HEREDITARY TAINTS.

Some Revelations on A Subject Which Concerns the Welfare of the Race and the Happiness of All.

(Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. To any one who has studied the laws of about to relate, will come with special certain mental traits of prominence, and of certain physical traits of equal prominence, are facts which all knowledge, but which none can understand. The father may be distinguished,-the son, an imbecile; or, the parent may be decrepit and unknown, and the child achieve the highest place possible to humanity. But through it all, there will be certain characteristics, which mark the individual as descending from certain ancestors. Too often, indeed, these characteristics are infirmities, and often of a physical nature.

These facts were strikingly brought out during a conversation, which a representative of this paper recently had with Mrs. Carrie D. T. Swift, who is the wife of one of our most prominent citizens. This lady related that she inherited from her parents certain tendencies, over which she had no control, and which were in the nature of blood difficulties, assuming the form of rheumatism. Her experience can best be described in her own words. To the writer she said:

"I felt the beginning of this hereditary taint many years ago, in vague pains, which seemed to come unaccountably and at uncalled for times. They were annoying, exhausting, and interfered not only with my duties, but also totally destroyed my happiness. At first, they would be only transient, appearing for a day or two, would come in such violent forms, that it mouth. Afterwards, my feet and hands swelled so that it was impossible for me to draw on my shees or gloves without the greatest effort. I realized what the difficulty was, but seemed powerless to avert it. I finally became so bad that I was confined to the house and to my bed most of the time. My joints pained me continuously and my feet swelled to enormous proportions. Knowing that I inherited this tendency, I had about abandoned hope, when I began the use of a remedy, which was recommended to me as a friend as being specially efficient in cases of a similar kind. To my great gratitude, I found that it relieved me, restored my appetite, and I am able to say that now I have gained forty pounds in weight, feel perfectly well and am in the best possible condition, owing, wholly, to Warner's Safe Rheumatic cure, which was the remedy I used." "No one would ever suspect you had suffered so, Mrs. Swift, to see you now," remarked the reporter. "That is what all my friends say. Only yesterday, an acquaintance of mine, whom I had not seen for some time, hesitated, before speaking, and apologized by saying, Why, I really did not know you, you have changed so for the better since I last met you; how well you do look." "Have you any objection to giving the name of the party who first mentioned this remedy to you?"

"Not the slightest. It was Mr. R. H. Furman, the photographer." The newspaper man, after bidding Mrs. Swift good-bye, repaired to the photographic rooms of Mr. Furman, when the following conversation ensued: "Have you been a sufferer from rheumatism, Mr. Furman?" "Well, I should think I had,"

"For how many years?" "I'welve or fifteen." "Did you try to cure it?"

"Yes, I tried everything, and, at last, went to the Hot Springs of Arkansas, and nothing seemed to do me any good until 1 tried Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure."
"And it cured you, did it?"

"Yes, completely." "And you can cordially recommend it?" "Yes, indeed, more cordially than anything I have ever known of. It is simply a wonderful medicine. I believe that two-thirds of all cases, both acute and chronic, could be cured as I was cured by the use of this remedy. In fact I know a number of persons who have been in the worst possible condition and are now completely well wholly through its use." The statements above made are from

A CORRESPONDENT describes the following method by which an extraordinary crop of watermelous was raised: Holes were dug ten feet apart each way eighteen inches square and fifteen inches deep. These holes were filled with well rotted manure, which was thoroughly incorporated with the soil. A low, flat hill was then made and seed planted. When the vines were large enough to begin to run the whole surface was covered to the depth of a foot or fifteen inches with wheat straw, The straw was placed close up around the vines. No cultivation whatever was given afterward; no weeds or grass grew. The vines spread over the straw, and the melons matured clean is surely worth trying.

BY-AND-BY there will be complaints about loss of lambs by the disease known as the pale disease, paper-skin, anæmia, bloodlessness, cough, husk, husk, etc., etc., and persons will be inquiring "What shall we do to save our lambs?" Here is a most serious trouble which has a most simple remedy. All that is required is to keep the lambs of from pastures where old sheep have run. The old sheep void, in their dung, myriads of eggs of the worms (thread worms, Strongylus filarial) which cause in the lambs this disease with so many names. The eggs adhere to the grass, and are taken into the tothe grass, and are taken into the solution of the control of the con to the grass, and are taken into the lambs' stomachs, or they are also taken in with water that is drank, and from the stomach the worms proceed to the

A young man in Portland, Me., is said to have been ensnared into matrimony by a device which has the charm of novelty. One of his young lady friends, who has always shown an especial fondness for him, asked him point blank in the course of a recent Sunday evening tete-a-tete: "Who are life, and especially those which relate to reproduction, an experience such as we are about to relate, will come with special force and interest. The transmission of demanded. The young man did so, certain mental traits of prominence, and of thiking it the most amusing incident he had ever borne a part in. The young lady, however told her father that she and Mr. —— were engaged, and the young man was immediately waited upon by the interested parent, and has decided to marry the girl rather than stand a threatened suit for breach of promise,

Seven Wise Mon Baffled.

The N. Y. Morning Journal says that Mrs. F. G. Kellogg, 50 E. 86th, St., was partially paralyzed, and lay for seven days in convulsions. Physicians were engaged and discharged until seven had failed to help or cure her. She was unable to leave her bed, and was as helpless as a child. After using all sorts of salves, ointments, lotions and plasters, her case was given up as hopeless. She was induced to try St. Jacob's Oil as a last chance. She began to improve from the time the first application was made, and by its continued use, she has completely recovered.

Said the plumber's apprentice, as the proud young lady of the mansion where he was at work passed him without deigning him even so much as a glance, "All right, my beauty, you can sail by me now without a thought and then disappearing; then again they or care for my breaking heart, but just wait till the boss sends in his bill for was impossible for me to lift a cup to my this job, and you'll mighty soon have to shed that sealskin sacque and those diamond ear-drops, and find a place in the humbler walks of life. Then you'll be glad to get a rising young plumber, but I'll make you grovel for these slights before I'll let you win me."

> Walk Moore, and Sleep Soundly. Mr. John W. Cole, Principal of the Gale

School, Troy, N. Y., writes us:

TROY, N. Y., April 7, 1883.

"Having been afflicted for several years past with illness, the cause of which was unknown te me for a long time, and my continued disability getting to be of so serious and distressing a character as to cause great anxiety with my family and friends, I became satisfied upon close investigation that the cause of my sickness was the diseased condition of my kidneys and liver. At this time by accident a friend who had similar symptoms to mime, informed me of the great improvement in his health by taking Hunt's Remedy, and persuaded me to try it. I im-mediately commenced taking it, and from the first bottle began to improve, and its continued use affords very encouraging results. I can sleep soundly, walk better, am free from pains, and the severe attacks of headache from which I suffered so much have disappeared, and I cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy for all purposes which it is advertised. I will add in closing that my wife has used it very successfully for pre-venting the attacks of sick headache with which she had been afflicted from youth."

Almost Disheartened. A prominent citizen sends us the follow-

For several years I have been very seriously afflicted with a severe pain in the back, which I long supposed to be kumbago or rheumatism of the back. More recently the pains had become more severe, so much so that it was with difficulty that I was able to get out of bed in the morning. I had tried various remedies without any apparent relief. By the earnest solicitation of a friend I commenced taking Hunt's Paracle about lief. By the earnest solicitation of a friend I commenced taking Hunt's Remedy, about three weeks ago, and its instantaneous benefits are wonderful, for I have had no pains in my back since taking the first three doses, and am relieved from the pains, aches and exhaustive weakness, the painful symptoms that usually accompany disease of the kidneys. And I confidently expect to be completely and permanently cured by the use of it. I most cheerfully recommend Hunt's Remedy to all who are afflicted with any kidney or liver disease. kidney or liver disease. WILLIAM G. ARNOLD.

Persons sometimes get answers they don't expect, even from children. Une of them was questioning a Sunday-school class about the man who feli among thieves on the way from Jerusasources, the authority of which cannot be questioned. They conclusively prove the value of the preparation named and show that even hereditary traits can be removed by the use of the proper means.

How to Shorten Life.

The receipt is simple. You have only to ake a violent cold and neglect it. Abernethy, the great English surgeon, asked a ady who told him she only had a cough: "What would you have? The plague?" Beware of "only coughs." The worst cases can, however, be cured by Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. A Geneva dentist has invented a new and ingenisus process of teeth-drawing. A small square of india-rubber, pierced with a central hole, is pushed over the tooth till the upper part of the root is reached. The india-rubber gradually contracts, pulls on the root, and the offending tooth is finally envuleated without causing the patient any pain whatever. Four or five days are generally required to complete the operation. Very slight bleeding and a slight swelling of the gum are the only inconveniences experienced.

Keep Dry!

Is an admonition we see on boxes of perishable merchandise in fransitu, but it is also one which should be carefully observed by those who have a tendency to rheumatism. In addition to avoiding damp and keeping dry shod, they who are rheumatic should use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a blood depurent professionally indorsed and of the highest order of merit. By promoting healthful activity of the kidneys and bladder, it insures the expulsion through those natural outlets, of impurities in the blood which give rise to Bright's disease, diabetes, gravel, catarrh of the bladder and dropsical effusions. It induces bodily comfort by day and untroubled repose at night, conquers dyspepsia, diverts bile from the blood into its proper channel, relaxes the bowels gently, but effectually, and is a reliable means of restoring vigor and hastening convalescence.
