Ed. Reporter:—Can a Republican vote at the Democratic delegate elections for one or more of the candidates?

Ans:—No; unless he pledges himself to vote the Democratic ticket at the following election. LEWISTOWN—A 25-CENT START.

One day last week we paid a flying visit to Lewistown, which is one of the prettiest and cleanest county seats in this state. Lewistown is a place of considerable wealth and business, but for the wealth it has it might waken up still more business enterprises than it now enjoys.

We desire here to refer to one house that is worthy of note, namely, the extensive hardware house of F. G. Francis, the extent of which took us completely by surprise. As we entered we fortunately fell into the hands of the proprietor himself, who very courteously insisted we must see his establishment, and he proceeded to show us around at once. The main salesroom has double the width of store-rooms in general and a depth of 200 feet, to which, connected with a bridge, is an annex, which is used for storing lumber, and other goods, in which are carriage, lumber, stove and other warehouses, with endless stores of goods for builders, mechanics, house-keepers, farmers, etc., and everything that belongs to the hardware line. All the cutlery and some other goods is imported directly from the manufacturers in Europe, by Mr. Francis, which enables him to sell just as cheap as can be bought in New York and Philadelphia, and this is the reason why he can offer first class goods at the low figures advertised by him in the Reporter. His stock does not go through two or three hands, with the profits of each added until it reaches his customers. We doubt whether there is as large a hardware store in this part of the State as the city—his buildings are several stories high with 400 feet depth. His trade this year will reach the large sum of a hundred thousand dollars, and is the growth of 25 cents, all the capital Mr. Francis had when he started in Lewistown a little over 40 years ago. He handles the reins to all his business himself with the aid of trusty clerks. The secret of his success he attributes to personal attention to his large business, dealing honestly, selling cheap and advertising judiciously, and in the latter regard we were pleased to have Mr. Francis declare "he knows the power of the Reporter."

Our visit being confined to the limits of an hour, we could only cast a glance at the Press and call upon our old friends, Messrs. Goodhart and Houtz, two Centre boys, who started as clerks, and by perseverance and good management have risen to the proprietorship of one of the best and most popular dry-goods stores in Lewistown.

Paris, June 23.—Eight thousand persons left Toulon yesterday owing to the fact that the camps are being formed for the SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

James A. Krape has sold his interest in the firm of McCool & Krape to Mr. Collier, of the Loop, and will go to the city to look after his business. Mr. Krape has bought out I. J. Grenoble's store, success to the firm of Krape & Co., and has had the store repainted and fixed up. It looks much improved, and landlady Shaffer is busy as he can be, having a good trade in ready-made clothing. Mr. Krape has his house painted and fixed up in the latest style. Messrs. James McClintic and Wm. Alexander are carpenters and plasterers, and are finishing their large house. John Horner has given his house a fresh coat of paint. Mr. John H. Fischer is preaching a sermon on Sunday morning at the front and side of the house. It makes quite a nice place for a residence. He is also having it painted, and on Monday had handsome inside shutters attached. On last Sabbath evening Rev. D. M. Weiser, of this place, gave us a good practical sermon. Rev. S. A. Beardsley is preaching on Sunday morning at the side of the house. The birds have taken possession of the Orangerie, and it is a nice place to see the building "The Bird's Nest." News Box.

BANK OF ENGLAND NOTES.

The Album in which specimens of the various counterfeit notes discovered are preserved also contains some interesting proofs of the extraordinary durability of the notes. There are three for £25, which passed through the Chicago fire, and were sent in for redemption by Mr. R. H. Nottin, Paymaster of the Chicago and Alton Railway. Though they are burned to a crisp black ash, the paper is scarcely broken, and the engraving is as clear as in a new note. There are also five $5 notes which went to the bottom of the sea in the unfortunate training ship Eurydice, and were recovered after six months' immersion. They are not even faded. The paper retained a light brown, and that is the only effect their long exposure to salt water has had. We are shown in a small case covered with a magnifying glass a few charred fragments of paper, for which the bank paid $1,400. They are the remains of several notes destroyed in a fire, and were redeemed at their full value, the owners being able to give their numbers and dates, and to satisfy the bank that they had actually been destroyed. There is another note in the album which was in circulation 125 years before it was returned to the bank for payment. No note is issued twice. As soon as a note is returned, even though it has been out but a few hours, it is cancelled. Very often a note issued in the morning is brought back to the bank in the afternoon of the same day, but on an average a £5 pound note is out about eighty days. The notes have many strange adventures. One of a large denomination was found keeping the wind away in the broken pane of a cottage window, neither the cottage nor his wife having any idea of its value. Another, also for a large sum, the disappearance of which had led to many wrongful suspicions and accusations, was discovered, after many years, inclosed in the wall of the house from which it had mysteriously disappeared. One thing the notes will not endure. They will hold together at the bottom of the sea, and come out of a furnace intact, but they will not outlast the scrubbing, the bleaching and the mangling of the laundry. That trial, which they are sometimes subjected through the inadvertence of ladies who send them to the wash in their dress pockets, usually defaces them, though even after it their genuineness is still recognizable.
