

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

FRED KURTZ, . . . Editor. CENTRE HALL, PA., Aug. 27, '84

WHISTLER WAS EATEN.

What an Examination of His Remains Revealed.

Delphi, Ind., August 19. A little after 7 o'clock this morning the body of William Whistler, a member of the Greely party, was exhumed. These present were two physicians, Christian Whistler, the father, the aged William Whistler, grandfather and grand-grandmother, and a half a dozen laborers and representatives of the press.

BLAINE'S IMPORTED LABOR.

[From a Labor Interview in the Pittsburg Post.] We have abundant evidence of how Mr. Blaine feels toward us here. He is one of the heaviest stockholders in the coal and ore mines in Elk Garden, West Va., and within the past two years this company has imported the majority of their laborers, and their mines to-day are filled with foreigners, principally Italians.

A BROAD HUMAN VIEW.

[Springfield Republican.] Men are not nominated for the Presidency for their domestic relations, although those are assumed to be proper, but for their statesman-like abilities, their integrity, their fearlessness and their clear perception of the people's interests, as distinct from their own personal ends.

BEN BUTLER PHOTOGRAPHED.

How the Great Demagogue Appeared in Front of the Sun's Camera Eleven Years Ago.

The life and career of Ben Butler fitly illustrate Danton's maxim, "Audacity, more audacity—always audacity." Whatever questionable consequence he has, or of questionable success he may have attained, can be traced to that one governing rule of his conduct.

THE ARCTIC HORRORS.

Chicago, August 19.—A dispatch from Delphi, Ind., says: The body of Private Whistler, of the Greely party, was exhumed this morning in the presence of his relatives at the family cemetery in the country. His identity was fully established. The face and neck are well preserved, but the flesh is all cut from his back and limbs. The intestines were in place, but empty. The stomach only contained a small amount of hair and mossy stuff.

HARD TO BELIEVE.

It is hard to believe that a man was cured of a Kidney disease after his body was well as big as a barrel and he had been given up as incurable and lay at death's door. Yet such a cure was accomplished by Kidney-Wort in the person of M. M. Devaux, of Lorain, Mich., who says: "After thirteen of the best doctors in Detroit had given me up, I was cured by Kidney-Wort. I want every one to know what a booby I was."

It seems somewhat difficult for the Blaine men to strike a fair average between his rum record at his prohibition record.—Phila. Chron. & Record.

SETTLING ACCOUNTS.

Truly the lines of Japanese usurers are not cast in pleasant places. The Mainichi Shimbun records one of the most determined murders we have ever heard of, the victim of which was a notorious money lender living at Ishiki-mura, Yurugi-gori, Sagami (Kanagawa Prefecture). It seems that this unfortunate usurer, Tsuyuki Usaburo, had made himself particularly obnoxious to the peasantry by the manner in which he pressed for payment of their debts.

VENETIAN WOMEN.

Says the author of "Life on the Lagoons": I don't know why the women of the Venetian populi have acquired a reputation for a certain elasticity of morals—unless it has been given them by those who wished to find it so. The reputation is not deserved, nor fairly based. The costume of the city has always been in favor of a quasi-Oriental treatment of women. The wife's place is indoors; she has no business to be out at all without her husband, or a very good reason.

WEBSTER SAW THE SEA-SERPENT.

Thoreau in his "Summer" tells this story: B. M. W.—tells me that he learned from pretty good authority that Webster once saw the sea-serpent. It seems it was first seen in the bay between Manomet and Plymouth Beach by a perfectly reliable witness (many years ago) who was accustomed to look out on the sea with his glass every morning the first thing, as regularly as he ate his breakfast. One morning he saw this monster, with a head somewhat like a horse's, raise some six feet above the water, and body, the size of a caulk, trailing behind. He was careering over the bay, chasing the mackerel, which ran ashore in his fright, and were washed up and died in great numbers. The story is that Webster had appointed to meet some Plymouth gentlemen at Manomet, and spend the day fishing with them. After the fishing was over he set out to return to Duxbury in his sailboat with Peterson, as he had come, and on the way they saw the sea-serpent, which answered to the common account of this creature. It passed directly across the bows, only six or seven rods off, and then disappeared. On the sail homeward Webster, having had time to reflect on what had occurred, at length said to Peterson, "For God's sake, never say a word about this to any one; for if it should be known that I have seen the sea-serpent I should never hear the last of it, but wherever I went should have to tell the story to every one I met." So it has not leaked out till now.

Of all the actions of a man's life his marriage does the least concern other people, yet, of all actions of our life 'tis the most meddled with by other people. The silence of Mr. Edmunds is a good deal more audible than the noise of Hawley or the howling of Tarr.—Albany Argus, Dem.

S. D. Durfee, mate of steamer Arizona, had his foot badly jammed. Thomas, Electric Oil cured it. Nothing equal to it for a quick pain reliever.

Since tinker's dam isn't a cuss word, it's no harm to say all the electoral votes Ben Butler will have won't be worth a tinker's dam.—Harrisburg Patriot.

While the Widow Butler is flirting with Editor Dana some wicked person is dosing the Rag Baby in Illinois with Blaine scotching syrup.—Newark News.

The clergy, medical faculty and people all endorse Burdock Blood Bitters as the best system renovating, blood purifying tonic in the world. Send for testimonials.

The best medical authorities acknowledge the great value of Ayer's Cathartic Pills, and frequently prescribe their use with the utmost confidence, well knowing that they are the most effectual remedy ever devised for diseases caused by derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.
