DOMESTIC.

In preparing beans for the market two methods are usually pursued, either to pick them over by hand or to screen them. When they are gathered up from the threshing floor small stones, particles ot dirt, poor and musty beans are all mixed in together, and in order to sell well these impurities must be taken out. By far the larger quantity of beans are hand picked, the work being done by girls and boys, and these bring the highest prices. If a screen is used the work is not done so thoroughly as by the hand process, and although the operation is more expeditiously performed the difference saved in time will hardly make up for the loss in price. The sale for screened beans is slow, and they do not Bring within fifteen to twenty-five cents per bushel as much as the hand picked. The latter will always sell quicker and at higher price than the former. For packages, bags and barrels are used Vermont beans are generally put in 2 1-2 bushel bags, and those from sections the beans, as a rule, are recieved in good condition and have an attractive | twenty years. appearance.

TAKE a bar of common soap, place in a pan containing a little water, then heat until melted down, then add carbolic acid crystals (carbolic acid crystals can be had of a druggist in one-pound bottles at 75 cents each), at least one ounce of acid to each pound of soap used; there is no danger if used stronger. To reduce the crystals to a fluid state, remove the cork from the bottle, place in water and heat the water, when it may be easily poured out and mixed with the soap. When cool a strong suds made with this soap will be sure death to all insects that live on domestic animals. It will cure manage, barn itch and all cutaneous diseases and makes a cheap and effectual sheep dip. When cattle are hidebound, or the hair does not appear healthy, a wash of the suds will prove a benefit, as it is cleansing and healing in cases of sores. It is pound of rhubarb, washed well, and valuable in the poultry house. It is a out up into very small pieces, a quarter good and sure disinfectant; is cheap, safe and effectual, and will be found useful for a great variety of purposes.

VARI US methods for hastening the con version of eider into vinegar have been recommended. A recent French method, which seems practicable, is the following: Scald 3 barrels or casks with hot water, runse thoroughly and empty. Then scald with boiling vinegar, rolling the barrels and allowing them to stand on their sides two or three days until they become thoroughly saturated with the vinegar. The barrels are then filled difficulty is often induced and always agabout one-third full with strong, pure gravated by Constipation. Do not throw away the water in which it is conked, or then you lose much of the best there is in the corn. Then early, at least two hours before dinner, put it in a saucepan over the fire, and let it cook slowly but steadily until it is tender. A little cream added to the milk, butter, pepper and salt are desirable, and a teaspoonful of sugar will sometimes do wonders in giving flavor to the dish.

A Great Horseman.

Mr. J. H. Goldsmith, owner of the Walnut Grove stock farm, N. ONE of the simplest and best ways by which light-colored kid gloves can be cleaned is this: Put the gloves on your hands, take an old and very soft linen handkerchief, wet it in sweet milk, and rub it on a piece of white soap-castile or any toilet soap will answer the purpose-then apply to the soiled parts of the glove; do this until the spots disappear; then wet the entire glove and puil it and stretch and rub until it is dry. If you are faithful it will not dry in wrinkles. One word of caution should be added to the above: Lavender-colored kid gloves cannot be cleaned in this way, as they will fade and look spotted.

TAPIOCA AND RHUBARB -Soak a quarter of a pound of tapioca in one teacup of boiling water for a few minutes, then mix with it in a nice clean pot one of a pound of sugar, half a teaspoonful of butter. Pat it on the fire and let it stew for half an hour, sturring it often. Put it then into a mold of some kind, and when cool it will turn out a pretty firm shape. At present the rhubarb contains a very large amount of water, which will decrease as the season advances, when a little more water may be added to the tapioca.

No medicine has ever been known so effectual in the cure of all those diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood as Scovill's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for the cure of scrofula, white swelings, rheumatism, pimples, blotches, erupions, venereal sores and diseases, consum tion, goitre, boils, cancers, and all kindred liseases. There is no better means of securing a beautiful complexion than by using Scoviil's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, which cleanses the blood and gives permanent beauty to the skin.

CREAMED POTAT EA .-- Take one cupful of milk, a teaspoonful of butter, salt and pepper to taste; put the butter in a small frying-pau, and when hot, but before it browns, add enough flour to thicken; stir till smooth, and gradually add the milk; have your cold boiled potatoes ready sliced, turn them into this and let them gradually heat through; a very little nutmeg grated over the potatoes before frying improves the flavor. Salt and pepper and serve.

HUMOROUS.

A CHAP from the rural districts stepped into a music store in the city, survey of the contents, he stepped up to the counter and asked the clerk if may be chopped; beat an ounce of he had any new music-bran new, just

The clerk measured him with his eye for a moment, and, thinking he was ignorant as to music, and that anything would be fresh to his customer that had been issued since the days of 'Rosin the Bow,' decided to palm off some old pieces which had become a drug on the counter. So he took up "The Last Rose of Summer,' and said:

'Yes, here is a piece that goes with a perfect rush, and here is 'The Old Arm Chair,' another favorite. There is 'When this Cruel War is Over,' which is all the rage all over the city."

'That will dew,' replied Jonathan. 'How much do you want for the lot?' 'One dollar,' replied the cierk. 'Waal, you may dew 'em up in

THE fuchia, likes a slight shade and a cool soil, and then, provided with moisture, it will stand as bigh a temperature as may prevail. Place the plants in the open, a little shady; such a place as the north side of a house furnishes, and there is no fear but they will do all one may expect from them. If they are to remain on the piezza or the window-sill. the pots should be sunk up to the rim in a box of soil which can be kept moist; then, if the dramage is kept open, they will hold their toliage and flourish.

A LADY florist writes as follows: I would say to those who are troubled with the little flies about their plants in the winter, that since I have commenced using separate saucers with my pots, and taken to watering my plants from the bottom, by filling the saugers with boiling water I am not troubled with the little flies, and I think the plants do much better watered in this way than by pouring the water on the top.

An Euglish scientific journal says that exclue acid promotes the sprouting of seeds so that seeds forty years old will germinate by its application. The method is to soak the seeds one or two days in a solution of oxalic acid till they commence to open out, when they are taken out and planted. Will one of our readers try it on some old seeds, and Charles Pinckney gives "Millions for dereport?

THE bearing peach tree cannot be cultivated too often. The soil must at all times be kept loose and friable, and cultivation should be kept up until the fruit is ripe. The new growth of the wood of a bearing tree ceases to grow early in the season, and there is no danger of stimulating a late growth. Stirring the soil should be the rule, and neither grass or weeds permitted to grow at any season.

PR FESSOR HENRY says: I would urge that our isrmers leed more oats to young stock, colts as well as calves. There is no tood easily obtainable that will so well correct acidity of the stomach and keep the whole system in good order. To those who wish to raise calves on very litte milk, I would say, use oats and oil meal ireely, and by studying the wants of your calves you will be able to raise fine animals on a small allowance of milk.

MANY orchardists say it is not best to renew the orchard by planting in young trees where old ones have died and been cut down. To a certain extent the elements suited to growth in the apple wood have been extracted from the soil and insect enemies have found location there.

A NEW method of utilizing certain marine plants has been devised in France, a gum being extracted from them which is found to be valuable in the arts in various ways, particularly in but then, you see, they always make a the manufacture of a substitute for p int of coufirming it by a post morleather.

THE most northern place in the world where tye and oats mature is found in which some writers of conk-books the Swedish province of Norbotten, at puzzle their readers, simply means Kengis, 49 miles north of the Arctic circle, while the northernmost limit of corn cultivation is at Muoniovara, 98 dded to soup after it is ready for the males north of the circle.
