A Watsontown dispatch, of 22d, says forest fires have been raging in the mountains in Union county west of here since Monday. The large tract of lumber owned by Thompson, Ryan & Co. sustained the greatest damage. All of vesterday and to day men have been fighting the flames and with the aid of beavy rain this evening succeeded in putting out the fire. Yesterday the men employed in the camps gave out and the Sunbury and Lewisburg and neighboring fire companies were telegraphed to for help. A fire company from Lewisburg and one hundred men from Mifflinburg responded and have been fighting the fire all last night and to-day. Large sawed lumber was burned.

ROMEO AND JULIET.

In these realistic days, even the unfortunate lovers of Verona are stripped of their idealism. The popular idea of the play of "Romeo and Juliet" is that it is a story of two innocents loving each other, yet by untoward fate kept assunder, owing to the rivalry of their respective families. What, however, are the facts? Romeo is a young gentleman, who is always fancying himself in love. The passion is eternal, but the object varies. He has been postering all his friends about his adoration for a certain Rosaline. No sooner does he see Juliet than she replaces Rosaline in his heart. With Juliet he gets on better than with Rosaline, but had it not been for the stratagem of the friar, and for his own reckless folly when he is told that she is dead, in a month later, he would probably have met some other fair one at a ball, and Juliet would have been deserted in her turn. As for Juliet, she is what her father calls her, a baggage. If she is a representative of female virtue in Verona, one cannot help asking what female vice was in that city? Romeo and Juliet see each other for the first time at a ball. They are naturally attracted to each other, before either has heard the other speak. Their flirtation is of the most pronounce kind, for after interchanging a few words they incontinently kiss each other. The very evening Romeo scales the wall of old Capulet's garden, and finds Juliet on a balcony informing the moon of her love. Romeo feels that his lines have fallen in facile ways. They yow eternal fidelity, etc., and Juliet makes an appointment to marry him for Rockville. the next day. She cannot, however, even wait for the promised hour, and at early morning sends messages to her adorer by her nurse. They meet, and at once induce a friar to marry them. In the evening Romeo climes up by a ladder into Juliet's room. Then comes the news that she is to marry Jount Paris, Corn Romeo kills Tybalt in a brawl. Juliet declines to marry two men in one week, and by a mischance the two lovers commit suicide.

This process of manufacture was invented by James Boss, who started in business in 1854, and the methods and tools used in making these watch cases are covered by troduction of these goods was slow, owing to popular prejudice against "plated" goods, but gradually the public learned that the James Boss' Gold Watch Case was not a cheap gold-washed or electro-plated article, but was made of genuine gold plates of standard quality and thickness.
