh order which is held in very high veneration in Egypt, and which preserves all the pagan superstitions, including the worship of the gigantic shoe of their founder. They are distinguished from other orders by their white banners and by carrying always fish nets in their religous processions. With the Malawiyeh and Ahmediyeh they are among the most powerful of the Derwish orders in Syria and Egypt.
