A LITTLE PREVIOUS, -They were talking acress the lunch table about a prominent Eastern man who married his cook within six months after his wife's death, and one of the gentlemen observed:

"If that is the case I want nothing more to do with him." "But he was pinched, you know,

IF you happen to notice a young man with a merry light in his eye, and a roll of manuscript under his arm, entering the office of a newspaper, and shortly after emerging with a haggard expression of countenance, but stifl clinging to that manuscript, you can wager your existence that he is a college graduate, who was going to spring upon the public a grand and moral theory, and also that the theory had no spring in it.

The Testimony of a Physician.

James Beecher, M. D., of Sigourney, Iowa, says: "For several years I have been using a Cough Balsam, called Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and in almost every case through my practice I have had entire success. I have used and prescribed hundreds of bottles since the days of my army practice, (1863) when I was surgeon of Hospital No. 7, Louisville, Ky."

"ARE there notimes," said a man, entering the office of a busy editor, "when you can write better than at other times?" "Yes." "Ah, I thought so. That men who write must consult their mental condition I have no doubt. Now, tell me, when can you write best?"
"When I am alone," the editor replied, but the bore, on whom the hint made no impression, continued to talk until the exasperated newspaper man suggested that a section of the wall swung on hinges.

An old-fashioned and most delicious way to preserve strawberries is to scatter sugar over the fresh berries; sprinkle them bountifully with sugar as f you were to serve them at the table; let them stand two or three hours, then drain off the syrup which has formed, let it boil up for two or three minutes, put the berries into it and let them remain there until they are thoroughly scalded; then remove the berries, draining them, spread them on plates, and set them where the sun and wind can find them. Bring them in at night and set in the oven; if this is warm, two or three days will harden them sufficiently so that you can put them away in glass jars, sprinkle a little dry sugar over each layer; cherries and plums may be prepared in the same way, and if any syrup is left in the kettle it may be boiled until thick and be poured over the fruit after that is

Make a syrup of a pound of sugar and a teacup of water for each kind of fruit; make it boiling hot and pour it over; let them remain for a day or two then drain it off and boil again; skim it clear and pour it hot over the plums; let them remain until the next day, then put them over the fire in the syrup; boil them very gently until clear; take them from the syrup with a skimmer into the pots or jars; boil the syrup until rich and thick; take off any soum which may arise, then let it cool and settle, and pour it over the plums, If brown sugar is used, which is quite as good except for green gages, clarify

The Record of the Fairs.

The superiority of Wells, Richardson & Co's., Improved butter Color over all others made, is again demonstrated by its record at the Autumual Fairs. The test of practical use is what tells the story, and the great value of the premiums given by the Agrichtural Fairs, lies in the fact, that the judges in these election campaign." cases are regular farmers, who know what their needs are and what will supply them. Wells, Richardson & Co's Improved Butter Color, which has taken first premium at all fairs where exhibited, is put up in a vegetable oil so prepared that it cannot become rancid, a most important property, the lack of which is fatal to so many of the Butter-Colors offered for sale. It does not color the butter-milk; it imparts a bright natural color, which is unattained by many others; and being the strongest

CARBOTS AND CREAM, -Choose very small carrots, scrape them well, cut them in halves, and blanch them for two minutes in salted water; put them into a stew-pan with some butter, add a little salt and sugar, let them fry gently until the moisture is reduced; sprinkle a little flour over them, add a small quantity of good white stock; let it boil and remove to the side of the fire; when the carrots are done, thicken them with the yolks of two eggs beaten smooth with milk or cream and add a pinch of grated nutmeg and a piece of butter; as the butter dissolves dish them up.

The Middlesex Co., of Lowell, Mass., recently began suits against some New York firms for imitating the "silk hangers" used to indicate the genuineness of their standard blue flannels and yacht cloths, the superiority of which has been long established in the clothing trade. By this means inferior flannels were sold as genuine Middlesex. Before coming to trial the firms compromised by paying the Middlesex Co. $11,000 in settlement.

Although a great improvement was made in the ferro-prussiate process for the reproduction of drawings in giving blue lines on white ground, it was never quite satisfactory. It has been superseded by a process which, indeed, requires a lithographic press for printing off the copies, but which otherwise is effected by means of the same apparatus as the "blue" copies. This process, which is now adopted by the Belgian department of Ponts et Chaussees, affords black lines in printer's ink on a white ground. A zinc plate is coated with Jews' pitch, thinned with organic acids. The tracing is placed over it in a frame with glass above, as in the ferro-prussiate process, and exposed to the sun. The pitch becomes hard, except where protected by the black lines of the tracing. The plate is washed, which has the effect of removing the portions still soft that have not been protected by the lines. And is then poured over the plate, which bites into the lines, as in ordinary etching, and the plate is polished to give sharpness to the lines. Any number of copies may then be struck off with printers' ink, as in copper-plate printing. The less than one doctor's visit will cost. I know it."—A WORKINGMAN. plates may be prepared in the office, and sent to a copper-plate printer for the requisite number of copies to be

A Smyrna letter says: "The horses of Palestine are shod with a shoe that covers the bottom of the foot, except a slight opening sometimes in the centre, without calks and turned up behind, This flat shoe is nailed on with three nails, having large, projecting heads answering as calks on each side close together near the toe. This method of shoeing the horse is necessary to protecthe whole foot from the endless confusion of sharp rocks or stones which fill most of the roads. The horse picks his way carefully and lifts and plants his feet delicately and yet quickly among the rocks, rarely hitting his toe or failing to find the one secure footing within reach. He is a perfect mountain horse when under the saddle and put down to work, but the moment he reaches camp and is left where he can get close to his associates he is ready to try his teeth or his heels.

Oil Marks,-Good housekeepers are frequently annoyed by oil marks on HAY-Faver. I can reccommend Ely's papered walls, against which careless or thoughtless persons have lain their eads. These unsightly spots may be removed by making a paste of cold water and pipe clay or fuller's earth, and laying it on the surface without ruobing it on, else the pattern of the paper will then likely be injured. Leave the paste on all night, In the morning it can be brashed off and the spot will have disappeared, but renewal of the operation may be necessary if the oil mark is eld.
